Markham Pro Hockeyist Seriously Injured

Nick Bangay, speedy forward who paced Markham Intermediates to their splendid showing in the O.H.A. Intermediate playoffs last winter, tried out with Philadelphia at their training camp at Belleville and made good. He played his first game of professional hockey on Thursday night in Hershey and suffered a broken shoulder—so already, he's on the shelf. It's to be hoped no serious handicap results else his pro career will have been the briefest in history.

ALLISTON THINKS ABOUT MODERN NEW RINK

The town of Alliston, similar in size to Stouffville, is preparing to take a vote of the ratepayers there to raise the sum of $70,000 for the erection of a skating rink. If the vote is favorable the building, a steel structure, will be put up next year. It will have 16 foot walls and be 210 feet by 100 feet in size.

O.H.A. AND WELL-KNOWN LOCAL SPORT IN KITCHENER-WATERLOO "BLACK BOOKS"

The Kitchener-Waterloo senior O.H.A. team is plenty peeved at the schedule arrangements made for them in the drawing up of this season's schedule by the O.H.A. officials. They gave them just 4 Friday night home games. We quote from Dan Odette, Kitchener sports writer: "The Kitchener-Waterloo senior O.H.A. hockey club is learning slowly but surely that those heart-warming smiles and handshakes given out by the O.H.A. executive must be taken with a snicker. At the schedule meeting of the O.H.A. Bunny Morganson, who is supposed to be in charge of the O.H.A.'s publicity and has a great deal to do with drawing up schedules seemed quite annoyed with the local delegation. The O.H.A. has won no friends here."

MILK TOO HIGH NEED BOARD CURB PROBE FINDINGS

A recommendation that the Ontario milk board be stripped of its power to enforce a fixed price for milk, is contained in the royal commission report on milk. The royal commission found the price of milk is set too high, and that many Toronto dairies could sell at a price "considerably less than 16 cents a quart, and still sell at a profit." It is learned the report recommends. The report is said to also favor co-operation among dairies in distribution of milk as a big factor in reducing price to the consumer. It is pointed out that 25 per cent. of the cost of a quart of milk is delivery charges. The report urges that wartime economy in delivery be continued and that dairies co-operate to find further ways and means of eliminating duplication and preventing necessity of wagons of several dairies covering the same routes. The commission is said to have recommended in its report that the milk board be permitted to "suggest" a price for milk, but not to enforce their recommendation.

Plowed Into Toronto Train, Owen Sound Men Badly Hurt

Ernest Stanley of Owen Sound, is still in critical condition following an accident at Uxbridge in which he sustained a broken neck. The accident occurred at the 7th concession level crossing at Uxbridge, when the car in which Stanley was a passenger and Lloyd Sheppard also of Owen Sound, the driver, crashed in the side of a Toronto-bound CNR passenger train. The train was piloted by Engineer Fred Hall, a former Lindsay man now living at Toronto. Both of the injured men were rushed to the Toronto General Hospital for treatment.

Unionville Juniors practiced at Oshawa last week. Cy Allen has presented few strangers, with Hill and the Fetch brothers of Markham, and Minton and Campbell of last year's Stouffville team. Stunden from Richmond Hill was on hand between the goal posts for the Oshawa workout.

Collingwood Midgets who ousted Markham in the playoffs have gone on to defeat Goderich and take the Ontario title. A Toronto newspaper report says two thousand fans turned out for the finals, and a big victory march was held after the win.

That was some game Acton won from Sunderland at Viaduct Park in Intermediate O.B.A. It took 14 innings before they settled on a 3-2 basis. Lorne Evan, former Navy goalie, was the big batter for Acton, driving home the winning run. Acton moves ahead in their hunt for the Ontario Intermediate "C" baseball title.

Markham Intermediates are shaping into real contender again this year for hockey honors in their department. Markham took to the ice at Oshawa last week, with only one member of last year's team missing, that being Nick Bangay. In addition to the regulars, Lloyd Pascoe and the Rumney brothers, former Stouffville Junior stars, were on hand as well and Stark of last year's Newmarket team. Jim Coburn of Agincourt, Bruce Forgie of Markham and Bowdway of Stouffville were other new tryouts.

Stouffville's Junior O.H.A. entry this season had their first limbering up on Oshawa ice on Tuesday night. Practically all of last year's team were back with the exception of Jack Rumney and Lloyd Pascoe who are over the Junior age limit and are making a try for the Markham intermediate team. In addition a half dozen new performers were on hand which made quite an impressive workout, and coach Ike Harper was more than pleased with the way the boys "shaped up." The executive handling the Junior entry here is as follows: President, A. G. Thompson; manager, Bob Snowball; sec-treas., Bruce Clark; directors, Ted Edwards, John Mathewson, Chas. Nolan.

ed to the Toronto General Hospital for treatment. Police said the locomotive was already on the level crossing when the car crashed into its side. Sheppard was thrown from the car and landed in the opposite ditch. Witnesses said the roof of the car was ripped off and hurled 30 feet along the track.

