The program concluded with a very pleasant social hour and tea.

Local Co-Op Manager At Ontario Meeting

Local Co-Op Manager, Claude Brillinger, attended the annual meeting of The United Co-Operatives of Ontario held at the King Edward Hotel on Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Total sales amounted to $50,000,000 of which $250,000. was returned to locals in the form of patronage refunds. Stouffville Co-Operative Association being one of these locals is the recipient of somewhat over $3,000. of this patronage.

In other words on top of the local earnings there is added this $3,000. which is returned to local farmers in and around Stouffville. This means that the members of the Stouffville Co-Op Association have a stake in a business worth many millions of dollars and contrary to other large businesses instead of taking money out of the community is putting money back into the pockets of the members of the Stouffville Co-Op.

Guest speaker at the banquet was Dr. Coady of St. Francis Xavier University of Antigonish, N.S. This man is directly responsible for the rebuilding of the fishermen's fortune in fish marketing in the Maritimes. He has been instrumental in forming fishing Co-Ops. so that instead of the local men being at the mercy of the American buyers, they now have formed their own clubs and have increased prosperity for the last ten years.

The meeting was attended by some 500 delegates of 143 local Co-Ops. of Ontario.

Walter Hoiden is considering either the retail or wholesale business in gloves and umbrellas. The local westend businessman picked up a couple of cartons at the current streetcar sale in the city last week and found himself with several hundred pairs of gloves and an equal number of umbrellas. These sales are held periodically of articles left aboard cars by careless folks who never show up again to claim their property. They're bought on sight and unseen, and while Walter made himself a good buy, he's not too certain yet as to how he'll dispose of his large stock.
