Markham has come up this season with three sets of brothers in their hockey roster, the Scotts, the Rumeys and the Forgies.

Waterloo has been granted a franchise to operate a Junior 'A' club next season.

The O.H.A. voted a grant of $5,000 to the Hospital for Sick Children. Total receipts of the O.H.A. last year were $38,063.13.

Vic Sluce of Markham Millionaires who was injured in the game with Staffords on Friday night, will soon be back in the lineup as his shoulder was not fractured, Ray revealed.

George Sallis was noticeably slowed up on Monday night due to muscle injury he sustained at Lindsay Saturday night. Aussie Baker is also still on the injured list.

West Yorks who will provide the opposition for Markham here Friday night are the only team which has defeated Toronto Staffords to date, so their lineup should really be something.

Thornhill Midgets vs. Stouffville Midgets turned the Friday night hockey into a doubleheader last week.

Free skating each Tuesday afternoon for beginners only is being appreciated, also on Saturday afternoon for those 12 years and under. Curling began on Wednesday by the local club.

After finishing exams in Toronto, Reg Singleton rushed out to take part in the last period of the Millionaire-Stafford game on Friday night.

A delegation from Burlington visited the new arena last week and were much pleased with what they saw. Burlington is in the market for a new arena.

Ted Quackenbush who was one of the stalwarts with Toronto Staffords playing here last Friday night is a brother of Bill Quackenbush of the Boston Bruins. Jim O'Mara, another member of the club had a try with the Leafs a few seasons ago.

The Clippers dropped a close 2-1 decision to Toronto Meteors in Lindsay on Saturday night. While the local squad had the big portion of territorial play they just couldn't turn the trick. Minton and Drummond missed a half dozen loyal chances to score in the last period, but were beaten at the goal mouth.

Jackie McLeod, nephew of Bert Bell of Stouffville is expected to presently sign a pro hockey contract with New York Rangers. Jack has been playing Junior 'A' hockey with Moose Jaw Canucks, and his sister has been visiting in Stouffville at the Bell home for some time.

The Trolley League with Newmarket, Intermediate 'A', Sutton, Bradford and Aurora, Intermediate 'B' and Navy Vets Sr. 'B' and East Coast Sr. 'B' have been taken into the O.H.A. fold. Which ever team is highest in the standing on Feb. 15th will be the league representative in the O.H.A.

No better ice anywhere, in fact many not nearly so good, is the compliment being paid Manager Ken Laushway and his staff at the local ice palace, Toronto clubs, the Oshawa Skating Club and the Inde Refrigeration engineer are high in their praise. One of the big tricks in artificial ice-making, is keeping the ice thin enough, not more than two and a half inches. Stouffville ice has been kept to half this measure to date, and presents a sparkling glazed sheet for each night's activities.

As winter closes in, the local boys who are unable to make the organized Senior or Intermediate teams are looking hopefully to the Youth Leagues and Inter Community Leagues to provide their hockey entertainment for the coming months. A meeting is being planned in Markham this week and all players are welcome to attend. Peaches, who were talking about forming a team this year, are still undecided as yet. They have plenty of prospective players willing to don the blades and don't seem surprised if the "red" and "yellow" doesn't roam the ice as well as the baseball diamond this winter.

Clippers Clip Mayfairs 6-3

Stouffville Clippers broke their losing jinx on Monday night, downing Toronto Mayfair Sr. 6-3. Spotting the visitors a one goal lead in the opening stanza, the Clippers took over in the mid period and clinched the count 3-0. George Sallis who has been on the Oshawa and Stratford Jr. 'A' roster this season counted, followed with goals, Crouch from Hochberg and Jackie Thomas alone. Mayfairs countered with two goals, when the local defence was lax in clearing.

The last twenty minutes saw Stouffville flip the red light three times, Thomas getting his second goal of the night on a pass from Minton. Minton himself added another from Hochberg's pass, and Hochberg and Bradbury combining for goal number six.

Gord Lewis has replaced Jack Drummond on the line with Minton and Thomas, Drummond taking over Southworth's spot with Bobby Hopper, Don Campbell, another of last year's Clippers back in harness, was again on defence, and will team up with Hochberg, Rose and Baker.

Jack Harper was superb in the local net. Harper has taken over the regular goal spot when Joe Irvine was found to be ineligible.

Mrs. Broda Takes Turk's Weight Problem Seriously

They laughed at Walter (Turk) Broda when Managing Director Conn Smythe benched the rotund Toronto Maple Leaf goaltender and ordered him to lose some weight. But Mrs. Broda didn't think it was funny.

And while many fans laughed at the battle of Broda's bulge, others gave out with sympathy for the National Hockey League's oldest player as he attempted to meet Smythe's ultimatum.

They were members of the quiet fraternity of stylish stouts who know that poundage doesn't necessarily come from laziness or over-eating.

Has His Worries They also know the 35-year-old one-time boy wonder from Brandon, Man. will find it tough to keep down to Mgr. Conn Smythe's prescription of 190.

Mrs. Broda didn't crack a smile as she told a reporter of Turk's dietary troubles.

The big fellow, worried over what the extra weight might do to his reflexes, has been dieting for weeks, she said. To spare his feelings, the entire family does without fattening desserts, except for the occasional treat for Turk's two little daughters.

