Sunday's downpour of rain during the afternoon, kindly held off until the Remembrance Day parade passed by and the visitors were under cover. There is still a shortage of water in many creeks and wells are not too well supplied, consequently several days of heavy rain would be very beneficial to our needs during the winter season.

You may have your piano tuned by applying at Stouffville Radio Electric, where connection is made with a former Gerhard-Heintzman tuner who is now busy in the Stouffville-Markham area and south of Markham village. This tuner reports to The Tribune that he is receiving a big line of work from this district, which he will continue to service indefinitely.

We hear there are one or two small apartments for rent in town which is unusual, after the house stringency. However, the places that have come to our notice may be taken ere this reaches the street line. Stouffville is a village of low taxes, cheap water, and altogether a delightful place to live. This paper suggests that if you want a place on the board of its municipal council, the annual meeting will be held on Nov. 25. At that time consideration can be given to your wishes.

A Youth Leadership Training School has been conducted in Stouffville United Church for the past five weeks, under the auspices of the rural section of Toronto East Presbytery of the United Church. Four courses of study were provided under the leadership of Rev. Atkinson of Uxbridge; Mr. Stalter of Markham; Miss L. Lapp of Cedar Grove and Rev. Davis. Forty-seven attended the school and 27 wrote the required assignments; 18 received certificates of merit. The closing exercises were conducted last Sunday evening when, despite the heavy rain a good congregation gathered for this service. Mr. Fred Cook of Bradford was the guest speaker and his subject "Unfinished Business" was both timely, stimulating and challenging. These schools are most commendable and most valuable in stemming the tide of irresponsibility and loose living among our young people. We must have good leadership to build character for a better tomorrow.

A well attended meeting of the Garrett Evening Auxiliaries of the United Church, was held last week at the home of Mrs. H. O. Klinck. Mrs. Arthur Wood presided. The devotional service was under the leadership of Miss Margaret Hosie, the theme "God at Work Among Men Through the Holy Spirit." Miss Edna Hoover gave a reading on Christian Stewardship, and Mrs. Charles Neal on Temperance. The third chapter of the study book was reviewed by Miss Ann Lehman. The topic "Enlightening the Mind" told of the encouraging work among the Chinese people under the guidance of Dr. Beeton. A duet was rendered by Mrs. J. M. Storey and Mrs. Edward Nigh, accompanied by Miss Ann Lehman at the piano. Mrs. Claude Brillinger accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Gayman, sang several numbers appropriate to the seasons, as the members contributed their birthday offering. A vote of thanks to those contributing to the program was expressed by Mrs. Herbert Lee, and closed the meeting with prayer. Lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

Dr. S. T. Bodendistel who has hobbled many a horse for one reason or another is himself hobbling about these days. All because he twisted his ankle in some manner while doing some professional work on an animal in the stall. The twist tore the ligament, necessitating the foot being placed in a cast for several weeks.

Mr. Elias Hoover, O'Brien avenue resident, has made a remarkable recovery from a severe paralytic attack which left him quite helpless for weeks. Mr. Hoover is much improved now, enjoys his meals, and listens to the news read to him from The Tribune each week. One of our longest standing citizens everybody is interested in his progress to normal health again.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson, former residents, now living in Shelbourne, were in town on Sunday visiting friends, and while here toured our new Stouffville Arena. A new Arena has just been completed in Shelbourne, and Dr. Wilson aided a delegation of local men in obtaining information on their arena while it was under construction last summer.

The Tribune is in receipt of a letter from a shareholder of the Stouffville Arena Limited, which is not published because the author failed to make known his or her identity, a long-standing condition of any newspaper when the author is making an attack on an individual or company, or business firm. If this information is forthcoming, the communication will appear in our next issue.

"Look After My Frog" The Renfrew Mercury reports an incident worth croaking about. The other day a lad was sent to a grocery store in Renfrew for some goods, obtained his purchase and went home. Then he remembered he had left a can on the counter and since it was quite a distance to the store from his home he phoned the grocer and said, "I was in your store an hour ago and left my glass jar with my frog in it on the counter. I can't come back before you close up. Would you catch some flies and feed him until tomorrow when I can pick him up." The paper didn't say, but no doubt the merchant was accommodating and looked after the frog all right.

Annual Commencement Exercises The annual High School Commencement will be held next week on Nov. 24-25 in the Legion Hall. Principal L. C. Murphy says the program this year will be well up to the high standard expected. There will be a play entitled, "Birdseye View of Mabel." The valedictory address will be delivered by Mary Grove, and other items presented will include musical numbers, pyramids, and of course the presentation of diplomas will be made. Set aside either Thursday or Friday evening next week for the High School entertainment.

Fred Campbell, deputy district Governor of Zone 13, Lions International, made his official visit to the Stouffville Club on Monday evening. Fred Campbell has been a most active member of the local Lions Club for some years, and has served terms as secretary. In his address Lion Campbell praised the achievements of his local club, their influence for good in the community, and called for effort in new fields such as more industry for our town. While he stated that many of the improvements he advocated did not come directly under Lions activities, the Lions civic improvement committee could take the lead in promoting and suggesting to municipal authorities concerning these improvements. The District Deputy was introduced by Lion Douglas Davis and a motion of thanks was called by Lion Chas. Nolan. Two new members, Wally Nicholson and Lloyd Brown were installed into membership by Lion Campbell. Vice-President Lion Ted Edwards conducted the supper meeting in the absence of President Lion L. C. Murphy.

