TOURIST CONVICTED OF STARTING BUSH BLAZE

Haliburton, Sept. 7: Appearing before Magistrate Gee in the Haliburton Court last week Mr. L. J. Arnold, of 32 Rainford Rd., Toronto, pleaded not guilty to the charge of starting a bush fire through being careless in putting out a camp fire on August 4th, about 2½ miles east of the village.

Mr. William Sarginson, Provincial Government Fire-Ranger for this district, was the first witness called by the Crown. In his testimony Sarginson stated that he had been notified about the fire at 2.30 p.m. on August 5th and that he had gone out to investigate it and had found that he needed help so he called the Reeve, and firefighters from the village went out with the pumper at once and that the fire had been put under control at 6.30 p.m., 3 hours after it had been reported.

He then stated that with the help of Provincial Constable Kellog they had made a search for the cause and had found a spot where a camp fire had been burning and on further investigation learned that the party who had the camp fire had moved on to a lake some 3 miles away.

With the Provincial Constable he had gone after them and he brought them back to the scene where they admitted that they had camped there over night and that they had built a fire to cook their breakfast but that they had poured the contents of the tea kettle and pot over the fire before leaving and they thought it was out.

When asked by the Crown if there had been a better place in the vicinity to have a camp fire, Mr. Sarginson stated that there was a flat rock about fifty feet from the spot and that there was a small gravel pit about seventy-five feet away where it would have been fairly safe to have a fire.

The next question was, "What would you suggest in regards to putting out a camp fire?" and he answered that the only safe way was to take a shovel and bury it or loosen up the earth about the fire and then to pour water on it. He then was asked if the defendant had taken these steps and the answer was no.

Chief of the County Police, Mr. W. Dovell was the next witness and he displayed a series of pictures that were taken about two days after the fire and showed the course of the fire branching out from the original spot.

Mr. Arnold took the stand in his own defence and stated that he had done everything he knew of to make sure that the fire was out when he left but he did not know that fire would burn down into the ground the way this one had and that being from the city he had no experience in the woods. He was sorry for all the trouble he had caused and was glad that the damage was not greater.

Crown Attorney J. C. Anderson, in summing the case for the Crown said, "We have two big industries in this district, they are lumber and the tourist trade and if we lost the first through careless tourists we would soon lose the second through lack of trees and therefore he thought that the Court should impose the limit of the sentence as a lesson to others and teach them to be more careful."

After deliberation Magistrate Gee found that the accused guilty under section 515B of the Criminal Code and sentenced him to two years suspended sentence and cost of the fire.

Markham Trio Win Coveted Cup

With a decision not reached until the last bowl had been rolled down the lawn—with a wicked curve on it—the trio skipped by E. Wurm of Markham captured the Col. J. E. Farewell Trophy, one of the most eagerly contested cups in the local bowling world. 19 entries were listed for the event with visitors coming to compete from Toronto, Highland Creek, Agincourt, Markham, Oshawa, Peterborough and Port Hope.

Competition was very close, with a local team skipped by Hillard Millard, last year's cup holder, winning or losing on the last bowl. The last shot missed its goal by an inch and the trophy, which has been played for annually since 1922, went to the Markham team of E. Wurm, R. Miller and W. Reesor with three wins for 53.

Toy Idea Pays Off

Two years ago Doug Blaney of Vancouver lost patience with the way in which his year-old son's toys broke or fell apart. He decided to make some of aluminum for him. Today, reports The Financial Post, Blaney and his wife operate a $30,000 top factory which supplies parts for many eastern Canada producers.

He can't always wait for his money...

The firm you work for may operate a large plant, with costly machinery, and still need ready cash. That's because months often pass before its products are finished, and sold, and paid for. Meanwhile, it has a payroll to meet every Friday...

BANK CREDIT BRIDGES THE FINANCIAL GAP

Every day, business firms make use of bank loans to keep men working, machines running, goods flowing. This bank credit may be used to meet continuing expenses while goods are being processed; to build up stocks of raw materials; to purchase component parts. As finished goods reach the market and payment is received, the loan is repaid.

Enterprising farmers, fishermen, merchants—all make similar use of bank credit to meet their short-term financial needs. Thus your bank helps Canadians maintain steady operations—to take advantage of market opportunities both at home and abroad—to grow. And this, in turn means more work, more goods, a higher standard of living for you and for every Canadian.
