

WOMAN KICKED HIM SAYS MARKHAM POLICE CHIEF

"She kicked me in the head, scratched my face and bit my arm," said Police Chief Clarence Wideman of Markham Township, testifying in the case of Mrs. Treva Preston of Aurora, who appeared before Magistrate O. M. Martin in County Magistrate's Court on charges of drunkenness and assaulting police.

The accused was fined $10 and costs on the charge of being drunk and $25 and costs for assaulting the Police officers.

Chief Wideman said that he accompanied Provincial Constables Art Harrison and Ed McBrien to the scene of an accident in Hogg's Hollow on the night of Sept. 19.

"The accused woman was standing by a truck at the side of the road and she refused to answer any questions," said the chief. "I was in the army for six years and I never heard such swearing and foul language as she used.

"She fought all the time we were putting her in the cruiser, and she never stopped all the way to No. 5 Police Station. I was in the front and PC McBrien was trying to hold her, but she scratched my face and kicked me in the head, and PC Harrison had to stop the cruiser so I could get in the back and help PC McBrien to hold her."

"I was struck in the face and scatched on the hand by the accused," said PC McBrien. "She was a going concern from the time we put her in the cruiser until we took her out."

The accused did not offer any defense.

Mother First, Queen Second . . . Juliana

Queen Juliana of the Netherlands and her consort, Prince Bernhard, were caught in an informal pose trying to coax the youngest member of the family to put on her best behavior for the camera. The children are Princesses Beatrix, Irene, Margriet (who was born in Ottawa) and Maria Christina. The queen has already made it clear that even the responsibility of becoming the ruler of the Netherlands will not be allowed to interfere in the way her home is run or in her care of her four daughters.

COW WORTH ITS WEIGHT BUTTER?

If you care to figure it, a cow is not worth its weight in butter, according to a sculptor at Reading, Pa., who took 2000 pounds of butter and moulded it into a full-sized bossie. At 80c a pound the sculptor's cow is worth $1600, and one would hope the farm cow will never reach that figure. Indeed, selling at auction sales right now at over $200 for a good grade animal, the price is rather stiff, and butter at 70c is not too high accordingly.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN
Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! Homes wired for electricity have an average of 66 outlets and switches. When we asked the manager of a local Public Utilities Commission about conservation, we were amazed to discover that the amount of electricity used in homes in this particular community, is comparable to the amount used by industries. As a matter of fact, our homemakers exercise control over about 35% of the electricity used in Ontario. So we can say that the homemaker "engineers" the management of much electricity.

Unfortunately, however, there are no check charts to indicate the number of times she turns on the hot water tap and makes the water heater switch on. In the rural area this also forces the pump to operate and therefore two electric switches are operated by turning a tap—sometimes unnecessarily.

There are women who own a modern electric range but do not operate it wisely. For instance, they roast a piece of meat in the oven, boil potatoes on one surface element, carrots on another, make a sauce on the third and a pudding on the fourth. With forethought and the use of ovenware dishes, all the above foods may be cooked in the electric oven using one element only.

Like many other household duties, we should plan the management of electric switches. Women who prevent waste of electricity will be rewarded, for this will mean there will be sufficient power to operate industrial and farm machinery—such equipment provides the husband's earnings, and the necessities for the home.

Water Heating

1. Do not use running hot water. When bathing, doing dishes or laundry, use it sparingly.
2. Do not leave hot water taps dripping; replace worn-out washers on taps.

Washing Machine

1. Soak soiled clothes in cold water.
2. Fill washing machine with hot water only to the water line.
3. Use warm water for only one rinse; a second or third rinse can be made in cold water.
4. Apply soft soap to very soiled areas of goods and time laundry operation. 8 minutes for bed linens and 12 minutes for soiled clothes. Rinsing in machine requires 5 minutes per load.

Home Lighting

1. Invite the family to group around an adequate lamp for good vision—for reading, studying and mending.
2. Do not burn lamps in unused rooms; do not forget to turn out lamps as soon as you leave the room.
3. Keep lamp shades and fixtures clean; dirty fixtures absorb as much as one-quarter of the light.

Electric Range

1. When you roast or braise meat, plan an oven meal which can be cooked at the same time.
2. Cook all vegetables in a small amount of rapidly boiling salted water. When the vegetable is added, cover with a tight fitting lid and turn the element from High to Medium or Low.
3. Use kettle which fits the electric element so that the entire cooking surface is heated quickly.
4. Use your pressure cooker whenever you can.
5. Make a time chart for the amounts of foods cooked for your family and abide by the chart you compose.

Refrigerator

1. Defrost refrigerator regularly every week or 10 days.
2. When storing food, or preparing meals, make one "loading" or "unloading" do.
3. Do not use the refrigerator to store foods which should be in the pantry. Take out jams, pickles and canned goods.
4. Be sure and cool hot foods before putting them in the refrigerator.

Other Appliances

1. Do not leave the radio on when no one is listening.
2. Turn iron off before the ironing is completed—it will retain enough heat to finish several articles.

WATER LEVEL SURVEY MADE AT CANNINGTON

Water levels in Canada and the States are causing the two governments much concern.

In Cannington recently, Department of Mines and Resources trucks were seen by the citizens there. The reason the Department is taking a survey of water levels in the district.

Not only in Canada are they doing this, but in the U.S. as well. The general feeling is that re-forestation of vacant lands will do much to offset the water decline.

PREFER HEALTHY ROBUST GIRLS

Four movie-makers got together in Hollywood and voted the American beauty the world's best. The delicate European type beauty is fine, these gents said, but they'll stick to the strapping, robust variety. The movie men were forced to this decision by the head of a New York model agency, Clyde Matthews. He said he had to go to England for talent because the scrubbed-face American type of beauty was out of style. "The trend is toward a more refined, delicate type of beauty," he said, and added the British girls have a "special ladylike quality." Mr. Matthews said that actresses like Jane Powell (above) are "the scrubbed-face type."
