CARDS OF THANKS

I want to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to all my neighbors for their great kindness in helping us move to our new home. I also appreciate the lovely gifts given to me before leaving the community.

Wilfred Ruston

I wish to take this opportunity to thank my neighbors and friends for the many inquiries and cards sent to me during my stay in hospital; also for the lovely boxes of fruit and candy sent to me. It was all much appreciated.

Mrs. Wm. Locke

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, help and expressions of sympathy during the recent illness and bereavement of our mother and grandmother.

The Wideman Families

(Through error, the name of Roy Wideman, son of the late Elsie Ann Wideman, was omitted from the obituary in last week's issue. The deceased made her home with her son ROY who occupies the Wideman homestead.)

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our many friends, relatives and neighbors who sent cards and flowers and gifts; also to those who called on the occasion of our 60th Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Loyd

The family of the late Jos. Martin wish to sincerely thank their many relatives, friends and neighbors, also Rev. Shapter, Dr. Carruthers, and Miss Eva Harrison, for flowers, expressions of sympathy and kindness shown during the illness and passing of an affectionate father.

MARKHAM GOATS

not a medicine but a food.

She has been as successful with her goats as she has with her children. At last fall's CNE she exhibited six goats and came away with two first prizes, one second, two thirds and two specials. There were 14 exhibitors. One of her two billy goats, Hickaming Ludwig, came from the North Carolina farm of Carl Sandburg, the American poet.

Most of her goats were born without horns, but even those with horns are not vicious.

Mrs. Durrant claims not one of her goats has ever eaten a tin can or a rubber boot, contrary to popular legend. But they have stripped the bark off her fruit trees and you don't dare leave them near a line of washing. They would pull it all down just for a lark.

Like any farmer, she is up early — about 6 a.m. — and she spends about four-and-a-half hours a day tending her livestock. It takes close to an hour twice a day to do the milking.

EXCLUSION OF PUBLIC BRINGS COUNCIL FLAREUP

The exclusion of the public from a special meeting of Markham Township Council on Saturday at which time applicants were to be heard in connection with the advertised treasurer's position, caused a flareup in council, finally resulting in adjournment.

The meeting was held for the specific purpose of dealing with the applicants personally in private before an announcement of the engaging of the officer and salary was announced.

A number of ratepayers from the front of the township turned up during the meeting, and were refused entrance.

"It's in the Act that the public shall be allowed in with the exception of meetings dealing with welfare," claimed Councillor LeMasurier, who vigorously opposed the ratepayers' exclusion.

Deputy-Reeve James stated that this was not a regular council meeting, thus it would not be governed by the Act, and the business to be dealt with required some privacy for council.

"If the public is allowed in, I'll call for an adjournment," exclaimed Councillor Chas. Hooper.

Seven applicants were heard for the treasurer's position, and salaries asked ranged from a low of $2400 to a high of $3200. However, disagreement as to the actual need for such an officer at all left the matter in a stalemate.

Councillor LeMasurier contended that the work was not distributed equitably among the departments, and favoured Mrs. Robt. Rae, who is already on the office staff, as the treasurer.

Reeve Timbers objected that such a move would not improve matters any since it has always been the opinion of council that the clerk required additional help.
