

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?
 Mom, Pop, Little Annie and Tik Tox start out and going along nicely, when about dusk a strong light was flashed and a couple of bandits stood out, guns ready. The car stopped.
 "Put 'em up. This is a hold-up!" What do you know. Ella Cinders and Blackie all tied up, kidnapped. What do you know... A couple of hunters came out of the bush, and said: "Stick 'em up." They cleaned up the works—money, jewels, guns and BAKERS SWEETNER.
 Mom says: "I wouldn't have cared about the jewels and stuff, if they'd left me BAKERS SWEETENER."

TOO LATE! TOO LATE!
 When the crown learned that the man whom a charge of not filing income taxes in 1943, 1944, and 1945, had been dead for more than a year, the charge was withdrawn.
 In this instance Oscar M. Brooks, Gormley R.R. 2, long deceased, would have been the defendant. Presumably he failed to file returns, and the department had just got around to laying a charge.
 This leads us to say that it is about time parliament did something to protect the average citizen from income tax officers laying charges overdue for years. The accused in these cases has little chance to defend himself on such dilatory assaults.

WEDDINGS
BROWN—HARMON
 Cedar Boughs, snapdragons and roses formed the background for a pretty wedding, at the bride's home on Saturday, when Betty Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Harmon became the bride of Morley Ray Brown, son of Mr. James Brown and the late Mrs. Brown.
 Rev. Norman Rowan performed the ceremony, and Helen Fockler, cousin of the bride played the wedding music. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white sheer, with white roses holding her full length veil. She wore a gold locket, the gift of the groom, and carried red Briarcliff roses.
 Mrs. Muriel Tunney, sister of the bride was matron of honor and wore a gown of pale blue taffeta, with floral headdress and short veil, she carried pink roses.
 Gladys Harmon acted as bridesmaid wearing pink taffeta with floral headdress and short veil. She carried pink roses. Allen Brown, brother of the groom acted as best man. Bernard Tunney was usher.
 For the reception at which fifty guests were present, the bride's mother received in turquoise wool with black accessories and corsage of red roses, and the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Jack Brown, assisted in printed crepe with black accessories and corsage of red roses.

OUR CAPITAL CORRESPONDENT

Following the disclosure that Prime Minister Mackenzie King had suffered from pneumonia and that he had been seriously ill for some time before it had become generally known, rumours have circulated widely in Ottawa that a new leader for the party may be named by a national convention sooner than it had been contemplated, though this will depend on various circumstances. Indeed, it is said that the rather slim majority in the present Parliament now held by the Government may hasten such action since a general election might come earlier than it had been originally anticipated. In any case, these topics are "hot" subjects of whispers right now behind the scenes along Parliament Hill and headlines may be in the making in the opinion of veteran observers here.

Finance Minister Abbott has started something with his announcement on certain relaxations of rental controls for commercial properties, of accommodation in resort hotels and boarding houses, and houses purchased between Oct. 31, 1944, and July 25, 1945, since these decontrols have encouraged pressure groups who have been seeking a chance to boost rentals on private housing accommodation across Canada. However, the view in Ottawa is that, for the time being anyhow, no drastic changes are likely to be forthcoming even if it is reported that the authorities here are being flooded by requests from organized property owners and smaller landlords for immediate relief, but it is hinted at the same time that there is no assurance that some sort of relaxation in this regard may not be affected before the end of 1947.

"The initial price of $1.35 a bushel was not a gamble in any sense," said in the House of Commons Hon. James Gardiner, Agriculture Minister in discussing Canada's wheat price. "It was arrived at by taking the average marketings of wheat over a long period in Canada and calculating that if that wheat marketed at $1.55 for the first two years of the contract, taking into consideration the fact that one year's wheat had already been marketed at a price of at least $1.55 and the further fact that it would be marketed for another two years at $1.55 at least then should the price drop to the minimum price of $1.25 provided in the contract for the third year and if it dropped again to $1 in the fourth year, there would be enough money obtained for the wheat to pay the farmer $1.35 a bushel without any person in Canada outside the farmer paying one cent of it."

On the other hand, Hon. John Bracken, leader of the Official Opposition, declared in Parliament among other things that "the Government is selling the farmers' 1946 wheat crop for $100,000,000 less than it would bring at the world market price."

The estimates of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board from April 1, 1946, to March 31, 1947, totalled $13,250,000, according to a report in this capital, and the actual expenditures from April 1, 1946, to Dec. 31, 1946, the latest information available, have been no less than a total of $9,381,731.36. Breaking down these totals, it is found that the W.P.T.B. has spent the following amounts in the last mentioned period: salaries, $6,663,888.17; travelling expenses, $758,005.87; printing and stationary, $358,819.55; telegrams, $161,949.62; advertising, $205,660.27, and sundries, including local ration boards and ration coupon banking costs, $1,230,107.88. These actual expenditures offer an idea of the cost of maintaining the operations of the W.P.T.B. during a nine-months period ending Dec. 31, 1946.
