

Rehabilitation Of Fellow-Men Is Occupation Of Young Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howlett, a young Ontario couple, have devoted their lives to rehabilitation of "incurable" problem members of society. They welcome as guests on their farm at Montrose, alcoholics, mental and nervous cases, delinquents and others, let them share family life on the peaceful farm and use their well-stocked library. Two-thirds of their visitors, say the Howletts, are now in the world as useful and happier people. The couple met while Ralph was studying for the ministry in Toronto, and Gwen, his wife, was at the Royal Conservatory of Music. Fees for board and care are only asked if the guest can afford it.

You'll cheer this breathtaking picture of a gentle dog with a fighting heart — "Challenge to Lassie" at the Stanley Theatre this Friday and Saturday. You'll be moved by its power and suspense. You'll love its humor and warmth. You'll vote it Lassie's all-time best!

Next Monday will be New Year's Day and a public holiday, with all business places closed.

Mr. A. E. Weldon, local shoe merchant, and former reeve, completed 27 years in business in Stouffville this Christmas.

Nine Goals in Twenty Minutes

That was the rate at which goals were scored in the senior O.H.A. game between Markham and Midland at Unionville on Wednesday night. Markham trailed 2-1 going into the last frame, when they came to life in a great scoring surge which netted them six goals. Midland for their part had to be content with three making the final score 7-5.
