Would Visit Boyhood Scenes

Born in Stouffville James B. Wideman of 437 South street, Woodstock, Illinois, U.S.A. would like to return here for a visit and would be a paying guest of some of our citizens. If any one can accommodate this former resident, let the Tribune know or write direct to Mr. Wideman. He says in his letter: "Born in Stouffville in 1878 I came to the U.S.A. with my parents when I was quite young. Now I have a desire to spend a day or two there with my wife and grown son. I read reports that Canada is overrun with tourists, and I should like to know if transients are making it hard for home folks in these days of shortages. Also if there is hotel accommodation in town. I will remember the Miller hotel there."

Clerk for 50 Years Retires

Will Anderson of Port Perry was in town visiting his brother Hugh. He was rather celebrating his retirement from active business as a clerk in a Port Perry hardware, after completing fifty years, quite a record.

Purchases Piiffered

At least two local ladies reported the theft of store purchases made here in town on Saturday. In the one instance several dollars worth of dry goods had been left in the baby buggy while the lady in question was inside a grocery store. She came out to find the purchases gone. A second lady had her groceries lifted from a parked car on the Main St.

Two Pickering ladies living within one concession of each other missed the $275 Foto Nite offer made at the Stanley Theatre last Thursday evening. Mrs. Lillian Byer of the 7th concession would have been paid $200 for her photograph had she been present, while Mrs. Myrtle Bacon of the 8th concession was offered $75 for her picture.

SECOND BROTHER DEAD WITHIN YEAR

The death of Dr. W. A. Baker at Peterborough on Sunday marks the passing of the second figure in the above photograph. Last December Seneca Baker (on the right of the picture) died in his 96th year, and the death of Dr. Baker on Sunday last, shown on the left, leaves their brother Rev. J. J. Baker, 92, the sole survivor of the three brothers. Originally there were five boys and two girls in the family all born at Baker Hill to Joel and Rachel Baker, pioneers in that part of Whitechurch.

Mr. James Ridout is home for a month's holiday from McTier, Ont., where he is employed by the C.P. Railway.

Bicycle Presents Problem

The careless manner in which bicycles are just dropped on the sidewalk when the rider wishes to go into a store, is presenting a more or less problem, since wheels lying on the walks are a menace to pedestrians and have been the means of causing people to fall over them. Boys are the chief offenders. Such an accident could lead to court action against the lad with the bicycle. However, at least one merchant is proposing to place a bicycle rack rack outside his store and if this proves a remedy, no doubt other merchants will provide similar accommodation of bicycle.

Teacher Honored on Retirement

Miss Ethel Wagg was the guest of honor at a function in Midland marking her retirement from the teaching staff after many years in the profession. Former Uxbridge lady, and sister of the late Newton Wagg she taught in Uxbridge over 25 years ago when the family resided there. Just a Small Incident in Town Affairs

There is a distinct advantage in having practical men on municipal councils especially in small places like Stouffville where councillors are charged with the duty of looking after the water and hydro utilities of the town, instead of these departments being operated by a special commission who become very proficient over the years. The reeve has been "stalling" for days against digging out the hydrant at the post office corner because it was labelled as faulty around the threads down in the ground four or five feet. It's a difficult task to remove this hydrant, necessitating as it would the shutting off of the water in town for a period of several hours.

One of his henchmen on the council, E.A. Button, being something of a plumber, the reeve appealed to him to use his best endeavours, to correct the trouble without removing the hydrant since Mr. Button was strongly of the opinion that the trouble was above ground near the top of the hydrant. Everybody shook their head, "It has to come out." Councillor Button stood alone declaring there was every chance that the fault did not lay in the bottom of the hydrant but at the top. Mr. Button was fairly sure of that, and so the top was removed, new packing and a good supply of grease applied, and now the post office hydrant is the best working one in town. "I want them all done over the same way," said the reeve in commending Councillor Button.

Could you fall in love with a patron? You'll see him at the Stanley Theatre, next Monday and Tuesday nights.

New Transformer Added

A new 25 watt KVA transformer was installed in the north-west section of the town last week, to relieve the other transformers which were overloaded with the steadily increasing power installation. Some technical change on the line was also made which was causing the frequent break-downs in one area of the service over recent weeks. We may now expect more continuous flow of power without interruption.

The drought ended in the Stouffville area on Thursday evening when a million dollar rain fell, giving the ground a nice soaker that should cover the crops to complete maturity. Especially suffering was the raspberry crop and the roots, for the berries the rain came just in time. As it is the dry spell will have shortened the crop.

Shot and Missed

Probably over-anxious to make the fox pay the penalty for his crime, that of killing eight or nine big chickens from his flock, Mr. Jos. Reesor, 8th concession, Markham, missed the opportunity that may not come again. Reddy was sitting on a nice rise of land, perfectly still, surveying the panorama dotted with nice chickens that no doubt made his mouth water.

Mr. Reesor raised his gun, took what he thought was careful and unerring aim. Bang! But the sly old fox just ambled off, not appearing to be in any hurry.

The shot missed the target, and the target was gone. Mr. Reesor hopes he wounded the fox, but if he did it didn't encourage him to jump or to move off at any speedy pace.

The habit of the fox was to wait until the birds fanned out over the field in the early morning, then he could have a good time running among them causing destruction of much more than a fox could eat.