Nursery-Kindergarten News

One morning last week eight civic-minded people visited Stouffville station. They entered the waiting-room, asked if the train was on time and quietly seated themselves. The people already waiting for the train evidenced great interest in this group. It was serious and self-controlled. The conversation was mostly concerned with absorbing impressions and facts to be translated into creative activity back at the nursery-kindergarten. The onlookers were surprised and impressed, for this was a group of five-year-old children from the Stouffville Nursery-Kindergarten. They were planning a work project about the station. As the train pulled in the group with the teacher went out to the platform. The children eagerly watched the mail and freight being unloaded and the passengers disembarking. They held a most enjoyable conversation with the conductors and promised that when their station project was finished they would take it down to show to the crew. After the train left and the signals were changed the children paid a visit to the station master and his wife and small grand-daughter. Then they returned to the school.

With coloured paper, paste, scissors and crayons the group worked on a picture of their experience. It now occupies a prominent place in the playroom. They are now planning a trip back to the station with the finished project. There will also be other such educational experiences planned for the future.

Perhaps you and your neighbour have seen this group on such a tour and wondered about it. These little folk are the future citizens of Stouffville—of the world. They are going to be the planners and peacemakers of the 1970's. The trip described is a first step in learning how to plan together, work together and play together. These children, in a period of pre-school training are becoming well-adjusted, self-controlled members of our society at the level of their own speed of development and growth. They are learning to consider the well-being of the group

REV. G. B. JOHNSON FORMER MARKHAM AND UNIONVILLE PASTOR

Funeral services for Rev. George Isaac Bray Johnson, 73, rector of St. Saviour's Anglican church for 25 years, who died Sunday at his home, Richmond Hill, were held at St. Saviour's church. Interment was in St. John's Norway cemetery.

Active in the ministry of the Anglican church for 40 years, Mr. Johnson retired officially six years ago but continued to serve the church. A graduate of Trinity college, he engaged in missionary work in Stanhope and Maple Lake, Haliburton, while a student.

During World War II, Mr. Johnson took charge of the parish of King, Maple and Oak Ridges in the absence of the rector who was on chaplaincy duty. After his ordination in 1906, he was appointed rector of Scarborough and was responsible for the building of St. Margaret's Church, West Hill.

He subsequently served as rector of Unionville, Sunderland and Markham. After he became rector of St. Saviour's church in 1917 the parish hall was built.

Pennies Still Rolling In

Reports on old or ancient pennies still are rolling in to the office of this paper. Maurice Eby, 6th concession of Markham, possesses a penny dated 1814 which he found under an old log building on the Eby farm. Incidentally, the farm itself has been deeded in the family since 1802, and therefore constitutes one of the longest holdings to remain in a family in Markham Township.

and know that if each person wishes to be an accepted member of that group he must discipline himself and accept the rules of good group activity.

Nursery-kindergarten is not a place where a mother leaves her child to play for an hour or two. It is a place of education and guidance for the children, under trained supervision. Learning is fun because it is always fun to learn within one's own age group.

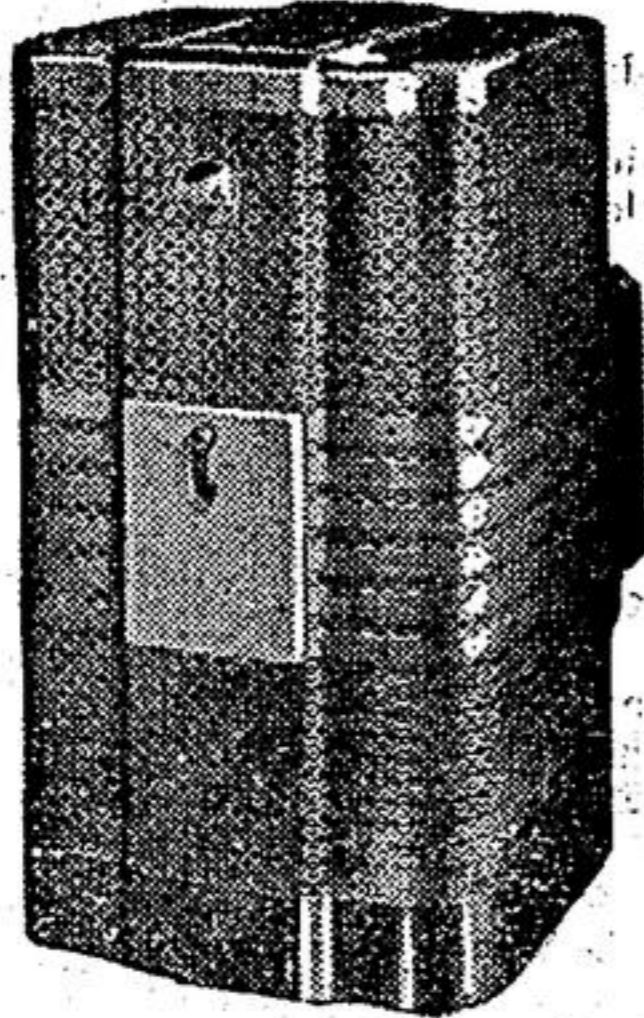

Would you like to know more about our day-to-day program and to learn of the principles of pre-school education? Well, meet us again in this column next week.
