The Autumn Rally of the Western Section of the W.M.S. of Oshawa Presbyterian will be held in Myrtle United Church on Wednesday, Oct. 25th, commencing at 9.15 daylight saving time. It is hoped that a good local representation from Claremont W.M.S. will plan to be present.

A Y.P.U. has been organized in the United Church with Mr. Jack Wallace as president. It has been found that there are around fifty-two people who are eligible. The first meeting was held on Monday evening at the Mansie.

A number of farmers accompanied by their better halves, and neighbors or friends attended the annual International Plowing Match held last week at Alliston. Ancient plows from every country in the world were on display. Four miles of tents containing machinery of the latest type drew the crowd as by a magnet. Our big machinery and hardware merchant, Mr. Chas. Cooper, had a large exhibit of latest and well known makes, and did a big business in selling throughout the three days. The weather turned out rather wet, but the distance from this locality was favorable. What difference does a bit of rain or mud make, so long as the old car will get there and return. One meets old friends and makes new ones, and has something to talk about that is interesting to the fellows who didn't make the trip.

The Canadian Legion Educational Services have undertaken to supply books and magazines to the army special force. Anyone desiring to donate books for this cause may leave them at Lye's Drug Store or the Claremont Co-Op. As the Education Services are purchasing magazines direct from the publishers to be mailed to each unit so that the boys may have the latest news, the Educational Services are asking cash donations for this purchase. These donations may be left at the above places.

Two Mishaps Fail To Daunt Claremont Rider

Two mishaps which ordinarily would have spoiled all chances of winning, failed to upset a double victory for Mrs. Carol Pearson of Claremont at the Sunnyside Manor point-to-point meeting Saturday at C. R. Heintzman's farm.

In the first race for non-winners, Mrs. Pearson fell off at the start and was 30 lengths behind by the time she picked up in pursuit. Going into a cornfield just before the stretch she was only 10 lengths back on her brown thoroughbred, Velvet, and to the amazement of the crowd, came out in the lead and finished strongly to defeat Irving Stone on Lordale by several lengths. Ed. Cooper, on R. Stanbury's Jimmy, was third.

In the ladies' race for the Glamis Cup, Mrs. Pearson rode her son's horse, Beelzebub, and took an early lead. Part way around the course her horse ran out at a fence, but she quickly wheeled around and took the obstacle to continue in the lead. Mrs. William Clark, on Taxation, was second ahead of Mrs. A. Valentine, on Firewood.

L. J. McGuinness, Jr., on Haphazard, won a close decision over L. C. Scott, on Kennebunk, in the Medway Cup, feature race of the meet. The two horses strode together for the last quarter-mile and finished with Haphazard getting the judge's nod by a nose. Mrs. Pearson was third on Silver Slipper.

Joy Rebekah Lodge, No. 355, Brougham, was the recipient of a beautiful silk Union Jack presented to them by Mrs. Booth of Sunshine Lodge, No. 222, Oshawa, at one of their meetings; also at their last meeting a presentation was made to the Noble Grand by Mrs. Hackney, Past District President of Bowmanville, of two gavels handmade and pedestal presented by Mr. Hackney at the same meeting for which the Noble Grand made a fitting reply of thanks.

Just stop paying the installment on your car if you want to get back on your feet.

FISH FEET
Neighborhood cats are in for quite a surprise when milady steps out in her modish fishskin shoes. These are the latest innovations in British footwear this fall. Cod has been used for conservative, dull surface, gray-black shoe, and those who desire more color find the catfish skin, which is striped with the markings of a tiger, very effective. Reptile skins continue to be popular, especially armadillo, which is said to be exceptionally hard-wearing.

Master Concentrates

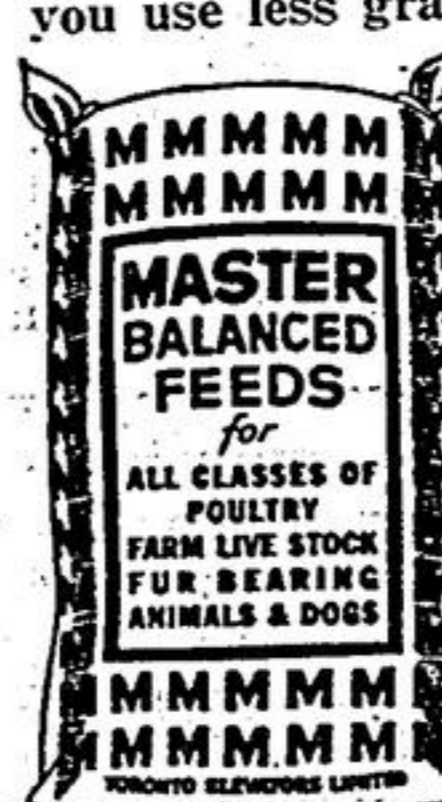

for poultry, dairy cattle and pigs.

