

THESE ELEPHANTS HAVE TO FORGET THE SEASON

Months away is the season for circuses and pink lemonade, yet here's a picture to whet the public appetite for the time when red wagons will be rolling and the big tops will be raised. Good trouper that they are, these trained elephants plod through the snow-covered streets of Chicago with the same indifference that marks their ring performance. They are actors in a Shriners' circus.

Bakers Sweetner

POP *Little Annie rush in to tell Mom an Tik Tok the roads are open Mom says "Lets get going" Ella Cinders, Blackie, Blonde and Dagwood all pile in the back. Blonde says "Isn't this wonderful snow piled high on both sides with the lovely pines for a background. Out dashesa man with no coat or hat and two black eyes and none other than Jiggs. Car stops and Jiggs spies Mom and insists that she go in and pacify Maggie. Mom and Ella Cinders meet Maggie on the Veranda with a big vase in her arms. Mom listens to Maggies tale of woe, hardwork and rationing. Mom says BAKERS SWEETNER is wonderful for tea, coffee, baking pies, cakes, especially, lemon rhubarb, apple and raisins pies. "Its Wonderful" Mom says "its cheaper than sugar and so easy to use" Maggie says "Mom get me a good sized order and I'll sweeten Jiggs up" Mom says "Maggie you need quite a bit yourself"

Hear Claim For Possession Of Uxbridge Farm

Hearing of an action for possession of a 200-acre farm at Victoria Corners near Uxbridge neared conclusion as counsel submitted argument before Mr. Justice E. R. E. Chevrier at Whitby. The action for possession and damages is brought by Mrs. Jessie Munro, vendor, and Hardy Munro, purchaser, against Franklin Hardy tenant. Counsel for the plaintiffs is A. W. S. Greer, K.C., with R. D. Humphreys, K.C., for the defendant.

The plaintiff, Hardy Noble, testified that he had entered into an agreement to purchase the farm in November, 1945, and was to obtain possession April 1, 1946. As yet however, he had not been able to move onto the place as the tenant, Hardy, was still in possession. He said that when he made the purchase in November, 1945, he was operating a farm in Scott Township which it was necessary for him to vacate on April 1, 1946. After that date he had sub-let a place to house his stock and farm implements but there was no available housing accommodation on it. It had been necessary for him to sell some of his stock, he said, because of being unable to attend to it regularly in the winter.

The defendant, Franklin Hardy said he had signed a five-year lease on the farm in October, 1943 and had taken possession April 1, 1944. He had received notice dated September 28, 1945 to vacate on April 1, 1946.

The defendant said he had sold his implements and most of his stock last October and when asked by Mr. Greer why he had done this he said he had expected Noble to be taking over in the spring and also his wife was in poor health. Mr. Hardy had given his notice to Mrs. Munro last fall.

R. W. E. Burnaby of Toronto, said he had signed an offer to purchase the farm in question in September, 1945, but the deal had never been concluded.

Robert C. Henderson of the agency handling sale of the farm testified that Mrs. Munro had been most anxious to sell the farm and he had advised her to give the tenant notice by October 1, 1945, as he was certain a buyer could be obtained.

Witnesses gave evidence as to the condition of the farm. Robert Murray, a life-long farmer, described Hardy as a good farmer and said he had worked the farm well.

He estimated Hardy's 1946 crop at approximately 300 bushels as compared with 1600 in 1945 and attributed this reduction to the crop having been put in too late. Mr. Humphreys based his defence on the contention that the notice given Hardy to vacate the farm was not valid as it had been given prior to actual sale of the premises.

This was the construction he placed on a clause in the lease which read: "This agreement is made with the understanding that the premises may be sold giving the lessee six months notice, and six months notice to be given in case of releasing this agreement."

A contract had not been entered into prior to October 1, 1945, he said and hence the notice to vacate April 1, 1946, given at that time was not valid.

Mr. Greer, addressing His Lordship as court adjourned, argued that the opening words of the clause in question were a warning to the tenant that the whole agreement was based on the premise that the farm might be sold. It meant, he said, that the lessor had a right to sell the property and the lessee had a right to six months' notice. Admitting that if the place had not been sold during the six-months period, an action might have been brought for deceit, Mr. Greer urged that a sale any time during the period would make the notice to vacate valid. He said also that in effect negotiations for sale of the property were being carried on between Mrs. Munro and one R. W. E. Burnaby when the notice was given.

BLOOMINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Clark of Ballantrae were with her father Mr. P. Brown's on Friday. The Ladies' Aid held a quilting here in the church last Thursday. Miss F. Ferguson of Toronto was at Mr. E. Spence's over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. Vaughan attended the funeral of his brother-in-law, the late John Paisley, at Ballantrae on Friday. Despite our super snow mountains our teacher Mrs. Topper has only missed three school days. Some days she used skis and then resorted to the ever faithful horse and sleigh. Miss E. Baker, nure-in-training in Toronto, was with her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Baker last week.

BARKLESS BUT YODELS

Six-thousand-year-old tradition was shattered in London when one of the barkless Basenji breed of non-yapping dogs woofed at a dog show. Experts soon were involved in an argument as to whether the dog barked or just woofed. Here Mrs. Cecile Snow, a war bride of Toronto, Ont., is shown with her "barkless" dog, one of the same breed. She says her Basenji doesn't bark—it yodels.

IN CHARGE OF SOVIET DEFENCE

Generalissimo Stalin has relinquished his direct control of Russia's armed forces in what appears to be his first step toward divesting himself of a host of warborn responsibilities. Stalin resigned as minister of armed forces in charge of Soviet defence and the post was assumed by his deputy, Army General Nikolai Bulganin, above a fast rising star on the Soviet scene.