The train engineer said he was unaware there had been a crash until told by the fireman. At the time the train was reducing speed prior to entering Uxbridge station. Sheppard said he knew nothing of the level-crossing until he was about to cross it. There are no wig-wag signals at the track but warning cross signs are on the crossing approaches, police said and the crossing is in very plain view.

Stouffville "Tops" in Inter-School Field Meet

For the second successive year, Stouffville High School has won the grand championship in the inter-school field meet with Markham and Agincourt schools. The three competed this year on the Agincourt grounds.

In addition to winning the school championship with the largest number of points, Stouffville took the senior girls' junior girls' intermediate boys' championships and tied for the boys' senior championship.

Agincourt students made a good individual showing but lost out to the larger schools in the championship race. Stouffville took 227 points on the day with Markham a close second with 202 points, Agincourt took 100 points.

The champions are as follows: girls' senior, Erline Paisley (Stouffville); intermediate, Mildred Thomson (Markham); junior, Marion Reid (Stouffville); boys' senior, Matthew Rae (Markham) and Ken Noxon (Stouffville) tied; intermediate, Roy Ward (Stouffville); junior, Owen Trunk (Markham).

Umpire-in-chief at the event was Fred Steele, Ontario Athletic Commissioner.

Runners-up were: Senior girls, Helen Goudie (Stouffville); intermediate, M. Dart (Markham); junior, F. Sing (Agincourt); senior boys, F. Shaw (Markham); intermediate boys, Thomas Shea (Markham), Don Davis (Stouffville), B. Curtis (Markham) all tied 11 pts.; junior, Grover Burgess (Markham).

It is interesting to note that Erline Paisley of Stouffville, the senior girl champion and Helen Goudie, the runner-up from Stouffville, in this class, each scored first in every event in which they completed, Helen Goudie getting 14 points and Erline 20.

Dr. Blanchard of Cannington Dead

A prominent Mason in the district for many years, Dr. Edward Blanchard of Cannington died last week in the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay. He had been seriously ill for some weeks.

Dr. Blanchard was born at Leaskdale in Scott Township, son of the late John and Melissa Blanchard and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto. With the exception of a year and a half at Creemore his entire practice was carried on in Cannington. For the past few years, however, poor health had limited his activities. He was a member of the Cannington school board for many years and also medical officer of health for the village. He was a past master of Brock Lodge, A.F. and A.M. and past D.D.G.M. of Toronto East District. He was a member and former warden of All Saints' Anglican Church.

Surviving are his wife, the former Annie McDermott; three sons, Dr. Edward J. Blanchard of California, Dr. Allan J. Blanchard of Toronto and Dr. Kenneth R. Blanchard of British Columbia; two brothers, James Blanchard, Cannington, and Dr. Richard Blanchard, Toronto.

son, G. VanBlaircom, Gardham Tran, Harper Newman.

LARGEST GATHERING EVER ASSEMBLED AT WHITEVALE FUNERAL

The largest gathering ever to attend a funeral in Whitevale, and the great array of floral tributes, bore testimony to the keen sense of loss felt by the people in the people in the passing of Mrs. Blake Annis.

The pastor, Rev. John McLachlan conducted the funeral service in the United Church, assisted by Rev. George Dix of Washington Ave., United Church, Scarboro. Mr. Dix paid fitting tribute to the deceased, emphasizing the beauty of her life and her many helpful services, her smile and patience in suffering.

Mr. McLachlan, in his message, compared her many kind deeds to Mary's breaking of the alabaster box of precious ointment on Jesus, while He lived.

Among other things, he said, "We may be in Mary's group, doing the kindly and costly deed for the living." "We may be the group of women who came to the sepulchre with spices, to anoint the body of Jesus, when He was dead. They did so because they loved Him. It was very much worthwhile, though too late to be appreciated. "We may be in both groups, or we may be in neither."

The late Mrs. Annis would be found breaking the box of precious ointment on the living and on the dead. "Her love for her Master was manifest in Christian living, in devotion to duty, in full, joyous, steady services in home, church and neighborhood and elsewhere to the end."

Her teen-age Sunday School class of girls were the flower bearers. The pallbearers were George Todd, Alfred Michell, Lloyd John-
