"CONCHIE" IS OKINAWA HERO

Pte. Desmond T. Doss, 26, here with his wife, was a conscientious objector who would not carry a gun but he is the new hero of Okinawa after having saved 75 lives. When heavy losses developed, Doss climbed to the top of an escarpment and despite constant Jap fire he remained there until he had lowered all the wounded men

The Issue...

The fundamental issue in this election is crystal clear. The people of Canada must decide whether we shall go forward to a new period of national prosperity, development and social progress or return to the scarcity, poverty, waste and stagnation of the pre-war days.

It is the duty of all of us to see that those who have offered their lives in the cause of freedom shall reap the full fruits of victory. They have done a magnificent job. Let us see to it that they return to a Canada of opportunity to enjoy that high standard of living available to all if we organize our productive powers to provide it.

The CCF stands for the democratic social planning of our production to utilize our natural resources to provide full employment to meet human needs, not the private profits of a few. It will break the chains of monopoly control.

On June 11th you have the opportunity to vote for a program to provide useful jobs, adequate housing, health and educational standards, a fair deal for the farmer and industrial worker and the opportunity for every Canadian to develop his or her talents to the full.

A CHARTER OF RIGHTS FOR YOUTH

"Youth has spoken for itself in recent years—spoken by deeds, not words, whenever it has been given opportunity."

John Bracken

Yes, and youth is speaking now—speaking as candidates of the Progressive Conservative Party, youth that has won its spurs by heroic deeds in defense of freedom—youth that brought victory to our cause—is now, through the Progressive Conservative Party, given the opportunity to take its place in the government of the nation.

The saddest story of all the centuries is the story of youth in the past two decades . . . of youth made cynical by neglect, embittered by repeated betrayal and disillusioned by the apparent indifference of those to whom they had entrusted their destiny.

Today, with the Youth of Canada at his side, John Bracken says:

"Let us see to it that the State in our time discharges its full obligation to those upon whom society's mantle will shortly fall from our shoulders—the men and women of tomorrow, the boys and girls of today."

John Bracken, father of fighting sons, has defined in precise terms the Progressive Conservative conception of Canada's responsibility to its youth:

- This party regards it as a primary concern of government to establish a basis of equality of opportunity in matters of health, education, training and employment.
- To broaden opportunity, we will encourage through grants the development in our secondary schools of specialized training for primary industries such as agriculture, mining, forestry and fisheries. We will provide financial assistance to enable our young people, according to their abilities, to receive advanced technical or professional training in our universities, at home or abroad.

- We believe in and will encourage a broad system of recreation and cultural centres. These will be extended to the rural areas through assistance in the erection of community centres.
- We will establish a Youth Advisory Council, composed of representatives of youth from all the provinces. Its function will be to consider and make recommendations to the government on matters of policy affecting Canadian youth.
- The Progressive Conservative Party pledges itself to the achievement of these goals by policies which will assure jobs for workers at decent pay, a square deal for farmers, restored confidence to business men and a national development plan for Canada.

Yes, Youth speaks from the platform of the Progressive Conservative Party, the average age of whose candidates is in the early forties. Compare that with the last House of Commons, where the average age was over 60. Look to Youth for action—to the Bracken Team for Youth.

20th ANNUAL Y.P. CONVENTION OF M.B.C. CHURCH

(Held over from last week.)

Stouffville young people were amongst the 350 who attended the Twentieth Annual Young People's Convention of the Mennonite Brethren in Christ held in the Toronto Bible College on Victoria Day. The report of the local delegate, Donald Pugh, was amongst the best given. Some 28 societies were represented as far north as Manitoulin Island, west to Port Elgin and east to Colborne.

During the last year membership has increased 3%, while an increase of 16% was shown in the number of meeting held. Total offerings increased 11%, the highest in history. Offerings for foreign missions showed an increase of 45% over last year and 66% over two years ago. One new society was organized. Gormley society reported the highest attendance, with an average of 65.

The day's activities were under the direction of Reg. Tompkins, president, Listowel with T. A. Warder, London, as secretary.

treasurer, and Rev. W. M. Shantz of Kitchener, Y.P.S. Superintendent.

