

9th Line, Markham

We extend our very best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hamm whose marriage took place in Markham on Saturday, June 7. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Watt of Bethesda were visitors in our community on Sunday. Miss Mildred White left last week for Bancroft where she intends to spend the summer vacation.

ALMIRA

Mr. and Mrs. John Timbers had supper Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Nigh. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Conner, Marjorie, Marion and Neil, also Mrs. Lancaster visited friends near Orangeville on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. A. Stiner visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wideman. Mrs. Ken Stewart and baby Karon spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. W. Porter of Stouffville. Visitors on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stickley were: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wideman of Richmond Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cober, Mr. and Mrs. Telf. Wegg and Gerlie of Cashel, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jarvis of Peach's. Mrs. C. Conner entertained some ladies on Tuesday to a quilting bee.

PINE ORCHARD

Miss Eileen Fair and Miss J. Johnston visited Mr. and Mrs. W. Johnston on Sunday and attended decoration at Newmarket cemetery. Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. Frank Palmateer and sons in the death of Mr. Palmateer. They were residents in our district until a couple of years ago. We are glad to report Franklin Lehman is improving, following an attack of pneumonia. The Institute at Mrs. Dike's was well attended last Wednesday. Mrs. Albert Redley visited her parents over the weekend. Our play cast journeyed to Janetville on Friday night and delighted a full house with their performance. Mrs. Sheppard is entertaining a friend from Galt for a few weeks.

BALSAM

Mr. and Mrs. Collingwood of Midland have moved into part of the Winton White house now occupied by Mr. Jack Brown. Mr. Collingwood is engaged with Mr. Chas. Cooper, Claremont. Mr. Donavon Appleby has secured a position as teacher at Manchester school for the following year. A chivari gang visited the newly weds, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McAvoy. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Westgarth of Lindsay and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Day and son of Toronto were weekend guests with Mr. and Mrs. R. Day. We are sorry to hear that Mrs. E. Appleby is not enjoying very good health. Mr. and Mrs. Barnett Jamieson and family visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Parrott of Ashburn. Mr. and Mrs. R. Day visited friends in Toronto last week. Next Sunday, June 22nd, Rev. Robt. Schell of Toronto will speak at the evening service in connection with Temperance. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilson and David of Brooklin visited Sunday at the Geo. Wilson home. The S.S. picnic is on June 28 at Oshawa park. Miss Dorothy Graham tried her music exam in Toronto on Friday.

RINGWOOD

Miss Clara Halsted spent the weekend at Norman Steckley's, Sixth line north. The townline west of here is being torn up and graded before having a gravel surface laid. We hope this will greatly improve this much travelled road. A. M. Grove and Miss Ada Grove of Toronto spent several days last week at their home here. A goodly number from here attended the Christian-Congregational Conference held in the Stouffville church from Wednesday to Sunday of last week. Our Ringwood ladies provided the supper on Thursday evening. Mrs. Nancy Lee of Stouffville was a recent guest with her sister Mrs. J. M. Grove. Miss Belle Mitchell received word on Monday of the death of her nephew Dr. Crobie Nixon of Hollywood, California. Dr. Nixon used to holiday here a number of years ago with his uncle the late J. A. Mitchell. Our church has been re-decorated during the last two weeks, the ladies of the congregation having painted and varnished the woodwork while the papering was completed Saturday by Harmon Hoover of Stouffville.

TRIBUTE TO WAR HEROES

A memorial cross was dedicated in honor of three young Canadians who paid the supreme sacrifice. Pilots George and Clifford Coathups, R.C.A.F. beloved sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Coathup, Unionville, and Lieut. James Cockrane, Hagerman's corner at the morning service in Central United Church, Unionville, on Sunday last. Rev. W. S. Butt conducted the service, special music was rendered by the choir, and Mrs. Frank Rae who is an elder of the church presented the Memorial Cross with a most appropriate address.

F. M. Chapman Gives Fair Board Ideas

A meeting of the Fair Boards of District No. 4 which covers 17 fairs in the East Central Counties, was held at Lakefield and was addressed by Frank M. Chapman, director of Field Crop competitions of the Oshawa fair.

The speaker dealt with various methods employed by fair societies and pointed out some improvements that might be used in order to get better co-operation between the directors and the public.

"A great deal of the success of any fair", said the speaker, "was due to the committee chairman being diligent in promoting new ideas and in using their business and social ingenuity and initiative in getting exhibits out to the fair. In fact a president and secretary are of little use, if these key men be not active on the job."

The grounds committee and the advertising committee could insure the respect of their visitors by a general clean-up day, the planting of shade trees, attractive flowerbeds and a liberal display of bunting on the days of, and preceding, the fair. The speaker stressed the value of short items in the local papers, preferable throughout the local pages, drawing attention to the merits of the fair and the value of it as a meeting place for old friends, and a chance to rub shoulders with the people they have not seen for possibly months or years. In short the creation of a local pride, and of social visits, goes a long way in winning attendances. The cultivation of group appeals, school children's interests, young farmers contests means better gate receipts.

In the matter of the exhibition of live stock, Mr. Chapman named a few things that betget confidence in the exhibitors. These were recognition of all exhibitors by the directors. A friendly handshake, and gladsome remark to them, are not forgotten in the next year's entries. Then too he advised that the secretary have printed slips to go in the letters enclosing the prize monies, thanking the exhibitor and stating how much his co-operation meant to the show.

In the selection of judges, care should be taken to see that these were practical men who are in close touch with the various breeds, and who had no favorites nor near neighbors who were showing stock. We must maintain complete confidence in the integrity of the judge. Many judges of dairy cattle were not seen to have handled the udders of the milking classes, so that glaring defects often got top places. The speaker advocated the adoption of the same prize money all down the placing. By this means, the small and distant breeder was encouraged in the matter of the expenses of trucking his animals to the show.

In other departments of the show, the careful weeding out of professional exhibits was advised. The showing of an heirloom quilt for a generation or pictures or other esthetic articles after they had won two or three prizes was no advertisement for any show.

The main thing in the support by the Government of these smaller fairs was the exhibition of local skill, handiwork, and attractiveness of the exhibits whether in the nature of animals, manufactures, fruits, vegetables or in machinery, tools, vehicles, inventions, or in cultural aesthetics as with painting, drawings, decorations or flowers.

"The public should support the local fair", concluded the speaker "for these things could not take place in a slave community or in a fascist country. These fairs are an ocular demonstration of our American way of life where free enterprise helps all by the independent exertions of the free citizens of the country. These competitions carry a great deal in the morale of such a liberty loving country as we have here. If we feel that we want more security in our lives, let us develop to the nth degree our love of competition in a friendly manner."

Mr. MacLean, the genial manager of the Lindsay fair moved a vote of thanks to the speaker for his most practical and helpful address. After which all were entertained by the local board to a supper in the United Church schoolroom, where moving pictures were also shown.
