Dear Sir,

We wish to congratulate you on your 75th anniversary of Stouffville Village. Also on your special holiday issue of The Tribune with its special Lake-side edition of Musselman's Lake.

Well do we remember the Lake (55 to 60 years ago) with its Sunday School Picnics on Appleton's Grove, when four farm houses bounded its shores.

Your page of Past Reeves was most interesting to see those faces of noble men of Christian character who gave their services to your village and municipality.

While living in this municipality I had the pleasure of doing some business with fifteen of your Past Reeves. May your village continue to grow and your merchants and business men have prosperity. Yours very truly,
Ira D. Ramer.

Dear Sir:

It is a privilege and an honour to congratulate you and your excellent staff on the illustrated issue of this week's edition. Like many prosperous firms you have given us, your subscribers, ten shares for one, worthwhile dividends on our year's subscription.

For me, it contains much fodder for my scrap books. I usually am able to find something in each issue that is worth retaining.

The treasured pictures of the Reeves unearth fond memories. James Dougherty had three sons: Lyman, Frank and Ernie. Frank was a big, strong, bright boy and made Stouffville famous in his day as a much-sought Lacrosse player. Reeve Wheeler had a high fence around his orchard. For the boys, that was bad!

In the early summer, W. B. Sanders frequently came calling on friends, on horseback, at 6.30 a.m. W. B. was a great friend of Uncle John Richardson, Reeve of Scarborough and Warden of York County. They both were strong "Grits".

R. J. Daley had vivid visions of Stouffville's future, greatness and possibilities. He did much to start the town on the road to its present status. In my boyhood days, I once misjudged him. My mother wanted to take me into his store to buy a pair of boots. I objected on the grounds that he, R.J., was a great fighter—for he had a sign up the street saying that he could "boot any man in town".

Hiram Johnson kept the bake shop. He had three beautiful daughters.

During High School days Richard Underhill frequently appeared before his store prepared to give sound advice to passing students. His philosophy was: "Be the best and give your best in whatever walk of life you choose! His son became a Professor of History.

Amos Lehman in his early days made me a leather school bag and I still have it. It cost me one dollar but it is worth more now.

I first knew Harry Sanders at Public School and Fred Silvester at High School. They both were outstanding boys.

Uncle David Stouffer's interesting narrative is very valuable history; every family name has a history for many readers. Each family name is interwoven with interesting stories. One cannot mention such names as Shaw, Sangster, Stouffer, Flint, Lloyd, Von Busick, O'Brien, Reesor and many more without recalling some outstanding quality that aided in the development of Stouffville. The early settlers were the salt of the earth, and we can look back to them with reverence and be thankful that we had the good fortune to have spent a portion of our life in this community.

The citizens of Stouffville should be proud that you and your staff have seized the torch thrown to you by our forefathers and are carrying the spiritual, moral and general welfare of the community to such a high standard. I am enclosing money for an extra copy.
Yours truly,
G.F.R. Richardson, M.D.

PEACHES

We are glad to report that Mr. Henry Miller after spending the past week in the Western Hospital will return home this week. The community wishes him a speedy recovery.

Cousins from California visited the Hosking families over Wednesday and Thursday.

Rev. George Robins was back occupying the pulpit last Sunday after a pleasant restful vacation during July.

A few members of the Peaches Softball Club attended the double-header at the Maple Leaf Stadium on the Civic Holiday. No doubt they picked up a few good pointers to try out next season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Warriner and Mr. Wilmot Warriner spent Sunday at Head Lake visiting with relatives.

A great commotion disturbed Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller at approximately midnight last Wednesday. The newlyweds however opened their home to the rowdy chivari gang for a lunch which satisfied all.

We enjoyed a short spirited sing song in the Sunday School service led by Miss Elva Kirk, it being a part of the Missionary Sunday program.

A number from our community were present at the Stouffville Arena to hear the Commodores and the Royal Band of Canada which we all enjoyed.

VICTORIA SQUARE

Sympathy of the community is extended to the family of the late Price Evans, on the sudden passing of Mr. Evans.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tatton (nee Marjorie Sanderson) on the birth of a son on August 2nd at Newmarket Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson and Johnny of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. J. Empringham, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bennett and Ray spent a week recently at Bala.

Mrs. Cecil Nichols and Faye are spending two weeks with friends at Smith's Falls.

Mr. S. Boynton, Lawrence and Donald and Freddie Walker spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. Baker at Fordwich and Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Feigel of Gorrie.

Mr. R. E. Sanderson, Miss Mabel Sanderson and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Boynton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Stevenson of Oshawa.

Miss Nancy Cober, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Nigh, Mrs. F. Walker, Mrs. S. Boynton and Grace spent the holiday weekend with friends at Port Erie.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.A. will be held on Wednesday evening, August 13th, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ralph Perkins. A very interesting program has been prepared. A hearty invitation is extended to all the ladies in the community to attend. Mrs. Atkinson of June's Gift Shoppe, Richmond Hill, will give a demonstration.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Harmon spent the holiday weekend with friends at Port Carling.

