BALSAM AND MOUNT ZION

Quite a number from here attended the commencement exercises of Claremont High School last Thursday and Friday nights. Much credit is given the teachers and pupils for their fine performance.

Miss Myrna Jones is home from her school duties suffering from the mumps.

Misses Eileen and Luella Carson, Marion and Evelyn Disney attended the trousseau tea in Toronto on Saturday for Miss Doreen Hart.

Glenn Evans of Claremont spent the weekend with Grant, Murray and Ronald Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilson and family visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Pugh at Uxbridge.

Mrs. Winton White spent the weekend with her daughter Mrs. Frank Grey at Agincourt.

Next Sunday there will be a special missionary program in connection with the Sunday School at 1:30 p.m.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Jones who celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, March 14th.

Mrs. Reg. Hoskins and daughters visited last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kingsmill, at London.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jones attended the funeral of her uncle, Mr. Thomas Oliver, at Uxbridge on Monday.

AUDLEY

George and Mrs. Bamsey of London visited with Arch and Mrs. Bell over the weekend. Arch Bell of Saskatchewan who formerly lived here is visiting relatives in Ontario.

Many of our farmers attended the Seed Fair at Brooklin on Saturday last. Frank Westney won 1st and 2nd on his Barboff Barley, W. H. Westney won 1st on his registered Beaver Oats, while Frank Wonnacott won 1st on his Clinton Oats in the junior and in the general section. F. M. Chapman won 4th on his Ajax oats.

Mack and Mrs. Hedge are preparing to move on to their farm here which he has recently purchased from Chas. Puckrin.

Bob and Mrs. Von Pils of the No. 2 highway were visitors in the vicinity on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Secord who have been living in the Corrie cottage are moving to the city. He is a student in the University.

Mrs. Churchyard spent Saturday in Toronto.

Some of our farmers attended the meeting of the Federation of Agriculture at Brougham on Tuesday last. This organization is the main one for all the farmers of Canada to get together and make their needs known. There seems a disposition on the part of some interested parties to force down the price of milk. Many of our dairymen who have been buying hay and other feeds this winter at high prices do not take kindly to a move to lower prices now when they have a chance to get a little back from grass pastures. Food prices generally are often the subject of attack from consumers many of whom are getting larger wages than they ever did. Unless the producers get together to protect their rights just as effectively as are those people who are demanding pensions at 65, pay on holidays, severance pay, and all the possible other securities against want and lack of thrift. Food price would be given a square deal by the workers especially.

GORMLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Crowder of Markham were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eade.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pannabacker of Kitchener had Sunday evening supper with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hunt and Ruth.

A very fine congregation enjoyed the service at the United Missionary Church on Sunday afternoon sponsored by the Emmanuel Bible College group from Kitchener.

Mrs. Allan Doner is spending a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Gooding and Carol of Utterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jan Falkowski are the first ones in our community to enjoy television in their home. We understand Mr. Metro Sudeyko is interested in selling these sets in this district.

Miss Beula Heise was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Heise of Victoria Square for a few days last week.

From Where I Sit

by

Ray Marshall

The writing is on the wall. It is there for all to see. For the past few weeks I have been giving you a review of the poultry situation. The situation today is still unchanged and Government reports just released would indicate that chick sales are even lower than I had forecast. What does this mean to you?

The floor price was placed under eggs last January and everyone expected that the Government would be stuck with a large quantity of storage eggs next fall. At the time of writing it would appear that they will have no eggs on their hands nor anyone else. The lower egg prices have been an incentive to the house wife to use more eggs, with the result that instead of huge piles of eggs going into storage they are practically all being eaten fresh.

What will be the egg situation next fall? I do not pretend to be a prophet, but it would appear to me now, that with little storage eggs and a 30% decrease in chick sales, a shortage will develop. It was thought for a while that we could import eggs from the U.S.A. if necessary, but almost every state in the union is hatching from 10 to 25% less chicks. They are likely to be short also. So if we import, it will have to be at a high price.

The consumer does not like prices to fluctuate to any degree. She does not like eggs to soar during the summer months, but how can we overcome it? I do not know. As long as farmers buy heavy one year and then very light the next, this condition will continue.

From where I sit, I can foresee two types of farmers next summer and fall. One will have poultry and eggs to sell and the other will not. The first is going to be very satisfied and happy, the other is not. I believe the one who is not, will find that he chose to stay out the one year that he should have stayed in.

We have just recently published a new book entitled "The Secret in Out." This book has been well received and a great many compliments have come our way. This book can be had free of charge by dropping us a card or letter. It is up to the minute on all our new enterprises and is well illustrated. If anyone wonders about our faith in the future of the poultry industry, I would answer it this way: read our new book or just come over and visit our new "one hundred thousand dollar" processing plant. It is my belief that the poultry industry is just beginning to grow and that the future will see greater development than the past has ever known.

On Wednesday evening last the neighbors, friends, and relatives of Miss Esther Davis met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Goudie for a social evening. All enjoyed the evening playing games and a presentation of a tri-light floor lamp and a clothes hamper was made to Esther in recognition of her various duties in the community. Mr. O. Madill was master of ceremonies. Refreshments were served. We wish Esther health and success in her new surroundings. Joyce Lewis is the little guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Slack, Stouffville.
