NO AGE

(contributed)

Life is not measured by years, but by deeds. Youth is the condition of mind, the quality of imagination, vigor of heart, a strength of will, the very freshness and sweetness of life.

Some never grow old as we count years, for courage and adventure, enthusiasm, cheerfulness, the spirit of hopefulness and the lure of the wonderful keep life young and fresh and vigorous. You do not grow old living through the years. You grow old and wrinkled when you lose the ideals or give up hope, or look through darkened glasses.

The things that age men are worry, doubt, fear, despair, lost hope, and the inability to smile. If you can keep alive in your heart the spirit of cheerfulness, the love of life, the sweet amazement of happy thoughts, the love of life, the lure of to-morrow, the joy of to-day, you will never grow old. Life will be fresh and young, sweet and winsome, and sunshine will play around your feet and rainbows will circle your horizon. The solemn truth is that "you just as old as your doubts."

If I could, I would plan in every man's garden, a flower more fragrant than the rose, more beautiful than the lily, and call it "love" and let its sweet fragrance and its charming beauty radiate through all life—the evergreen fruits of youth. Just so long as it will live you are young, and life will be rare and happy; but when it dies, and its memory is gone, you are old with the weight of years, whether you are sixteen or ninety. Whatever you do, do not lose the love of the beautiful, the good cheer that hope brings, the courage that gives power to life, and the eagerness that gives joy to others. When you lose this you are old, but not until.

What has mathematics to do with how old a man is? A man is as old as his state of mind. It ought to be against the should be recognized by a test which investigates attention of the memory, for youth is measured by the ability to forget how old he
