Milverson, Feb. 20—A purebred Holstein, "May Pontiac Rag Apple Pie," owned by Alvin Schmidt, a short distance southwest of Milverson has given birth to quadruplet calves. Even triplets are rare. More unusual is the fact that they are all females. They are small but are doing fairly well.

Hello Homemakers! One serving for 30 to 35 minutes.
Mashed Potatoes with Sour-Cream Onion Sauce

4 peeled, cooked potatoes, 1 tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper, ¼ cup flour, 1 onion, minced, 3 tbsps. dripping, ½ cup potato liquid, ½ cup sour cream, ¼ cup grated cheese.
Mash 4 left-over potatoes with ½ cup potato cooking water. Add salt, pepper and flour. Pat into a greased casserole; add a minced onion which has been browned in dripping and the sour cream. Top with grated cheese. Bake in electric oven at 350 degrees for 15 mins. Serves 4.

The Suggestion Box
Mrs. T. L. says: Our magnificent Canadian apple ought to come in for very much more general use and appreciation. For instance: Fried apples are very good with sausages, corned beef or pickled tongue. Core half a dozen apples, cut them in half or thick slices, and cook gently in a little dripping. Keep the heat low so you won't scorch apples; cover the pan; cook 5 minutes, then turn apples and sprinkle with 2 tbsps. sugar and a little salt. Cover again and cook until tender.
Fried apples are also good on top of a slice of steamed fruit bread—as dessert.

Mrs. J. B. C. says: You'll like our prized turnip dish made with cheese. Try it: To 3 cups hot, mashed turnips, add 1 tsp. salt, pinch of pepper, 2 tbsps. dripping, ½ tsp. thick meat sauce, and two-thirds cup grated old cheese. Mix well. Serve hot.
Mrs. T. M. says: 1. For economy I use yolks of eggs in custards and save whites for angel cake.
2. Those outer leaves of cabbage, even though wilted, should be washed, then add a bit of grated onion to the strained liquor and serve with meat dishes.

DOCTORS' INSURANCE PLAN GOES INTO OPERATION

Medical history was made in Toronto this month when the "doctor insurance" plan of the Ontario Medical association went into operation. To celebrate the event, Marie Calow, a secretary, was given a year's free subscription as the first person enrolled.

The presentation was made at the York club by Hon. Russell Kelley, Ontario minister of health. This signalled the birth of a non-profit prepaid service which for many years was only an idea on paper. The plan is called Physicians' Services Incorporated.

A total of 500 have been enrolled in Toronto thus far, Stewart Major, general manager of P.S.I., said, and counting their dependants the number under protection starting Feb. 15 exceeds 650. The first groups to enroll include an insurance company office, a small manufacturing concern, the executive workers in a metal products company, and a cartage company where 100 per cent of the staff enrolled. In each case at least 75 per cent of the total staff signed up as required under the plan.

In the process of enrolling are a number of far larger groups, Mr. Major said, including a radio group, a soap company, two law associations outside Toronto, and employees of a chewing gum concern. Two groups in Timmins, one at Atwood, one at Whitby and one at Chatham are also enrolling.

"We look forward to having every person in this province relieved of the worry connected with the cost of illness," said Dr. Melville C. Watson, president of P.S.I.

"Whether it takes seven months or seven years we are out to cover the province," commented Mr. Major. A total of 4,000 doctors, members of the Ontario Medical association, are expected to participate in the plan.

P.S.I. offers two plans to employed groups. One, the surgical and obstetrical plan, can be obtained by groups of five or more, provided at least 75 per cent of the total number in the group enroll. The other, in addition to surgical and obstetrical service, provides complete medical care, including home, office and hospital calls, and is available to groups of 15 or more, provided that at least 75 per cent of the total number in the group enroll.

True reports on the works of the Red Cross by leading Canadian writers

The case of the 7 strangers

by Claire Wallace

There is a man in Canada who has the blood of seven total strangers in his veins. Maybe you wince at that idea. He doesn't. Without it, he would be dead.

Two years ago he was seriously injured in a crash. He received desperate head injuries, and a delicate operation was imperative. But shock and loss of blood had so weakened him that he couldn't have survived one. If... seven strangers had not stepped in.

They were Canadian men and women who had each given a blood donation to the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service. When the doctors called for blood to save the life of the accident victim, it was the blood of those seven which pulled him through.

"Were you one of them?"

Today, he is a healthy, happy, useful citizen of Victoria, British Columbia. The only thing that marks him as different from the average man is a rather searching look that sometimes comes into his eyes as he walks along the street. For he often thinks of the seven who saved his life and wonders who they are. As he looks into a stranger's face, he silently asks: "Were you one of them? If so, I thank you from my heart."

Similarly, the mother who gave birth to twins and would have died except for blood transfusions... the baby so anaemic at birth he could be kept alive only by donated blood... the maimed... the sick... the old—all those who owe their lives to blood transfusions say: "Thanks, unknown friend."

Free blood for Canadian hospitals

The Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service plans, as soon as possible, to extend whole blood and plasma free to all patients needing it, in hospitals across Canada. Already, two provinces—British Columbia and Alberta—provide this life-saving service. Last year, Alberta and British Columbia distributed 21,044 bottles of whole blood and 2,364 bottles of plasma, resulting in the saving of many lives.

But it takes money as well as blood to save these lives. Remember this, as the Canadian Red Cross appeals to you now for funds. Give generously. A life may depend upon your donation.

Red Cross Services include: Blood Transfusion, Outpost Hospitals, Aid to Sick and Disabled Veterans, Treatment for Crippled Children, Disaster Relief, Nutrition Services, Home Nursing Courses, Swimming and Water Safety, etc.

The work of mercy never ends... Give generously to the CANADIAN RED CROSS
