William Wright, 24, returned to his home in Uxbridge town after serving a 30-day sentence in Cobourg and found his wife and three children missing.

He telephoned police to seek their aid and found he was wanted on another charge—stealing a radio from a cottage at a nearby resort.

He now awaits trial on the second offence.

Ten-year-old Jimmy Michell who showed his pony in Stouffville on Tuesday and won first place has attended twelve fairs. He has won 24 first prizes, 6 seconds, and 3 thirds, showing often against horses instead of ponies. Jimmy has been racing his pony three years and is quite a lad weighing only 60 pounds.

Three Big Issues Largest Ever Produced Here

During the past three weeks The Tribune has put out two issues of 18 pages each, and one issue of 16 pages. Then the current issue is 14 pages.

Total number of columns is the four issues run to 376, whereas a normal eight page issues weekly during the four weeks would produce only 192 columns of type, thus the paper has been almost doubled. The weekly copies printed is very close to the 3,000 mark. All in all we think the effort of the local office surpasses anything we know of in Ontario in towns of similar size to Stouffville.

In order that the current issue you are now reading reaches subscribers in good time, the mail bags are being delivered to Clarendon and Gormley by special delivery this Wednesday night.

Many advertisers were unable to buy space in this week's paper before the dead line was reached for accepting displays. They can be accommodated next week by acting promptly, and it is just as well to extend New Year greetings
