CLAREMONT MAN ONE OF TOP SCORERS IN NEWMARKET HOCKEY LEAGUE

George DeRusha was only two points back of the two leading scorers in the Newmarket hockey league as of last weekend. George, who hails from Claremont and plays his hockey for Ballantrae has five points made up of four goals and an assist. Incidentally these four goals were all scored in one game which is the best individual effort of anyone of the league to date.

PEEKING INTO THE FUTURE

Did it ever occur to you what a great saving it would be if hydro and telephone lines were one and the same thing running to your farm home? Even now in settled places and in parts of Stouffville the two occupy the same pole line, but looking to the future, telephone conversation over rural power lines is now a possibility. Two farms, a general store and a town home have been linked by a novel carrier circuit of this sort in a test installation at Jonesboro, Arkansas. The Rural Electrification Administration and the Bell System are jointly sponsoring the tests hoping to eliminate the few remaining "bugs" in practical operation of telephone conversations over wires that also carry power. Success should bring a rapid extension of reliable phone service to countless farms now receiving electric power, but denied the advantage of a telephone.

Another improvement which will be a grand thing for motorists, and one long demanded, is the elimination of glaring headlights. A new type of automobile headlight which will remove all blinding glare from night driving may result from a proposed commercial application of mechanisms devised by German scientists toward the end of the war. The new headlights would shoot beams of infra-red rays on the highway. This light, being invisible, would have no disturbing or annoying effect on the eyes of oncoming drivers. A special converting device, located on the windshield, would enable each driver to see objects illuminated by the infra-red beams of his own headlights.

Still another invention that is "just around the corner" is a new rain coat for women. The new coats will be so thin and so light they can be carried inside the pocket-book in a case so small it can lay in the purse without taking up scarcely any room. One type, made of vinyl plastic weighs six or eight ounces, and retains its flexibility even in cold weather.

Do not ask your Stouffville merchant for one just yet, but with patience they will be on the counter in due time.

These improvements, when they come into general use, will provide widespread benefit to the public, and their introduction will be awaited with interest.

Here is the new Canadian Pacific Railway Company crest on which the beaver, symbolic of the Dominion which the Confederation Line has served so long, re-appears after a 17-year absence. The change in the company's trademark for use in all departments in this country and abroad was announced by Dr. C. Coleman, the chairman and president.

Pickering Places Ajax Relief Problem Before Wartime Housing for Consideration

Hope for Dominion Gov't Aid - Constable Irvine Asks More Pay - Appropriate $50,000 for Roads in 1946.

A communication from the Township of Pickering has been placed before officials of Wartime Housing Ltd. setting out Pickering's position with regard to the increasing relief problem which is besetting the township from residents of houses established by this Dominion Government concern.

It was pointed out that there are approximately 3600 residents in six hundred homes which were established for the Ajax workers, and are not assessed for taxes. During the war period accounts totalling $1009 for hospitalization and T. B. after care have arisen from these D.I.T. residents. In addition Pickering police costs have risen from $700 to $5,000 in this same period. Wartime Housing, owners of the houses, collects $22 and $30 from the two sizes of houses which it erected, and turns over $10 and $12 to the township which in turn sends this amount on to the Ajax school trustees for educational costs.

The matter came up for discussion at the recent meeting of the Ontario Mayors & Reeves Association, and deputy-reeve W. H. Westney reported to the council on the recommendation of this body. He stated that practically none of the other municipalities interested in the wartime housing problem, had the same agreement with the company as Pickering, and therefore much of the discussion had little bearing on the local situation.

Two of the recommendations arising out of the meeting were, first, that the councils can require the removal of the houses; up to two percent of the number remaining, and secondly, that the houses be assessed and subject to taxes the same as other permanent dwellings. The meeting discussed the signing of new agreements with Wartime Housing embodying these recommendations.

Pickering's situation is slightly different, in that they do not collect the fixed amount of $24 & $30 as do Windsor, Hamilton, and other such cities who must provide sewers, schooling, etc. for this amount. The situation condenses down to the point that so long as Pickering does not receive any tax, fixed or otherwise from these dwellers, they should not have to shoulder any relief or hospitalization costs.

Taxis Aplenty in Pickering

The matter of taxi service in the township was brought before the council by Constable Irvine, who stated that anyone who drove his car for taxi purposes was contravening the law, and running the risk of being fined.

Clerk Lloyd Johnston told council that another application was at hand for a license to operate a taxi service in the township, and it was agreed that the party in question should be asked to report to the constable before any such license was issued.

"The operating of a taxi involves a considerable expense to those already established in business, and these men should receive some protection from those who cut prices and operate unsafe vehicles without insurance," stated the constable. Council agreed.

Road accounts for the month were passed for payment totalled, $1661.57 and relief accounts $143.53.

Constable Asks Increase

Constable John Irvine asked council for a further increase in his salary. At present the constable receives $1800 salary plus his car expenses, suits and overcoats. Constable Irvine stated that he thought he should be receiving $2100 salary. The constable also asked some compensation towards the account of damages for his car which was wrecked in a recent accident.

Council went on record at Monday night's meeting as not being in favour of making any adjustment towards the chief's car. The matter of the increased salary request was discussed at some length and it was decided to take no action at the moment.

Wm. A. Knox of Brougham was appointed Truant Officer at a salary of $60 and the position of Sanitary Inspector at a salary of $50.

Road Appropriation $50,000 A bylaw appropriating $50,000 for road expenditures for 1946 was given its three readings and passed. This was an increase from $42,000 for last year. Of this amount, the Department pays 50%.

A special meeting of council will be held on Friday, Feb. 15th, when the tenders will be opened for a second maintainer for the township.

Council agreed to make a grant to the Junior Farmers' Association of $40. The grants to the five Libraries in the township will remain at $35 each. A deputation of Messrs. M. F. Chapman and Jos. Banigan had requested an increase for the Pickering Library.

WHITEVALE

Little Patricia Evans, born two weeks ago in the Markham Nursing Home, will arrive at her parents' home in Whitevale on Friday of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Evans are the very happy parents. Mrs. Gordon McKay, the baby's aunt, is coming from Cannington to be on hand for two weeks and many old friends will be glad to see her again.

The Baptist congregation are rejoicing in the improved appearance of their Sunday school room.

Mrs. MacMillan and Billy returned to the city last Friday, after several days' visit and Mrs. MacMillan's mother, Mrs. Burke, is now to visit the MacMillan's for a week, returning in good time to attend the Thank-offering supper of the Baptist church, Friday evening, February 15th.

Order Fertilizer Early

Mixing capacity of fertilizer factories in Ontario is not sufficient to supply requirements if ordering is left until spring. They must mix and make shipment from November to May in order to do the job.

Fertilizer chemicals, especially potash and phosphate, now in sight are not sufficient to fill the expected demand. Make sure of your fertilizer requirements for 1946.
