Before you purchase that new fall suit, see the fine selection of worsteds at F. E. Rae's, tailor, Stouffville.

Miss June Steckley has taken the position in Dr. Neil Smith's dental office vacated by Audrey Jennings who intends to take a nursing course. Miss Jean Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller, is joining the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff at Stouffville this Thursday (today).

Horticultural Meeting

Friday evening, Sept. 23, will be the date of the next open meeting and show for flower lovers. This will be held in the basement of the United Church. Mrs. Win. Timbers will show slides of local interest and some beauty spots of our province. These pictures have been taken by Mrs. Timbers at various places. This will also be your chance to display your autumn bloom. A short prize list will be in next week's issue of The Tribune. Help make it a success with your presence.

Stouffville and district citizens are to enjoy the most and choicest skating they've ever known when the doors of the new artificial ice arena are swung open to the public next month. Minor hockey teams in town also, will enjoy the finest opportunity to develop, as there'll be considerable free time given them when the ice has not been rented for other purposes. If these fine advantages are to be enjoyed by the people of this town and community, without a heavy burden of debt being carried, more shareholders are needed. As a taxpayer in Stouffville, particularly, it's a civic responsibility to invest if it's within your means. The local ratepayers are to enjoy this fine new arena without any tax burden. This arena is being built for you and your young people to enjoy — don't deny your help. Call at the office of McCullough & Button today and sign up for at least one share.

Two hundred and eighty students are registered at Richmond Hill high school this term, indicating a sharp increase while Markham high school is slightly lower than a year ago with an enrolment of 212. Stouffville as previously reported has 193, largest in its history. Uxbridge high school is packed with slightly over 200, hence it would appear that the new school areas with so-called free transportation encourages boys and girls to attend high school. Some will tell you that because of the good times parents are able to keep their children at school longer, but whatever the reason for increased school attendance, the white-collared jobs are being well attended to while the more laborious physical worker is becoming harder and harder to engage. Machinery, of course, has helped to fill his place to a great extent.

Pastor Returns From Overseas To Occupy His Pulpit Sunday

Rev. Douglas Davis is expected to arrive back in Stouffville this Friday flying from England after spending several weeks in his native country along with Mrs. Davis.

The United Church pastor visited his mother in England who is 90 years of age, and that of course was the high point in his holiday abroad.

We are informed that next Monday evening, the 19th, the congregation intend to tender Mr. and Mrs. Davis a home welcoming at a social to be held in the church basement. Next Sunday morning Mr. Davis will occupy his own pulpit again after six weeks absence.

Thanksgiving Day October 10th

It has been the custom for the past several years to observe the second Monday in October as Thanksgiving Day in Canada. An Order-in-Council was recently passed at Ottawa declaring Monday, October 10th, as the day on which Canadians shall give thanks for a bountiful harvest, and the privilege of living in a land of freedom and plenty.

No End to It — We read on a sign south of Gormley the other day these words: "Home made cooking—50 feet."

Alan and Ian Little, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Little of Kettleby, and grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Johnson of Bloomington, captured second place last week in the Baby Show at the C.N.E.

Mr. Jack Smits of Stouffville entered St. Michael's Hospital on Monday of this week where it is understood he may undergo an operation.

Mr. Bert Bell accompanied by daughter Audrey and friend Les Clarke motored to Sinclairville, N.Y. last week where they visited with Mr. Bell's daughter. While in the States, the party visited the Chautauqua County Fair, at Dunkirk, one of the largest fall fairs in the New York area.

The death was announced in Chicago this week of Mrs. (Dr.) Frank Moore, widow of the late Dr. Frank Moore of Chicago, a half century ago. Dr. Moore may be remembered by some of our older residents, as being employed at one time by John Bray, tailor.

Second vice president, Lion Ted Edwards, of the Stouffville Lions Club, was honored at the opening fall meeting of the club on Monday evening, with the presentation of a ten-year charter chevron. Lion Edwards has been most active in Lions work for ten years, being a member of the Leaside club before coming to Stouffville several years ago. Lion President L. C. Murphy presided.

Mr. Elmore Barkey has purchased a building lot on the farm of Mr. George Foote, townline west of Stouffville, and is commencing excavation for a frame dwelling of the Cap Cod style. The location is at the north-west corner of the farm, and the exchange marks only about the third deed ever issued for the Foote farm or any part of its 100 acres, since the crown deed was issued back at the beginning of the last century.

Proprietor Norm Farr of Stouffville Radio Electric will announce shortly the opening of his first branch store in Markham. The new premises will be in the Nighs-wander Block on the east side of Main St. near Church. The Markham Store will be opened for retail sales, and while repair work will be received there, the actual repairs will be done in the store at Stouffville. The big September clearance sale of this electrical centre is continuing this week.

The attendance at Stouffville public school this term which opened last week is normal, with 220 pupils enrolled. Principal Cedric Watson said this was about normal, but there are two oversized classes of more than 40 pupils in each. The teaching staff in addition to Mr. Watson are Mrs. Clayt. Baker, Miss E. Hosie, Miss Gladys Brooks, Miss Kathleen Webster (Udora), Miss Patricia Stallwood, (Toronto).

Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Barker attended the wedding in Toronto last week of Josephine Benson, daughter of the late Mrs. Josephine Meek of Stouffville, and David Fletcher Moffat. The marriage was solemnized in Rosedale United Church, and the reception was held at the Royal York. The bride was a niece of the late Ada McCarthy of this town, and friends were keenly interested in the happy nuptial.

This Visitor Knew How to be Decent

Frantic efforts to oust a visitor from her home on Monday were of little avail when appeals were made to big strong men to come along and lend a hand, until two youths of the town, Lorne Schell and Cliff Harper from Schell's butcher shop volunteered their services much to the relief of Mrs. Jack Epworth, corner Albert Street and Rupert Avenue. Mrs. Epworth early in the day explained the predicament she was in. Mr. Epworth was in Toronto. A little black and white striped animal was sleeping peacefully down in the cellar just behind the steps. She feared he might go berserk at any moment, and she visioned having to move back to their summer cottage at Island Lake for a time. Added to this trouble was the fact that the main hydro fuse had blown and any means of cooking a meal. The fuse box hung on the wall just above the little black and white visitor. "Of all times to blow a fuse," moaned Mrs. Epworth. All morning this situation prevailed, and a plank leading to an open window didn't induce the skunk to run out. However, before the day was over the two lads from the butcher shop appeared with a small box, walked down the cellar steps as the skunk scampered in behind some boxes. Setting the box in a convenient place they urged the skunk to move along and he did this willingly and without re-sentment. Once in the box the lid was closed and the visitor moved outside and sent to the happy hunting ground with a gun shot. Mrs. Epworth declares the little visitor was the most decent skunk she ever heard of. It got into the cellar when a screen was left off after the coal man had been around. The whole affair dispels the notion that skunks are all for distributing their wares for no good reason at all. That this one was capable of doing so was evident only when it was shot, and of course it was duly excused, and had been taken to a safe place in anticipation of just what happened.

The town of Whitby has just established a contract to lay several thousand feet of cement sidewalk at a cost of 30c a foot, and the town will supply the cement.

A new rural Hydro area is being established to be known as the Markdale Area. The manager recently appointed is Don Magee, formerly assistant manager at Uxbridge.

Real Quality Apples this Year

Mr. J. R. Wilkin, proprietor of Greenbrae Orchards, a mile east of Balsam was in town a few days ago, and reports that his big apple acreage is the finest in fruit this year, than almost in any previous year. Spies are beautiful in color and quality, as indeed are all varieties No. 1, Mr. Wilkin says. Owing to the excellent production Greenbrae Orchards are offering to take on new customers in and around Uxbridge, Whitchurch and Markham Townships. Take your own containers and save yourself some money, says the proprietor who announced the various varieties available in this issue of The Tribune.

WEDDINGS

JEMMETT — EMMERSON

Bethesda United Church was decorated with mauve, yellow and bronze dahlias for the wedding of Margaret Evelyn Emmerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Emmerson of Bethesda, and Frederick James Edward Jemmett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jemmett of Toronto, on Sept. 10, at 4 p.m. Rev. R. T. Chapin officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Ruth Atkinson of Bethesda was the organist and accompanied Mrs. Mel Emmerson, sister-in-law of the bride, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white broadcloth organza over white taffeta with a short train and full length veil held in place by a coronet of organza and seed pearls. She carried red roses with fern and wore white sapphire necklace and earrings, the gift of the groom. Miss Florence Barkey of Toronto, as bridesmaid, wore yellow iridescent taffeta with matching coronet and carried yellow and mauve gladioli. Four-year-old Norma Fossket, niece of the groom was flower girl and wore a dress and bonnet of yellow iridescent taffeta with a nosegay of yellow and mauve gladioli. Lewis Jemmett of Toronto was best man. Leland Emmerson, brother of the bride, and Jack Dunham of Toronto were ushers.

The reception was held on the lawn of the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received her guests wearing green tissue faille with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother in royal blue crepe with navy accessories and corsage of white and red roses.

For travelling by plane and train to Victoria, B.C. and spending sometime at Banff, Calgary and Vancouver, the bride wore a dress of dusty rose faille with navy coat and navy accessories. The couple will reside in Toronto.

See F. E. Rae, tailor, Stouffville, about that new fall worster suit.

There's good selection of fall suits and overcoats at F. E. Rae's, tailor.

Mr. Vernon Powell of Columbus recently had a pullet of four months old which laid an egg containing three yolks. With the price of eggs at present it is too bad she could not be educated to work to better advantage for her master.

Local real estate agent Harvey Moyer sold a 150 acre farm near Woodville last week for $8,000. The property belonging to D. C. Clarke of Richmond Hill and the new owner will be David F. Bacon of Oakwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Briard have returned from a delightful vacation of two months spent in Fasset, Quebec, at the summer home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. Gee who reside in Montreal during the winter months. Mr. and Mrs. Briard also made trips into the Laurentians, to Monte Bello and various other places.

Markham village council is considering a new rate for domestic water users, and the matter came up for discussion at the last meeting of the neighboring council. It is an interesting fact that Stouffville and Markham villages have the lowest water rates in the County of York, and since Markham village has an annual expense for pumping it is only natural the rates should be higher than in Stouffville where a gravity water system is operating. It is the opinion of this newspaper that both villages are not getting too big a return from their water system which as a private investment would be worth $100,000 in either village.
