close down. Those concerned exclusively with certain U.S. imports are now virtually unemployed.

One man in Toronto had just received his charter for a company the day before Mr. Abbott's unheralded announcement. The cost was $600, but he will be unable to do one day's work for his new company until some distant time in the future when the likelihood is that his products will either be out of date or the market will no longer exist.

We can indeed do without the goods on the prohibited lists. We could also do without electricity and go back a hundred years. Granted too, the fact that most men unemployed because of the import bans will be able to find other employment, but not at what they obviously consider themselves fitted for. To them it simply means, two or three years out of their careers. I hope yet to meet a man who does not agree that by far the simplest way to solve Canada's financial problem would have been to devalue the dollar. Even if it meant the dollar finding its level at as low a figure as 75 cents, the final result would be the same as will be achieved by Mr. Abbott's cumbersome and exacting plan, and that result would be arrived at in a much shorter time with far less hardship for the people.

brought about a number of properties for sale on Main street, more than in normal times. Among the properties shortly to be offered by auction or are now available through private sale, are the E. J. Davey residence, the Vanzant property almost opposite the Davey place, the Mrs. David Snider residence right in the business section, and the Rennie cottage almost opposite the Presbyterian Church. There is also the frame residence at corner of Main and Albert street belonging to Jos. Sider, and the new brick house owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Alf Thomas. The residence on Church street recently purchased by D. Watson, Chiropractor, and just north of the United Church a few doors on the opposite side of the street, is for sale.

The town bylaw regarding parking should be enlarged so as to forbid parking on one side of Main street at the so-called bottle neck on the grade approaching the railway crossing from Dr. Ball's corner to point west where the bottle neck ends. Also parking on one side only should be the law in the areas fronted by the Brierbush hospital. We have watched this for years, and are convinced that some day a serious accident will happen in one or both of these crowded places.

for Snowball's new barbering shop, next to John Monkhouse, the tailor. The upper part of the new building over the creek and being put up by Percy Brillinger will provide new tailor quarters for the veteran Monkhouse. We had a look over the proposed premises a few days ago, and it is going to make an ideal place for the business of a tailor, comfortable and modern. The fittings in the lower floor for the barber will be the last word in style, neatness and efficiency.

It was the custom in a certain church, as it is in many churches, to offer a short prayer for the proper use of the collection. Local and Personal Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Clendening and Mr. and Mrs. Hall of Guelph were Sunday visitors with Rev. and Mrs. S. Goudie.

Mr. Harold Good of Toronto was home over Sunday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Good.

Last Thursday Mrs. Sid. Schmidt was brought home in Good's ambulance from Toronto, where she underwent an operation. Latest reports are that she is making good recovery, a fact her many friends will be pleased to learn.

The snow fall of last week has left very good sleighing on country roads off the highways. However, only one cutter has been seen in town so far by your scribe of this column. Farmers need their horses shod before they can drive them on the roads, and with no smith shop in town now, and few anywhere for that matter, the work must be done by the farmer who has little or no time to take on the added task. Add all these things up, and Old Dobbin, is given one more push off the roads.

The Stouffville Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Bert Miller, Second St., on Thursday, Dec. 11, at 2.30 o'clock. The Roll Call will be "Childhood Memories of Christmas." Motto will be given by Mrs. G. T. Lee, a report of the convention by the delegates, and a paper by Mrs. Geo. Sanderson. There will be carol singing and exchange of Christmas presents not to exceed 25 cents. Social half hour. This is your invitation. President, Mrs. Garfield Kellington, Secretary, Sadie Stewart.

