This cup, won by The Tribune on various occasions, has reposed in the local office most of the war years, and is now returned for competition again. Each competition becomes more difficult as many Ontario weeklies are steadily improving their newspapers, by adopting better methods of gathering news, printing, etc.

No Building Material

The stakes set last week for store premises to be built at the front of Mr. Leslie Rowbotham's red brick house immediately west of the bank building, may be removed and no building erected because of the shortage of materials. Order for lumber, Mr. Rowbotham states, has been unfilled, although promised, and unless things change the whole program will be cancelled for the present. This is unfortunate as the premises are sorely needed on Main street, and thus the town suffers from lack of accommodation, not only for business places but from a lack of houses as well.

Former Bloomington Boy Writes from Cal.

A delightful letter from an old boy of this district is full of interest, and we are glad to pass it on to our readers knowing how pleased they will be to get the information therein contained. Writing from Barstow, California, Mr. James H. Leggett, native of Scott Township, says:

"I am enclosing $5.00 for a two year subscription to The Tribune. I enjoy your paper very much indeed. I was born near Sandford, Ont., and first went to school at Bloomington, to a teacher by the name of Hoshel, and while still a small boy, my father moved to Claremont, where he was employed on the railroad. There I finished school then, as I had always watched the trains with much interest, I decided to try to get employment on one of the roads running into Toronto.

I secured a job on the Old Grand Trunk, as a brakeman, and after working for that road a couple of years, I resigned my job and went to work for the Canadian Pacific, where I stayed for several years, before coming to California. I went to work for the Santa Fe Railroad in 1910 and am still in their service, but hope to retire shortly on pension.

I hope to be a subscriber to your paper for years to come. Previously my mother renewed my subscription but as she passed away last fall I shall now renew for myself. There are many former Canadians here in California and many more visit here for the winter months, to enjoy the mild climate, and the beautiful scenery, as well as our good highways, which are I think some of the finest in the world, and I have travelled over many fine roads both in America as well as Canada and hope soon to spend a lot of my time in travelling at my leisure.

I look now for many more editions of your fine paper."

Mr. Fred Nighswander, Toronto, was in town on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Wm. Hopkins is about again after being confined to her home for six weeks in ill health.

Keep in mind that the annual decoration day service at Stouffville cemetery will be held on Sunday, June 23. This is a well attended service, and visitors from Toronto and other places usually come in numbers.

Miss Alta Fockler, is in charge of the dining room at Lakeview House this season just opening. Miss Fockler filled this position some years ago very acceptably.

Mr. Hugh Bannerman heads the local clothing drive to be conducted by the Lions Club. Watch for future announcement which will reveal the evening on which the homes will be visited on a mission of picking up worn clothing for destitute Europe.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. H.O. Klinck left on an extended trip to Western Canada. The return trip will be made over the lines of the C.N.R. This will be Mrs. Klinck's first trip to Western Canada.

Last Haven for Horses

Stouffville United Church is offering the sheds at the rear of the building for sale by tender, according to an advertisement in this issue. Only have for our friend the horse down town on a cold and blustery day in winter, it is not without a feeling of regret that one witnesses the passing of the church sheds. It means, no doubt, that many an equine will suffer in years to come when driven to town, and having to wait for the family while they do their shopping. Of course, it is admitted that few people travel in this manner any more, and probably in the years ahead the small number may be even less. During periods of blocked roads in recent winters the sheds have been filled with teams, but such occasions are rare. Officials of the church declare that the sheds have become unsafe and must come down and because there appears no real demand for them this course is to be pursued rather than to repair the trouble. Of course, the neighborhood will be greatly improved with the removal of the sheds which are no ornament to the locality in their present state and with their lack of paint. No doubt the grounds occupied by the sheds will be put into lawn and parking space for the people who attend this church.