Gets No More Milk "He hardly eats a darn thing now—has the smallest appetite in the house," Mrs. Broda added. "I can't remember when he last ate bread or potatoes around here and he seldom eats breakfast."

Of course, Turk has to take a certain amount of food if he wants to last through a hockey game. His big meal generally consists of a steak, non-fattening vegetables and milk.

Mrs. Broda's contributions to the solution of Turk's troubles are cutting off the milk and substitution of a nice long walk for his after-dinner nap. She hopes a few stiff gymnasium sessions will do the rest.

Stouffville Part of Big Seven Senior OHA Group

Travelling Aplenty But Plenty of Variety in Opposition—Yonge St. Boundary Rule to Stand

Stouffville, Markham, Toronto Meteors, Varsity Grads, Collingwood, Midland and Orillia will be the Senior Hockey group to entertain the fans here this winter. The O.H.A. will draw up the schedule to open Dec. 15th. While the travelling element may not be to local liking, it will be a good group so far as size and competition is concerned.

The O.H.A. executive broke the news to Markham and Stouffville, at a special meeting in Toronto on Monday.

The OHA chiefs all announced that they are standing pat on their ruling which bars either Stouffville or Markham from drawing players west of Yonge St.

Stouffville dropped their only two ineligible players a couple of weeks ago when the rule was announced. Markham is hardest hit by the regulation, as it means lopping off three of their defence stalwarts, George and Fred Scott and Dick Perry, who are not eligible as the rule stands.

The only alternative is for Markham to bring these players into residence by Dec. 15th, according to the OHA. If this alternative is granted Markham, Stouffville is demanding that it also be granted them, since the local representative pointed out to the OHA that both clubs are using Stouffville ice, and playing and practising under similar conditions, regardless of the fact that Markham will resort to natural ice later in the season.

Whether or not both clubs will be privileged to bring in players from west of Yonge St. as residents by Dec. 15th remains to be seen. Last word from the OHA was, "it will be considered."

Stouffville's lineup has been set up without these outsiders, but naturally Markham is very anxious for the concession since its three questionable players have been regulars for many years.

Staffords Trim Millionaires 6-3

On Friday night Staffords of the Toronto Mercantile League stepped into town and handed Markham a 6-3 setback. The loss was the first in eight starts for the Millionaires. The Toronto squad put on a dazzling display of skating which improved as the game progressed.

Staffords scored first in the opening period with Junkin beating Stunden unassisted. Bell then evened things up for Markham on a pass from J. Rumney midway through the first. McKelvie of Staffords put his team in the lead to stay and ended the scoring for the opening twenty minutes of play. In the second period the boys kept up the fast skating pace with only one goal being scored, that by Omara of Staffords to put the Queen City boys two up.

With only one period remaining Markham tried to get back on even terms once more as Mac Clement let go with an easy shot which Bates in the visitors net fanned on completely. Staffords then replied with two more, Chipman and Omara scoring respectively. Singleton arriving late in the game kept up his scoring spree as he blinked the light assisted by Bell for the Millionaires' final goal. Saddler of Staffords then equalled that marker on a pass from Quakenbush.

Vic Sluce had to retire to the dressing room with a sprained arm and watched the final period from the sidelines. Perry, Watson and Mihroy are still on the injured list although Jack is expected back in action very soon. The two Junior players of last year, Stun-

Locals May Be Headed For Good Year in OMHA

With at least two minor teams, Juvenile and Midget underway with separate coaches and managers, and the possibility of a third minor squad, it looks like a big year for local OMHA teams in Stouffville.

To add further interest for the youngsters playing hockey here, local promoter Jim Austin has been appointed convener for this area following a meeting in Whitby last week of about 65 coaches, referees and managers.

This annual 'rules forum' was of particular interest to O.M.H.A. referees and most of the time was spent on an exhaustive examination of the 81 rules in the book. N.H.L. official George Hayes of Ingersoll dealt with 69 questions commonly asked by referees and he answered many questions pertaining to them which were put by the audience.

President of the association, Otto Hardwick was present and gave a few remarks.

"We had 13,000 players registered last year," he said. "This association has now become big business in the hockey realm. It is up to you referees to keep the play clear of penalties."

Mr. Kinchuslar outlined the duties of a good coach which include losing a game in a sportsmanlike way.

"The O.M.H.A. intends to stamp out all rough play. A serious effort is being made to do this," he said referring to the last rule in the book which allows the referee to penalize anything he considers unnecessary roughness.

Bert Hick of Lindsay reviewed the duties of a team manager and took occasion to compliment Gordon Hawes of Whitby for his courtesy to a visiting team upon one occasion. In his acknowledgments he also mentioned unusual courtesy and co-operation from Dr. G. W. Lindsey of Whitby.

O.M.H.A. secretary Jack Christie of Toronto told the meeting that they should be familiar with the special rules which differ from other hockey rules. He outlined certain points of importance to referees.

Representatives were present from a large district embracing Oshawa, Port Perry, Lindsay, Whitby, Brooklin, Stouffville, and other points.

den and Clement, showed up well. Mac scored one goal and led many dangerous rushes into the enemy zone while Norm made some miraculous saves in the Markham cage.

The passing plays perfected by the Mercantile leaders around the net were nothing short of dazzling even when shorthanded.