No Trespassing—No Snow Fence

When the town maintenance man entered upon an east end property last week to erect snow fence at a spot where drifts block the roadway, and much inconvenience to the owner and to other residents in the section, the resident came from the house and ordered the maintenance man off the place. Not knowing his right, the maintenance man left, and reported the incident to the Reeve, who advised him not to put any fence on the premises of the resisting owner. However, the complaining owner did not realize that they would benefit more than anyone else by reason of snow fence being erected. Nor did they know that under the Snow Fence Act, chap. 291, sec. (2) a municipality may enter upon any premises for the purpose of erecting snow fence. This is the first instance where we ever knew of a property owner objecting to snow fence being erected. It is usually sought after, and those who get it are just lucky. In this case, the town will use the fence in other places where applications could not be filled.

GOLDEN WEDDING DAY COMES NEXT MONDAY

On Monday, December 8th, Mr. and Mrs. John Spence will reach their 50th wedding anniversary, and this golden affair will be quietly observed at their home on Baker Avenue. Married at Whitevale in Pickering township, they farmed east of Stouffville for years, and finished up on the 6th concession of Whitechurch, from which place they retired in town.

The interesting date in their lives will be looked forward to with interest for neighbors and friends will be at liberty to offer them hearty congratulations.

The E. J. Davey residence on Main street will not be for private sale, we understand. Just as soon as the executors swing into action, the property will be offered by public auction, when the household effects are being sold in the near future.

About 25 friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Farthing, Market street, to tender a pantry shower to Mr. and Mrs. Murray Daniels (nee Olive Pipher). This was also a farewell party for Miss Helen Burkholder who is leaving for England December 11th to be married. Her gifts were a lace tablecloth and a sum of money. At the close of a pleasant evening, the gifts were acknowledged and a dainty lunch was served.

John Oxendale, veteran drayman, who operates the only horse-drawn dray in Stouffville, is suffering from an infection on the foot. Two or three weeks ago, his faithful steed stepped on John's foot, which is the cause of present trouble. Although a busy man, John has been forced to take time off from his duties of hauling coal at this season. He hopes to be on the dray again next week.

Newmarket council came in for sharp criticism at their nomination meeting because so many boys walk the streets on Sunday afternoon. Said a ratepayer from the platform: "Why doesn't our council provide supervised recreation for the boys and girls that will keep them off the streets on Sunday afternoons. They do nothing but walk from restaurant to restaurant." Time was when parents were expected to look after their family on Sunday afternoon, and Sunday School took up much of the afternoon. However, times change, and here we have a ratepayer throwing the responsibility on the doorstep of a municipal council, a stand that many parents or few others would consider correct.

Sixteen Pages this Week

This issue of The Tribune is stepped up to sixteen pages in order to accommodate the extra Christmas advertising, and at the same time not encroach on the news columns for advertising space. From 1888 when the first issue of The Tribune came from the press, until just a very few years ago, the size of the paper remained eight pages, four of which were printed in Toronto and four in Stouffville. In 1935 the publishers determined to put out an all-home print, and the success of the venture is well known to our readers. Number of pages has been increased, circulation has trebled, and our readers get a service in news and pictures that few weeklies in towns the size of Stouffville are privileged to enjoy. Twelve page issues have been the regular thing all through 1947!

CHRISTMAS STORE HOURS

The merchants of Stouffville have agreed to open their stores two evenings before Christmas, that is Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Dec. 23 and 24, and of course the Wednesday half-holiday will be dispensed with during Christmas week.

The merchants also call upon the Reeve to declare Boxing Day (December 26) a public holiday. Thus when the stores close on Wednesday night, Christmas eve, they will remain closed until Saturday morning, Dec. 27.

Announcement!
The Maple Leaf Dairy

Announces the new price for milk to be 17c. per quart and 10c. pint. It was unfortunate that the charges imposed on Monday morning were not announced in advance, but through circumstances beyond our control we were unable to obtain the prices from the Milk Board until late on Saturday.

With the upward swing in price to the consumer, comes an increase in the cost of whole milk from the farmer, amounting to 1½ cents per quart. Add to this the recent increases in cost of bottles, bottle caps, and everything else pertaining to milk and its delivery, and the addition half cent is more than consumed.

We trust that our customers will bear with us during these high prices, with the hope that everything will level off before long.