In the morning session, two topics, "My Obligation to Serve and to Support my Church" were given by Misses Eileen Lageer and Eva Schlichter of Owen Sound and New Dundee. In the afternoon a debate, "Resolved that efficient leadership is more vital to progress than is loyalty of the membership," was conducted by Everek Storms and Gordon Bolender of Kitchener (affirmative) and Howard Reichard, Toronto, Howard Shantz, Markham (negative).

The convention was brought to a fitting conclusion by an address on "Cannibals under new management," presented by Dr. Northcote Deck, F.R.G.S., of Toronto. The speaker has travelled in 45 lands. The Henderson Sister provided sweet music.

The extent to which the village of Tiverton has furnished ministers for the Baptist Church of Canada is told unique. Twenty-five men from Bruce County village have gone into the Baptist ministry.

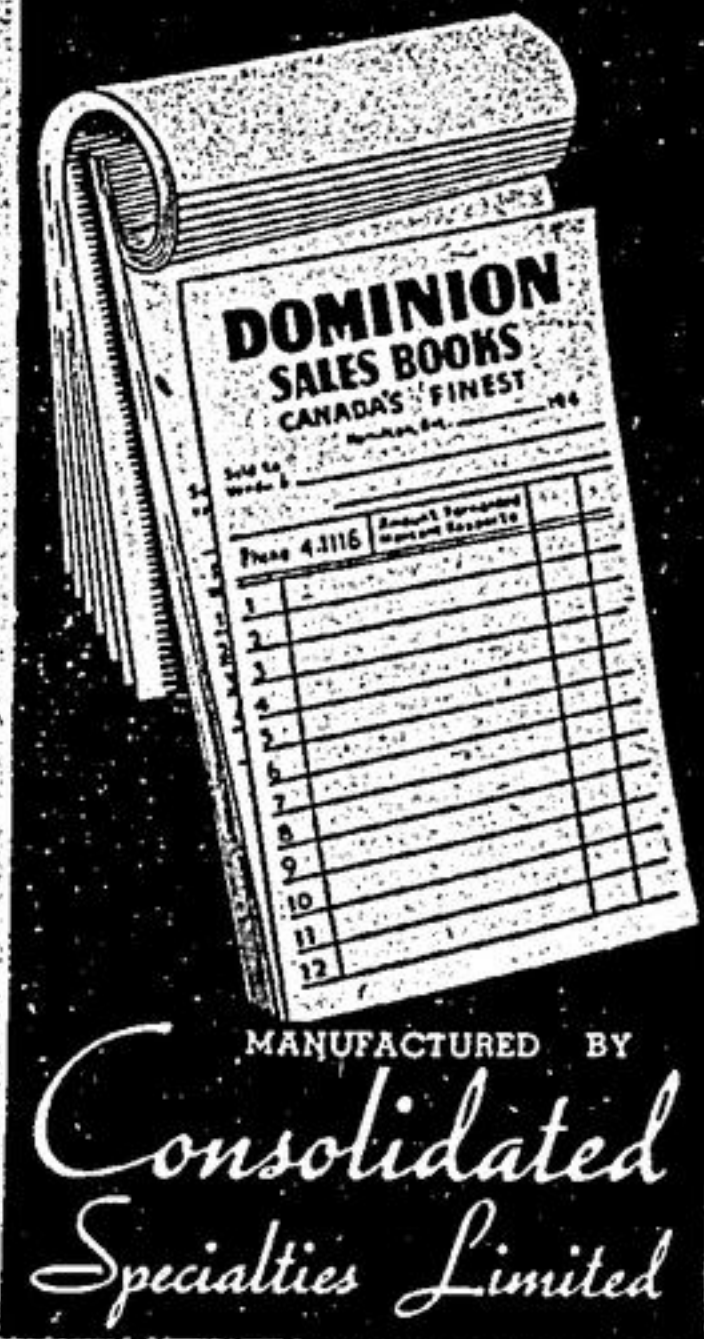

City people go out into the country, and country people flock into the city, both to answer the call of the wild.

AUSCHWITZ HORROR WORST

Dr. Charles Sperber, a Czechoslovakian who was serving on an Allied merchant ship when captured by the Nazis and now safe in Britain, says he was in 15 different camps and that "the concentration or extermination camp at Auschwitz, Upper Silesia, was by far the worst, much worse even than Buchenwald," where he also was a prisoner.
