

Raise Sound Profitable Pullets This Year

FOLLOW THE EASY ECONOMICAL FUL-O-PEP FEEDING PLAN

When the pullets are eight weeks old, begin to restrict the feed so that by the time they are ten weeks old you are feeding only as much FUL-O-PEP Growing Mash and Oats in the morning as they will clean up in one to two hours. Feed as much Scratch Grain as they will clean up in ten minutes at night.

A month before the pullets are housed or when they are approximately six months old and you want to get them into production, put the birds on full feed. Give them all the mash they will eat all day long give them a liberal feeding of Oats in the morning and a light feeding of Scratch Grain at night. This should work out to be approximately 40% of oats, 40% of FUL-O-PEP Growing Mash or FUL-O-PEP Egg Mash, and 20% of Scratch Grains. Do not overfeed on Scratch Grains as this is so frequently the cause of pullet losses due to blowouts, shell-less, blue comb and other pullet troubles.

WORMS.— If you will carefully follow the FUL-O-PEP Restricted Feeding Program, your tapeworm problem should not be the least bit serious. Don't feed any lime products or oyster shell during growing period.

MARKHAM WEDDING PRETTY CHURCH CEREMONY

St. Andrew's United church, Markham, was adorned with standards of daisies and pink and blue larkspur for the wedding, Aug. 4, of Phyllis Jean Fenn and Stanley Lynn Snider, R.C.A.F., Pennfield Ridge, N.B. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fenn and the late Chas. W. Fenn, of Bracebridge and Niagara Falls, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Snider, Markham. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was Rev. B. E. Newnham. Given in marriage by her uncle, William Blay, Oshawa, the bride wore a bouffant gown of white frosted taffeta in orchid design. Her lace-edged fingertip veil of illusion was arranged to a sweetheart headdress of the taffeta, and her cascade bouquet was of cream roses and gladioli. Mrs. Alvin B. Fry of Niagara Falls, was her sister's only attendant. Serving his cousin as groomsmen were Douglas Beech, Uxbridge, and Cpl. Irwin Clarke, Markham, was usher. For the reception, held at the home of the groom's parents, the bride's mother had chosen pale aqua crepe with touches of black lace, while the groom's mother was wearing a blue flowered jersey ensemble, and black accents. The couple left for a wedding trip to Muskoka, the bride travelling in a suit of cream linen, a green topcoat collared in cream fox, and a corsage of orchids.

MISS LAURA A. MCKINNON IS BRIDE OF T. W. BARNES
The marriage of Laura Alice McKinnon to Thomas W. Barnes was solemnized in Deer Park United church chapel, Rev. Principal A. A. Scott, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. McKinnon, Toronto. Mr. Barnes is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William G. Barnes of Pickering Township. Varied gladioli formed the decorations. J. J. Weatherseed played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely ivory satin gown made on sweeping lines, the skirt forming a train. The period style neckline was shirred with two rows of sheer ruching. Her veil of real Brussels lace was arranged with a headdress matching the gown. She carried white roses and bouvardia.

Mrs. Olive Smith was the bridal attendant, H. Reginald Button of Stouffville was groomsmen. The guests were ushered by George Smith and William and Allan McKinnon. At a reception in the Royal York, the bride's mother received. For the wedding trip to New York city, the bride donned a lime green doeskin suit with large black hat and black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will live in Toronto.

Many out of town guests attended, including relatives from Markham, Stouffville, Detroit and Texas.

The beef boys are "beefing" about the meat rationing.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pearson, Toronto visited with Mrs. L. Brillinger and Leonard, Bethesda last week.

Mr. C.S.Gwynne of the Developing and Planning Board and Mr. A. K. Watt of the Dept. of Forests & Mines, Ontario, were shown about town last week by the reeve. The visitors left to view the reservoirs property, and said they would have an interesting report to file.

The Farmers' Advocate rightfully observes that there is something wrong with a housing shortage in the cities, yet there are thousands of big farm homes with only the old folks left in them.

Arnold Hodgkins of the C.M.A.C. who recently returned from Europe on the Ile de France is visiting at the home of H. O. Klinck, accompanied by his wife and little son Gary.

The riding of bicycles on the sidewalks of Stouffville is illegal, and since the bylaw is being enforced this summer there has been a noticeable improvement. During the summer season there is no excuse for using sidewalks for bicycles at all.

