The librarian would like to call attention to four outstanding books now in the library. "The Gathering Storm" and "Their Finest Hour" by Winston Churchill, "Crusade in Europe" by General Dwight Eisenhower, and "This is Newfoundland" edited by Ewart Young, with portraits by Karsh, and photographs by Cyril Marshall. All four books are very expensive to buy but may be had from the library on a five cent card. It is the hope of the board that they will be widely read. Another important book just received is Vincent Sheehan's "Lead Kindly Light" or "Gandhi and the Way to Peace."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marshall were in town on Tuesday morning for a brief spell, enroute to their city home after spending the holiday period at their summer home near Beaverton. Mr. Marshall was last manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia which operated here not many years ago.

Members of the United Missionary Churches in the Stouffville-Markham area are looking forward to the annual conference which will be held this year at New Dundee, opening on Tuesday, Sept. 20. Conference week will see many members from Stouffville and of course all the ministers wending their way to the Kitchener area.

Stouffville was lashed by a terrific thunder and hail storm on Wednesday afternoon. While no appreciable damage resulted, a virtual cloudburst descended on town, turning the streets into rivers and filling eavestroughs with hailstones in a matter of minutes. Only lightning damage recorded was at the Don Lewis home in the Mill St. area. Lightning entered the home along the clothes line, shattering the house wiring, springing the window frame out of place, and completely welding the clothes line to the pulley. Only a short distance east no rain fell at all, nor did Markham receive the storm to the south.

Ordination Ceremony Coming

On Sunday, Sept. 18, an interesting and impressive ceremony will be performed in Stouffville United Missionary Church, when Mr. Jake Reesor will be ordained as a deacon. Rev. P. J. Lehman, district superintendent, will officiate. It is many years since such a ceremony has been witnessed in the Stouffville church, since the obligations of a deacon have been efficiently carried out by Deacon Ab. Stouffer, who because of his advancing age, finds that he is unable to attend the duties of this important office. Mr. Reesor will be expected to carry on the active work, although Mr. Stouffer will remain in office, since it is a policy and rule of the church that the office of deacon is a lifetime appointment.

E. A. Grubin, R.O., optometrist, will be at his office in Stouffville on Monday, Sept. 12th.

Apple butter was sold on the Toronto and Kitchener markets last week at 35c a pint. This is a good price and should induce makers to work their cider presses overtime.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Klinck returned last week from an extended trip to the west coast, where they visited at the home of his brother, Dr. L. S. Klinck, Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Nolan accompanied by Mrs. Nolan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Williamson of Markham, left on a motor trip Thursday, to North Bay and Ottawa. While in the capital the party will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Clark, formerly of Stouffville.

Oil Burners Can Stick

Many homes in Stouffville are heated by oil burners, and these should take warning to what happened in Toronto one night last week. In the city four fires were started when oil burners came on for the first time since last spring, and two additional fires are reported from Forest Hill village from the same cause. Persons with oil burning equipment would do well to try out the system after the long summer of inactivity, and not leave it to chance for them to start perhaps when nobody is in the home. Many home owners take the precaution to turn off the electricity at the furnace during the summer, and this is wise, since a sudden dip in the temperature could start the furnace when nobody is about to see that some kind of stickiness or other might prevent the mechanism from functioning properly.

Since our last issue the society has captured one second and one first prize on floral basket displays entered on specified days of the show. This week still more honors may come the way of the Stouffville society, all of which is certainly praiseworthy for the fine effort and ability displayed by local flower lovers.

What could be a record for this part of the country is the yield of twelve six-quart baskets of ripe fruit from a small peach tree of five or six years growth seen at Mrs. D. McConnachie's in the west end of town. To enhance the beauty of this heavily laden tree, its owner had planted heavenly blue morning glory vines around the trunk, the blooms of which mingled with the rich velvet hue of the sun-ripened peaches was a sight to behold—almost out of this world.

RINGWOOD

Albert Hoover was a Toronto visitor over the weekend. Those attending Port Perry Fair on Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Craeknell, Ralph Kirby, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Grove.

We wonder who the two young ladies were who attended the C.N.E. on Monday, and when leaving the grounds, boarded the wrong bus and landed in Oakville instead of Dickson Hill?

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Forson and son John, visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Forson on Monday.

Attending the bride were her three sisters, Barbara, maid of honor and bridesmaids, Norma and Dorothy, also Jean Nicol. The maid of honor wore pink faille and the bridesmaids were in ice blue faille. They all wore hair bandeaux of pink and white stephanotis and carried pink and white gladioli and stephanotis. Following the reception at the Parish Hall the couple left on a wedding trip to the north. On their return they will reside in Toronto.

The Dundalk Herald is displaying a potato tipping the scales a trifle over two pounds, and grown by a local resident there. We believe that the Ballantrae district could outdo a two pound tuber without much searching, since potatoes are turning up this fall of enormous growth. Now who will back the Dundalk giant off the headlines?
