RINGWOOD

Having served as correspondent since Mr. Nolan acquired The Tribune twenty-eight years ago, your Ringwood reporter is deeply grieved over the sudden passing of our editor, whose warm personal friendship, as well as challenging leadership in the public interest, has always been very highly valued. We extend the sincere sympathy of our entire community to his bereaved family.

Mr. Floyd Shank of Detroit, has been visiting his uncle Mr. Albert Hoover.

The Excelsior Class held their April meeting at Mrs. Walter Piper's on Thursday afternoon of last week. Mrs. Chapin of Melville was guest speaker, bringing a challenging and much appreciated message.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam. Barkey and family moved from the Halsted home to his father's farm near Mongolia, on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Roy Moyer from Dixon Hill brought a splendid missionary message to our Endeavour meeting on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan. Filyer of Simcoe called on relatives here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burkholder were Sunday guests with their daughter, Mrs. Jake Baker of Baker Hill.

Mrs. Nelson Chapman of Uxbridge, Mrs. John Lee, and Mr. Ed. Barkey of Stouffville, called on Mr. and Mrs. Truman Grove on Sunday.

PAIR HURT IN CAR ON WAY TO HOSPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Reid were going to the hospital in Brampton anyway when it happened.

They were going for a routine health check. Then Mr. Reid's coat caught in the steering wheel and the car went into a ditch on No. 47 Highway two miles south of Uxbridge.

They had their examination—plus treatment for head injuries.

Local and Personal Happenings

Mrs. Ault. Burkitt of Oakville, was a weekend visitor with Miss Jane Burkitt.

Frank "Massie" Mowder, local paint brush artist here for many years remains in a precarious state of health at his home on Church Street.

Mr. Lambert Malloy of Stouffville, and teacher at Leaside, is in Wellesley Hospital for a couple of weeks under medical care. He was ill for three weeks before going to the hospital.

Mr. H. J. Malloy, Stouffville, who was forced to bed for a few days last week through ill health, is up and about again, friends will be pleased to learn.

The Stouffville I.O.O.F. held their last euchre of this season on Friday evening. These euchres have been well attended and many valuable prizes were given to the winners. The proceeds have been going towards the cancer, polio and T.B. fund.

Rev. Douglas Davis was the visiting minister last Sunday at Zephyr on the occasion of a special re-dedication service following the re-decorating of the church. Rev. C. Fockler of Markham occupied the pulpit in the Stouffville United Church in his absence.

A number of ladies of the local United Church Evening Auxiliary visited the Aurora society on Tuesday evening, and provided a portion of the program.

The Hobbycraft classes which have been carried on at the High School during the winter months, ended last week. We understand the art class, which was one of the largest and was under the able direction of Arnold Hodgkins of Toronto, is planning a trip to the country for an afternoon of sketching and a picnic supper, as soon as the weatherman makes up his mind that spring is here to stay.

The Canadian Girls in Training held their annual Mother and Daughter Banquet in the United Church basement last Monday evening. Mrs. S. W. Hastings was the guest speaker and built up a most interesting talk around the quotation "Ye are the salt of the earth." There were about ninety members and mothers present.

Funeral service was held in Ottawa on Saturday afternoon for the late William Davey, brother of Walter Davey, former correspondent of this newspaper, and the late Edw. Davey of Stouffville, who passed away suddenly at his brother's home, 8 Stanton Ave., Toronto, on Wednesday, April 26th. William Davey was born in Goodwood, and will be remembered by some of our elder citizens as a member of the once-flourishing Goodwood brass band. He was a printer by trade, and spent the greater part of his life in Ottawa. He is survived by his widow, the former Olivia Caldwell, one daughter Evelyn (Mrs. H. Gordon) of Ottawa, and two sons, William and John of Montreal. He was in his 80th year.

Among the last communications received by the late editor-in-chief of this newspaper was a prized letter from Beverley Baxter, member of the British House of Commons.

54 Hamilton Terrace,

Dear Sir,

Among the cuttings sent to me recently from Canada was one from your newspaper.

I am very glad to learn from it that you are still in harness and ministering to the people of Stouffville with, I am sure, unbroken energy and undiminished wisdom.

I remember your visit to London when I was Editor-in-Chief of the Daily Express and I hope that some of these days you will come over and see us again. This time, however, I will have to receive you at the House of Commons.

In the meantime my kindest regards,

Yours sincerely,
Beverley Baxter.

Last Thursday evening an audience of 8,000 gathered in Varsity Arena to witness the graduation exercises of the Toronto Bible College. Nearly 200 students formed a choir and under the leadership of Cyril Redford rendered some beautiful singing. Instrumental music on the platform with the choir was from three pianos played by graduates.

Fifty-one students received diplomas and certificates from President E. G. Baker. Best known graduate was Marion C. Newby, Negro contralto, who has been singing to Toronto and district audiences for several years. Many in Stouffville will remember her impressive singing when the college choir first sang here. Miss Newby has accepted a position at the college to teach singing and in time hopes to take up radio work as a gospel singer.

It is expected that 65 percent of this year's graduates will go into full time service as missionaries, pastors and deaconesses, while the remaining will do lay work at home.

Mrs. Delos Brown and daughter Susan of Colbourne are visiting Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Stover.