In order to help assure good returns on your feeding it is necessary to feed a balanced ration. When using home grown grains be sure your feeds are fortified with Master Concentrates:

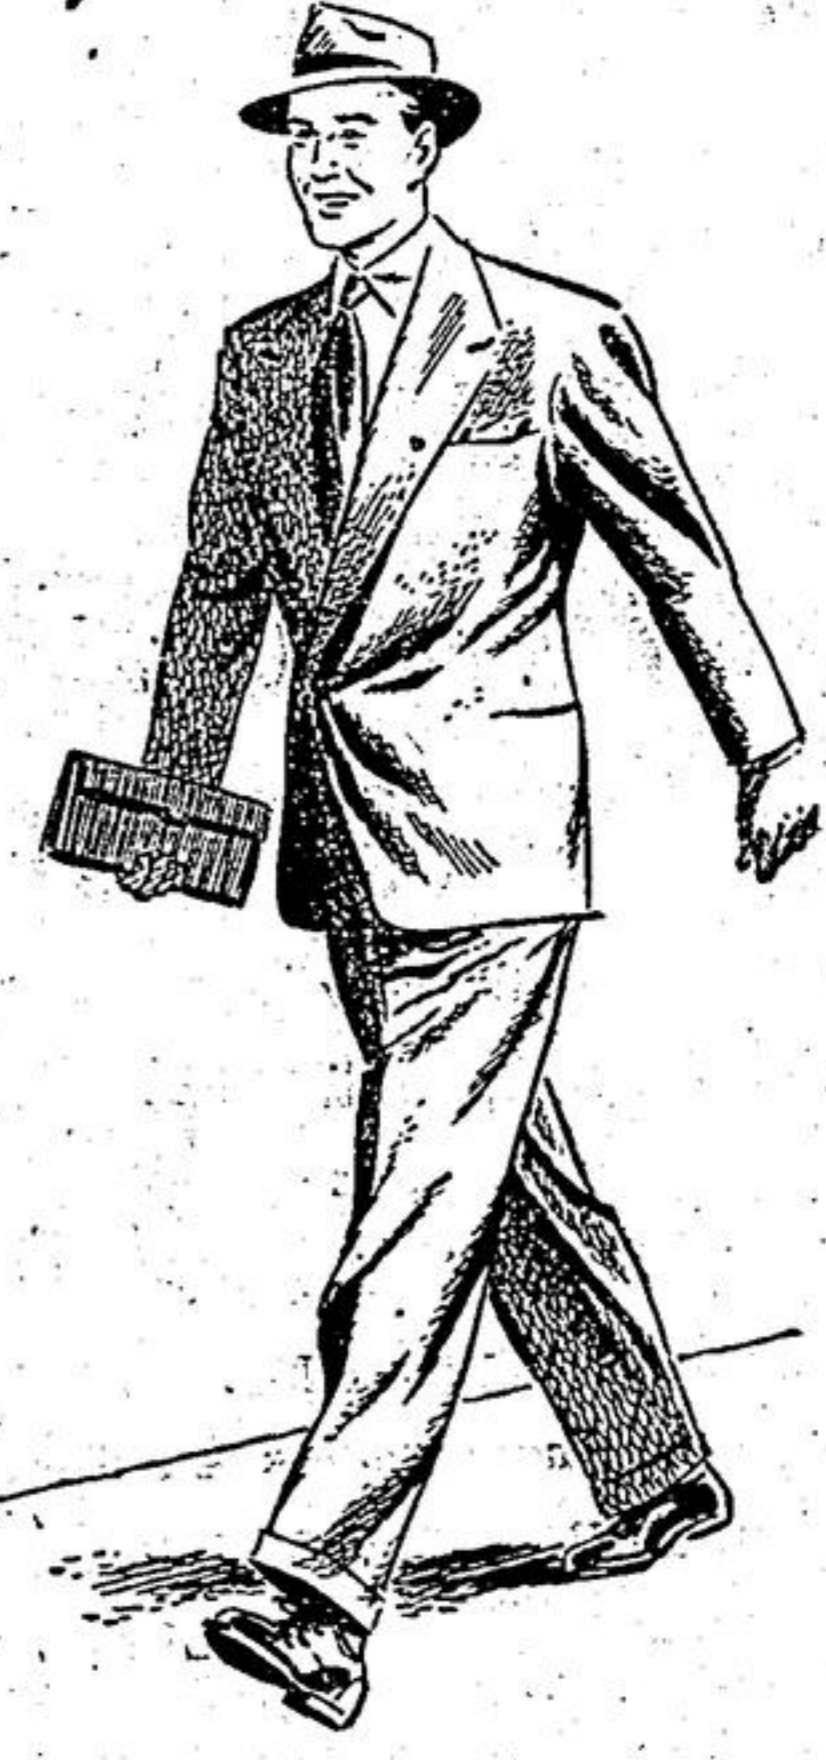

For Poultry — Master Poultry Concentrate
For Dairy Cattle — Master 24% Dairy Concentrate For Hogs — Master Sow & Pig Concentrate

By adding these concentrates to your grain you use less grain but still increase production. These concentrates may be mixed at our mill when you are having your grain ground.