Honey Explanation
Reporting on the sale of honey at the J.L. Byer apiary in Markham last week, it was not made clear about the turnover in small lots. According to the ruling of the W.P. & T.B. containers holding ten pounds or less are charged an extra two cents per pound. After all this is quite reasonable, and amounts to little for any individual buyer. However, there must be a considerable loss in supplying honey in smaller containers as compared to larger containers.

Three new awnings went up last week along Main street replacing worn out ones that were becoming shabby. The stores favoring themselves and the public with this convenience were Spofford & Co., Harry Golden's clothing store, and Agnew's Hardware. Nice awnings such as these add a great deal to the good appearance of the business street, and are a welcome haven from the sun or rain by Mr. and Mrs. John Public.

New Store Owners Arrive
As previously announced Mr. and Mrs. Al Greenwood have sold their store business in town, known as the "East End Store" located near the tenth corner on Main street. This week Mrs. A. McQuarrie arrived from Weston to take over and will be followed by her husband shortly. The business has always enjoyed a steady patronage, and the new owners will find that they can improve and expand to any ambition they may hold. Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood with their family intend to move to a home they have bought near Mimico. In addition to buying the east end grocery the McQuarries have, of course, purchased the building as well.

The local tennis courts are once more fitted for use, although through lack of equipment only one court is played on at present. Mr. C. H. Bell was the good samaritan for the youth who wished to have the courts renovated this year, and with the assistance of the Parks Commission, he had this corner put into playing shape once more. However, the young folks must organize themselves into a club in order to keep the sport alive and prevent the grounds going to disrepair. At present the back fences of the courts are in need of repair, and we believe further park assistance would be forthcoming, if an organization was set up. There is, we understand, some monies left from the pre-war club, at hand.

Barnes will live in Toronto. Many out of town guests attended, including relatives from Markham, Stouffville, Detroit and Texas.

Mrs. John E. Price and young son are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Paisley on the Tenth, south of town. Mrs. Price lost her husband, who was killed in action on May 1st this year.

Business Stand Closes After Thirteen Years

Mr. Morley C. Barker who operated a shoe repair store in the Les Rowbotham block for the past thirteen years, has closed out his business and will take temporary employment in Toronto. Mr. Barker is putting his machinery in storage and will return to Stouffville, if other premises become available. The move was decided on when his present stand was sold by Les Rowbotham to N. W. Byer.

Have Carried Millions

The Hollinger Bus Lines which is seeking a charter to operate a bus service from Toronto to Mount Albert up the 4th concession of Markham and Whitechurch townships has been in operation 24 years, Mr. Hollinger told Whitchurch council this week. During that time he said the company had carried 5 1/2 million passengers. The present expansion, that is proposed will be the first line the company ever operated outside the city of Toronto and its immediate suburbs. It will be a great convenience to residents along the 4th concession at Vandorf, Gormley, and Victoria Square which area is increasing in population each year.

Enjoyed Park Shade

Probably you noticed the neat tent and trailer which camped in Memorial Park here on Sunday. The outfit belonged to Mr. J. Clark, who along with Mrs. Clark and two daughters pulled into the local camp grounds, where there is plenty of shade and lots of good water to drink. Mr. Clark is a hardware merchant in Toronto's east end and while here visited with Mr. Nathan Forsyth with whom he has been friends for many years. Accompanying the Clarks was Robt. Patterson who makes his home with these city folks. Mr. Patterson may be remembered in Markham and Scarborough Townships as an importer of very fine horses. The Clarks are an industrious family and carried with them all the latest camping equipment, including a special folding camp table combined with seats for six.

WE'LL DO OUR FAN DANCE FREE

Every time we Shellubricate your car, we check that fan carefully to make sure it's properly lubricated and that the fan belt's tight and sound. All of which prevents trouble on the road.

For we know that taking care of little things—besides doing an error-proof lubrication job—means worry-free driving for you.

The condition of Mrs. Ben Doten still remains precarious, and her marvellous vitality has surprised even the medical profession.

Mr. A.S. Collins is spending a couple of weeks at the cottages of his sons-in-law Bruce and Lorne Clark on Lake Simcoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spofford are concluding the second week camping on Washburn Island, Lake Scugog, this week and intend to return home on Saturday.

Mrs. Robt. Snowball, Helen, and Mrs. Snowball, mother of our local barber, motored to Buffalo on Sunday where they will visit for a few days with Mr. Snowball's sister.

These hot afternoons make many people long for the good old days when ice cream was available at every stand in whatever quantity you wished it. We hope that no farmer is asked to hold back milk now when it is needed so badly for ice cream.

