The former John S. Dougherty property in the east end which was sold a year or more ago to Mr. Ben Barnett of Toronto who has been living in the place, has disposed of the property which adjoins the Brierbush Hospital to the east, to Mr. Alex Logan, who is now living on his father's farm north of Ringwood. H. W. Moyer, negotiated the deal.

An interesting caller at the office of this paper on Saturday was Mr. William Wideman of Collingwood, a familiar figure in Stouffville, he tells us, 40 years ago. Prior to that he lived on the townline east of town, and was mostly employed among the farmers. Mr. Wideman is engaged in the ship yards at Collingwood, and was making his first visit among old friends and relatives here in quite a few years. He decided that the best way to keep in contact with the home district was to subscribe for The Tribune, and so the paper has another reader in the northern town.

Mr. John A. Gibner and Mrs. Gibner of Kansas City, were in town over the holiday, visiting with his brother Dan on Main Street. On Monday they gathered at the home of a niece, Mrs. Everet Hockley, 5th concession of Uxbridge, when another brother, Henry Gibner of Uxica was present, also a sister, Mrs. Anthony Reesor. It is Mr. Gibner's first visit here in 22 years and despite his great age, 82 years, he drove the 1100 miles in three days. He is still in the building trade. Mrs. Reesor is 80, Henry Gibner 79, and Dan will reach his 75th birthday this Saturday. During his visit Mr. Gibner called on his aunt Mrs. Andrew Miller of Brown Hill, who is in her 107th year.

PLOWMEN'S SECRETARY VISITS SITE CHOSEN, WELL PLEASED

J. A. Carroll, secretary-manager of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, Clark Young, treasurer of that Association, and Alex McKinney Jr. in charge of Demonstration for the big match, visited Lindsay and the new site for the 1948 International last week and were pleased with the location and progress the Lindsay Committee are making in the arrangements of what will probably be the biggest International event yet.

J. A. Carroll expressed approval with the land that is available for plowing and felt that the plow boys and girls would be much more satisfied to plow in this land than in the two previous Internationals. He pointed out he was particularly pleased in the co-operation received from the farmers in that district in making all land possible available to the Lindsay Committee.

Clark Young of Milliken thought that Jack Chamber's farm where the tented city will be ideal and he will have room for plenty of exhibitors. Reports are that most companies are increasing their frontage and more exhibitors have applied for space than had been the case last year.

Grade A eggs sold at 70c a dozen last week on the London, Ontario market, highest price reached there in 20 years. Lack of production is given as the reason for the higher price for hen fruit in London, as in all parts of the province. Farmers should put their hens to laying, which can be done by giving the poultry every care and prepared feeds.

Uxbridge Gets a Boost

The town of Uxbridge is to have an eye-sore removed with the remodelling of the Jones Hardware store, which was the pivot of town business forty years ago. Bought by a man from Fenelon Falls the long brick structure which straddles a flume, is to be reduced to a single story block and used for the manufacture of art work. Mr. Charlie Jones, son of the founder of the Jones hardware which carried on there so successfully at one time, is operating a store on the Danforth.