Stouffville Lions Club will attend the regular meeting of the Markham Club this Thursday night in the Anglican Church, Unionville. Stouffville Lions Club fostered the Markham-Unionville club some years ago, and will attend on Thursday in a body for the first time.

It seems to be necessary every spring to issue a warning to boys and girls that it is against the village bylaw to ride a bicycle on the sidewalk. Those who persist in doing so are liable to be fined, and if they run into someone, that is sure to happen. Youngsters have been getting so brazen that they actually crowd pedestrians off walks. This little news item is a mere tip to those concerned.

Work commenced this week on the foundation of the first of four new residences which it is expected will be erected on Lloyd Ave. this summer. Sod was turned for the Lloyd Ham house just north of Geo. Allison's on the east side of the street. A basement is also going in on Main St. on the site of the former Morrin home just east of International Motors. The Morrin property was purchased by Chas. Brown who erected a new home on a lot there last year.

The Stouffville Women's Institute will sponsor the campaign in Stouffville for the current Salvation Army Drive. A door-to-door canvas will be made commencing May 22nd. Contributions may also be left at Riches Hardware. Sr. Major D. Snowden, public relation representative for the Army was in town on Tuesday of this week making the necessary arrangements.

Saskatoon Quakers offered Owen Sound's Tommy Burlington $6,200 to return to the prairies to play hockey. Two N.H.L. clubs are seeking to sponsor a junior 'A' team in Kitchener. One of them is Les Canadiens. There's a feeling in some quarters that Toronto Marlboros senior hockey club will play in an eastern circuit next winter, but there's also a humor that Conny Smythe is willing to back another team in the senior O.H.A. loop, possibly in London, Ont., to provide an outlet for his surplus players.

The Shawinigan Falls Cataracts of the Quebec Senior Hockey League may become a "farm" team of the Detroit Red Wings, it was reported last week. Theo Racette, general manager of Shawinigan Arena, admitted he had broached the idea to Manager Jack Adams of Detroit last month. Marcel Pronovost, Larry Wilson and Johnny Wilson all came originally from the Shawinigan team.

Approximately $550 was raised by the Stouffville Lions Club in the recent Easter seal campaign for the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. Lion Dr. S. T. Bodendistel was chairman of the campaign.

The Stouffville Constable and municipal council members are frequently in receipt of anonymous postcards and letters complaining over various law infractions, and they wish it made known that unless such communications are signed by the ratepayers they will be disregarded entirely.

Wine and White Prom.

The Stouffville High School is holding a semi-formal dance in the high school on Friday evening, May 5th. Music will be provided by the Legionaires. Admission $2.00 a couple. Dancing 8.30 to 12.30.

Pupils Win Honours

Piano pupils from the Stouffville studio of Mr. T. W. Eagleson, A.T. C.M., R.M.T. were successful in winning over fifty dollars in prize money at the recent Youth for Christ music festival held in Stouffville. Every pupil who entered won a prize. Winners included—Barbara Hastings, Shirley Spence, Louise Clarke, Gloria Hood, JoAnne Bodendistel and Gladys Ratcliff.

CAMPAIGN SPEAKER

Rev. John Linton, B.A., of Wheaton, Illinois who will be the speaker at the special evangelistic services to be held this summer in the Stouffville Arena, from August 20th until Sept. 3rd.

Friends will be interested to learn that Mrs. W. H. Shaw and Miss Waters who have been holidaying at St. Petersburg, Fla., have begun the trek northward to their home in Stouffville. The couple expect to make stopovers at Miami and Washington on the return trip.

Horticultural Meeting

Friday, May 19, is the date of the next open meeting of the Horticultural Society with Mr. Roy Cadwell of Toronto as guest speaker. Conservation of the soil will be the subject and it will be illustrated with slides.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Beeler and son Donald of Hamilton were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ken Laushway, Stouffville. Mr. Beeler and Donald took in the opening of the trout season in local waters and returned home with their full quota.

Friends will regret to learn that Bert Smith, former resident of Stouffville, where he was employed with the local Floral Co., has suffered a heart attack at his home in Grimsby, and removed to hospital.

Mrs. Harold Wright who resides on the 10th concession of Markham, just south of Stouffville, suffered a stroke on Saturday night, friends will regret to learn. Mrs. Wright has not been in good health for some time.

Weddings

HAMMERSLEY—PENSTONE On Saturday, April 29th, Kathleen Edith Penstone, became the bride of John Herbert Hammersley. The marriage took place in the United Church parsonage with Rev. Douglas Davis officiating.

The bride looked charming in a suit of beige gabardine with lemon and brown accessories, and a corsage of roses. Her niece June Grant made a very pretty attendant, and wore a grey suit with green accessories and a rose corsage. Mr. Elwood Hammersley, brother of the groom was best man.

Others present at the ceremony were the bride's father, Mr. Penstone who gave her away, her sister Mrs. Andrew Francis Grant, a cousin Mr. George Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Osbourne, Mrs. Elwood Hammersley, Mr. and Mrs. Chadwick and the two boys, Dave and Bob.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Grant, 10 Lankin Boulevard, Toronto, where between 40 and 50 relatives and close friends assembled. The couple are spending their honeymoon in New York.