Visitors from Baltimore

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stiver at their farm just off the 6th concession of Markham are Rev. P. S. and Mrs. Barringer with their daughter and granddaughter all from Baltimore, Maryland. Rev. Mr. Barringer was Lutheran pastor at Unionville and Buttonville from 1918 to 1926, and old friends were delighted to greet him again.

The Tribune published two articles on Noah's Ark many months ago which readers will recall. This week we still have requests for copies of that issue. Incidentally, too, the article is being reprinted in Ontario papers, the latest reprint coming in the Aurora Banner with full credit to The Tribune for the original article.

There's Quite a Bit of Zip in the "Old Boys" Yet

Some of the older baseball enthusiasts of fifteen years ago or more may have thought they saw shadows of the past in the park on Wednesday evening, as the players of yesteryears lined up against the Lions Club juvenile team of this season. Two of the players on the "Old Boys" line-up are men who helped make the name of Stouffville famous in baseball circles in years gone by, and were still able to show the youngsters a good many tricks of the game. They were "Red" Forsyth and Wes. Boadway whose names were always lined up with those of Reesor, Cook, Lehman, Clendenning, Pike, Lunau, Storey and others, when Stouffville was in there year after year for the Ontario Intermediate title. Starting on the mound for the old club was Jack Pennock, now of Aurora who loosened up the old soup bone to good effect for several innings. Jack along with Ross Wideman who played third base were on the Stouffville roster in the mid thirties. The oldsters were nosed out 10-9. Another famous name in local baseball took over the pitching duties from Pennock, being "Yorkie" Smith of the Toronto mercantile league and now coach for the Stouffville youngsters. The complete line-up as follows: c. Bob Snowball, Wes. Boadway, p. Jack Pennock, Geo. Smith, 1st Ken Laushway, 2nd Wally Nicholson, 3rd Ross Wideman, field, Fred Timbers, Gar. Lehman, Elgin Wagg, Chas. Davis, Shine, Davis, L. C. Murphy and Bert Bell did the umpiring.

Mrs. Chris. Armstrong was visiting her home town of Uxbridge last week.

Mrs. S. M. Warriner is spending a couple of weeks at Richmond Hill with Rev. and Mrs. Totten.

Mrs. S. S. Ball, Margaret just returned from overseas. Joyce and Stanley are holidaying at their cottage in Haliburton, and will be joined there by Dr. Ball this weekend.

A terrific thunder storm on Sunday afternoon brought a deluge of rain accompanied by lightning. One of the first cracks struck a transformer opposite the hospital, and left an area nearby without current until late in the afternoon. No one missed the current until around the tea hour, when a lineman from Markham rural system rushed up and put in a new fuse. The storm apparently centered right over Stouffville while in Markham village they got no rain at all.

Mrs. S. B. Hoover, Church street south, patient in the Brierbush Hospital, enjoyed a week's visit from her daughter, the wife of Rev. Alfred T. Mercer of East Orange, N.J., and her daughter-in-law Mrs. Chas. Mercer. Rev. A. T. Mercer's son Charles is attached to the headquarters staff at Manila in the Pacific war zone.

In his eagerness to aid his companion Lorne Clark to haul out a really big fish near their camp on the Georgian Bay, Harvey Moyer of Stouffville fell overboard in the excitement. The men were at the camp of Calvary Baptist Church, but this didn't have anything to do with a United Churchman being totally immersed, says Mr. Moyer.

HOW THEY FINISHED

North York Lions Club baseball playoffs are now well underway, but here is the way the team finished in the two leagues for their present series.

In the juvenile schedule they finished in the following order: Milliken, Newmarket, Aurora, Richmond Hill, Stouffville and Markham eliminated. In the junior group they stood, Aurora, Stouffville, Richmond Hill, Markham, Milliken and Newmarket eliminated.

EDITOR'S MAIL

To the Editor,
In your popular weekly namely The Stouffville Tribune of August 2nd I noticed the correspondent is inclined to blame the union for the Canada Packers' strike. Reading the daily paper account of it perhaps one could but my knowledge of the Trade Unions and the important note they have played in helping to keep workers united in the war effort goes a long way also in winning the peace. I am happy to be able to convince the farmers who was responsible for this strike, and that gentleman was the president of the Canada Packers. The Union did not want the strike and for quite awhile they fought to restore order in the shift. But because Canada Packers cannot do what they like with the workers as they do with you good farmers they provoked a strike. Of course Canada Packers want you to believe that organized labour is a curse to the country as the farmers organized into farm unions would be to them. It is a pity that the farmers are not so organized to beat the racket of the profit system of the Canada Packers which runs into millions.
