Building Regulations Cause Flurries at Live Markham Township Council Meeting

It was "Standing Room Only" at Markham Township Council's meeting on August 21 when over forty persons were present as members of various delegations to council.

Several scrappy interchanges marked the evening's business, with attacks on council and on the road superintendent over building regulations highlighting the session.

Council found itself in a quandry when a Doncrest Road resident appeared with his lawyer, demanding reinstatement of a building permit which had been revoked. His building had been a subject of protest at a former meeting, attended by a large delegation of Doncaster residents, when violent opposition to the granting of a permit had been expressed and warnings of the fact that an election was coming given to council.

Contending that council had been wrong in granting a permit in the first place, and reciting an involved list of events, Doncrest residents again objected to the reissuance of the permit and asked that it be deferred until they had an opportunity to consult with the Ontario Planning Board. A letter from the township's solicitor, expressing the opinion that no action could be taken against the veteran who was building the new house was ready, but opponents claimed that he was not in possession of the full facts. It was finally agreed to defer the matter until a special meeting to be held on August 28, in order to give opportunity for further study and to allow for the township's solicitor being present.

Says Inspector Lax

"The building inspector is lax," said a member of a delegation from the Doncaster area. "You don't know what's on in the township," he added. "If the area is too big for you, you should drop out and let someone else do it." The statement followed a submission by J. MacAlpine, president of the Doncaster Ratepayers' Association, that there should be some clarification of the situation with regard to basement dwellers, occupants of temporary buildings and installation of Hydro. "We want the by-laws enforced so that these questions will not keep arising," said Mr. MacAlpine, asserting that the whole situation was confused, he said that there were five dwellings on one lot, that proper school taxes were not being paid, and asked what the situation would be in case of fire. Producing a letter from the township clerk which said that residence in a basement was illegal, he asked what was going to be done about contradictions between regulations and action. He said that one man had converted a brooder house into a two-family dwelling, that another man had lived in a cellar since March and had not been able to get the building inspector to sign a Hydro permit. Defending himself, Building Inspector Norton said that he could not spend all his time at the work, because his salary, $1,600 a year, did not permit him to live without doing other work.

Challenges Clerk

Figures produced by Township Clerk Hoover were challenged by A. Elliott of Duncan street, who said that he and other residents were ready to pay for the completion of the road and had been assured that a large property owner in the area would also contribute to it. A letter written to the solicitors of the owner referred to asking whether this was the case, was produced to council and Clerk Hoover, who was absent from his seat during a considerable part of the meeting, stated that it had not been replied to.

"We're tired of being told that it will cost us too much," Mr. Elliott told council. "Nobody has ever figured out what it will cost us individually. We're suffering—the people who are not taking any action for us are not," he said in the course of a blunt statement.

Council advised him to get a definite indication of willingness on the part of others to help pay for the road and to get that evidence to council.

Want Annexation

A deputation from Markham village council said that it was desired to annex part of the township of Markham to square the village off and to permit proper handling of public services. "Give us a plan," they were told by council.

Others present at the meeting as members of delegations or on behalf of themselves dealt with matters affecting division of lands, upkeep of roads and related matters.

Adjournment at a late hour followed a decision to hold a special meeting on August 28 to deal with unfinished business and to settle some of the matters under dispute. —The Liberal

Three Deaths in Unionville Occur on Same Day

A sudden death occurred on Wednesday morning, Aug. 20, when Mrs. Essie Bartlett of south Unionville passed away. She was the widow of Cyrus A. Bartlett who pre-deceased her one year. Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett took up residence in Unionville eight years ago moving here from Toronto.

Mrs. Bartlett is survived by one son Murray C. who fortunately was at her home for his holidays from his place of residence at Akron, Ohio, at the time of his mother's death. A daughter, Mrs. Lorne Dechene, Timmins, also survives, as well as one brother, D. Laundry, Beamsville, and a sister, Mrs. Van Koughnet, Toronto.

Funeral service was held in Central United Church on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. with interment at Pine Hills cemetery.

Royal Winter Fair two years in succession.

Mr. Bagg was a man of high integrity. He was an elder in Central United Church, Unionville, and together with Mrs. Bagg and their family took active part in the church work. He will be missed in this community.

Funeral service was held in Central United Church on Friday afternoon. Interment was made in Elmvalle Cemetery, Markham.

Surviving are his wife and three sons, Ronald living at Toronto, Ewart and Bruce of Unionville, and two daughters, Ila (Mrs. Ellwood Groskorth, Whichchurch), and Hazel who lives at home. There are also three brother surviving, George, Frank and Alfred, all of Edgeley, and one sister, Mrs. Kenneth Stevenson, Woodbridge.

HIT BY TRACTOR NO BONES BROKEN

Many friends in Unionville mourn the passing of a one-time resident, Miss Mary Elizabeth Foster who died in Toronto on Aug. 20, at the age of 62 years. She was the wife of John Foster, and both were born in the north of Ireland. Mr. Foster served in the first World War.

They were active members of St. Philip's Anglican Church where Mrs. Foster was deeply interested and an ardent worker in the women's work of the church. Funeral service was conducted in St. Philip's Church on Friday afternoon with interment in St. Philip's Cemetery. Surviving are her husband and one son George of Toronto.

X-rays taken in the hospital in Oshawa showed no fractures were suffered by Peter Van DeKamer, 19, of Pickering Township, when the track of a tractor ran over his left side.

Working on the Rouge Valley Farm, DeKamer jumped off his moving tractor to shift a mower from his path. He slipped and one track ran over his left side, pressing him into soft earth.

Frederick James Bagg, 66, who died at his home, Rosmonte Farm, on the Kennedy Road, Aug. 20th, was a prominent agriculturist and stock breeder. He was the son of James Bagg who came to Canada from England in 1870 settling at Malton where Frederick was born and spent his youth.

In 1912 he married Emma Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Kennedy, Edgeley, and the next year bought the Rosmonte farm where he proceeded to establish a herd of high-class Jersey cattle.

He was president of the local branch of Ontario Milk Producers, Director of Canadian Jersey Cattle Club, Past President of Markham Agricultural Society and took a keen interest in community activities.

Raising Healthier Chicks with HTH-15

Clean and sanitize brooders with HTH-15. It helps prevent the spread of disease among chicks. A little indinking water keeps it "safe" from germs.

For Colds
Dust HTH-15 about 18" over chicks heads in brooder. The only "floating powder," dry Chlorine Inhalant. Specially divided HTH-15 settles slowly, prolonging treatment.
