60-Cycle Conversion Is Completed for 219,698 Customers

The 25-cycle Area Now Cut By 4,800 Square Miles

Frequency-sensitive appliances totalling 997,862 and owned by 219,698 Southern Ontario Hydro customers have been altered for 60-cycle operation to the end of the second quarter of 1952, the Ontario Hydro Commission announced today.

The switch from 25-cycle power has been completed in five of the 21 standardization areas, and change-over work is under way in Windsor, the large scale project in this city affecting some 34,000 customers. Standardization commenced at the end of June in North York, and operations in this heavily populated suburb of Toronto, affecting over 28,000 customers, will take an estimated period of ten months.

Completion of standardization in five areas and work now in progress in other districts has reduced the size of the "25-cycle island" by more than 4,800 square miles.

The estimated 783,000 domestic customers affected by the Commission's standardization program make this project the largest of its kind ever undertaken, and 737,554 of the total number of items changed over to June 30, 1952, belonged to 493,534 domestic customers.

Statistics reveal that Hydro's Southern Ontario domestic customers own, on the average, four frequency-sensitive items, reflecting the high standard of living enjoyed by the people of this province.

A survey made in 1947 showed a saturation of 2.7 frequency-sensitive items per domestic customer. This increase of more than 44 per cent, coupled with the added costs of labour and materials will undoubtedly increase the overall cost of the frequency standardization program as compared with original estimates, the Commission stated.

Tremendous totals of domestic appliances, including some 159,233 washing machines, 105,387 refrigerators, 27,800 oil burners, 76,304 record players, 128,606 electric clocks and 53,823 fans have been changed over by standardization crews since the program was launched in 1949, and are now operating at the higher frequency in former 25-cycle areas.

The fine co-operation accorded by Public Utility Commissions, civic bodies, manufacturers, customers and the press and radio in carrying out this vast project is greatly appreciated, the Commission stated.

SAV ANIMALS DRIVEN OUT BY FLIES

According to biologists, no animal is provided with any defence against another animal of which it is its lawful prey. Perhaps the biologists can say how it is that flies can drive all kinds of animals away from their natural habitat? At any rate, it is reported from Haliburton district that a live bear has been captured and penned up at the Downers Camp in the Redstone area; that four wolves and a number of deer have also been seen in Haliburton County, and local residents say they have been driven out of the forests to the clearing by flies.

LONG-TIME LAKE RESIDENTS

Summer residents at Musselman's Lake for the past twenty-three years, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dowdell were snapped here by the Tribune cameraman standing in front of their cottage. Mr. Dowdell is an employee of the T. Eaton Co. and first began his annual treks to Musselman's when there were only about a hundred cottagers around the lake—today there are seven hundred. Mrs. Dowdell has very firm connections with Stouffville. Her brother Richard (Dick) George operated the first electric light plant this community had over half a century ago. Mr. George is eighty-nine years old and will travel from his home in New York for the 75th anniversary celebration in Stouffville this coming weekend. He also operated a lumber business on the site of the present Harry Stover residence.

The Dowdells can relate great changes which they have seen transpire in the lake in a quarter century. The now famous Cedar Beach was only high sand banks at twenty-five years ago, they recall and there were only three or four boats owned on the lake. The road about the lake was rough and dusty.

The Dowdells were prominent in the Musselman's Lake Ratepayers' Association which more or less disbanded about ten years ago.

Mrs. Dowdell, it is interesting to note, is a niece of Mrs. Jos. Hoover and a first cousin of Constable Ira Rusnell. She told The Tribune reporter she had no less than fifty-six first cousins. She recalls interesting school days at Mongolia with such well known characters as Lloyd Turner, Lela Forsyth, Winnifred Forsyth, Gertie Vanzant and Percy Wideman.
