In renewing his subscription to The Tribune for the next two years Dr. Gilbert Richardson, one of the Stouffville old boys who maintains a keen interest in the town and district is kind enough to write from his home at 1076 Kingston Road: "We enjoy your weekly paper. Your ability to express in printed words, make the reading pleasant and interesting." Dr. Richardson owns the Lloyd Turner farm at the east end of the village, and has frequently entertained the members of the York County Medical Association to lawn parties there in summer season.

Optometrist Opens New Office

In an announcement in this issue of The Tribune Mr. E. A. Grubin, R.O., Optometrist of Picton and Stouffville has announced his association with Mr. Edward Bind, R.O. of Oshawa.

Mr. Bind is a veteran of the R.C.A.F. who was shot down over Germany and remained a prisoner until the end of the war. He is married and has a young daughter. His natural humour kept the morale of the shipwrecked passengers and crew high until their rescue. He was an instructor for many years at the College of Optometry of Ontario.

Mr. Arthur Latham of Toronto was in town a few days ago making arrangement for work to start on his proposed new bungalow to be built on Rupert Avenue, west end, immediately west of Mr. Truman Baxter's residence.

Judging from reports coming from down in Scarborough there are plenty of snags in the new 60 cycle hydro, hence we may be fortunate that Markham Rural and Stouffville were not chosen for the first changeover. The troubles encountered will, we hope, be ironed out before work commences in this district this coming fall.

If you haven't bought a ticket yet for the big Minstrel Show in Veterans' Hall this Friday night, do so now from any member of the Lions Club. You'll get a real laugh out of this two and a half hour show. The boys have some new gags, and lots of the hit songs of the day.

Some lads in the west end, intending no real harm, threw a fire cracker into the sun room at the home of Mr. James Ridout. Mrs. Ridout went out and picked it up off a mat. It was smouldering, and might have caused a fire to start. Firecrackers can be very dangerous, especially if given to youngsters to play with.

Mr. Charlie Reynolds, farmer east of town, and son of Mr. Fred Reynolds of our village, reports the return of a white robin to his acreage again this spring. The robin has been coming for several years every spring, and of course is easily distinguishable, because of its white plumage instead of the standard red breasted species.

Old Fair Grounds Active Building Sight

Building lots on the Lloyd subdivision are nearly all sold, and building will be renewed with vigor this summer. We understand that Howard Haynes, Robert Ratcliff, Lloyd Turner, and Lloyd Ham are now staking out ready for foundation work shortly. Many of our readers will remember the Lloyd sub-division as the old town park south of the C.N.R. station. We believe it had a race track, and was also the scene of many a lacrosse battle.

A few local anglers are looking forward to the opening date for trout fishing next Saturday.

Christopher Nicholls of Uxbridge died in Toronto General Hospital on Sunday, and was buried in Uxbridge cemetery on Tuesday. He was born on a farm east of Uxbridge, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Nicholls, and is survived by four sisters.

The Doukhobor problem could be solved by settling the Sons of Freedom somewhere well within the Arctic regions where they couldn't set fire to igloos and it wouldn't be comfortable enough to disrobe according to an opinion of one of our prominent west end residents.

Stores in Stouffville will remain open every Tuesday evening from May 1st to September 30th, according to a ruling of the proprietors at a business meeting last week. This summer schedule is in accordance with the opening time of other years, and apparently is appreciated by the general public, since Tuesday evening opening is usually a big night in town during the summer, rivaling the Saturday evening business here.

ANNOUNCEMENT

A year ago I endeavoured to establish a full time Optometrical Office in my home town of Stouffville, as I was unable to spare more time from my Picton Office to properly take care of the increasing volume of work. An associate whom I contacted at that time desired to look over other locations and therefore was unavailable at that time. Also suitable office space was not available.

Fortunately the situation has now changed. I have obtained a fine office over Snowball's Barber Shop in the former Monkhouse Tailor Shop. I have an associate in whom I have the utmost confidence, Mr. Edward Bind, R.O., of Oshawa, who is a veteran of the RCAF.

I have decided that the establishment of a full time optometrical practice with head office in Stouffville is impractical at the present time. However, Mr. Bind will be at our Office regularly for a full day every week and any evening by appointment, and I will be here as frequently as formerly. With both a first of the week and any evening of the week appointment service, we hope to give you the best optometrical service possible. We expect our Markham Office will be opened very shortly for the convenience of residents of Markham and vicinity.

Appointments with Mr. Bind for two or more may be arranged for any evening in the week at our Stouffville Office by phoning Oshawa 4221-W and reversing the charge.

To those whom I had the pleasure of serving in the past, some for as long as 22 years, I would suggest that if and when the necessity arises, during my absence, that you consult Mr. Bind who you will find to be a really fine fellow. Mr. Bind's father was an instructor of mine at college 25 years ago.

Commencing with Monday, May 1st, our Stouffville Office will be open every Monday from 9.00 a.m. to 9.00 p.m. My visits will be announced as formerly, in the Tribune and Markham Economist and Sun.