BLOOMINGTON

A group of young people from Ringwood Church were in charge of the Sunday morning service here. Mr. Lawrenson was the leader and Mr. Murray Pipher delivered the message based on the truth of man's power of choosing good or evil.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kee and family of Orangeville were Sunday visitors with relatives here. Miss Betty Anne Kee is staying over for holidays.

Miss Gayman of Unionville was a guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ferguson.

Miss Nellie Zwier of Lansing spent a week with Mrs. D. Burnett. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis and daughter of Toronto are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. K. Trammer.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown of Toronto were guests with Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hill.

Swimming Pool Near Completion At Lemonville

A community hall, tennis courts, floodlights and now a swimming pool are the remarkable achievements that have been accomplished at the Lemonville Fellowship Centre, located on the 7th concession of Whitchurch, two miles north of the townline. The most recent accomplishment is the construction of a cement swimming tank measuring 30'x60' with a separate section provided for the safety of the young children. The water is some nine feet in depth at the one end and drops down to a mere eighteen inches at the shallow end. The tank is solidly built with cement blocks with a cement covering both inside and out. A flowing well situated nearby provides the water which is piped into the pool.

Towns and villages ten times the size of this 7th concession hamlet must look up to this progressive community centre for its amazing accomplishments.

Stouffville High School Represented at C.N.E.

When more than 200 outstanding students from Ontario high schools converge on the Canadian National Exhibition grounds on Warriors' Day, Aug. 23, two young people from Stouffville H.S. will be on hand. Invited to represent their school are Harry Hunt of R.R. No. 4, Stouffville and Marion Atkinson of Park Road, N., and they'll be guests of the C.N.E. directors for a day of fun that will keep them busy from early morning until the last firework has been set off after the Grandstand performance.

Also invited to attend are Principal George A. Pearce and his wife, and the chairman of the school board and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Chadwick.

The day's program will be geared to youth, and will include plenty of group singing, square dancing and music by school bands. A basket lunch, served on the lawn, will act as a real "mixer-upper", along the lines of the old-fashioned box social. "No girl will be allowed to share her basket with the boy from her home town," warns Women's Director, Kate Aitken. Desserts will be served under a colorful marquee before the group sets off on a tour of the grounds.

In the Coliseum, some of the young guests will have a chance to model in a few of nearly 40 fashion shows presented daily by the Women's Division. They'll see the latest and smartest in back-to-school clothes Canadian manufacturers have planned for them. Brigadier Rockingham will be on hand and will present prizes for winning school arts and crafts entries. Among them will be the $100 prize awarded for the best mural submitted by a Canadian High School to Margaret Hewitt of Whitehorse High School, Yukon Territory. The 15-year-old girl is being flown to Toronto as guest of the C.N.E., and will be part of the group. A trip down the famous C.N.E. Midway, with time for a few rides and perhaps a sideshow or two is also planned.

Dinner will be a barbeque served out-of-doors, after which the students will see the Grandstand show, starring glamorous singing star Tony Martin.

ALTONA

The Young People's monthly meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McNair last Tuesday evening.

Miss Jean Hodgson has been home for two weeks vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hodgson.

John Thompson is in Toronto General Hospital for further treatment and observation. It was thought best to consult a foot specialist.

Fourteen ladies from here were on the South Ontario Women's Institute bus trip to Barrie last Thursday. They attended the fourth annual Quilt and Rug Fair and visited the museum. All had a very enjoyable time. There were sixty-nine attendees from South Ontario.

Potato Acreage Up By 5,000 in Ontario

There is a slightly higher potato acreage in Ontario this year—56,000 acres as compared to 51,000 last year. The 51,000 figure was the lowest in history.

"This should indicate a continued high price for growers," said R. E. Goodin, associate director, crops, weeds and seed branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. The acreage would have been higher but many professional growers sold their seed for table stock.

Acreage in this immediate locality of Ballantrae and Goodwood is about the same.

He further predicted an artificial scarcity in Ontario until the late potatoes came onto the market. About 75 per cent of new potato crop of Essex and Kent Counties had gone to market and been eaten up.

Mr. Goodin said that 50 years ago 184,000 acres were grown in the province. He thought production had dropped in recent years because growers didn't get enough for them. But with the sharp decrease in production they had recently "been priced off many tables."

Another reason people were eating fewer potatoes, although they were one of the best and cheapest foods, was that growers were putting a poor quality product on the market.

"In a check made in three cities last winter, we found 85 per cent of Ontario potatoes over Canada No. 1 grade. How can you expect housewives to pay you $5 and $6 a bag for inferior quality product?"

Acreages in the exporting provinces of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island were up about 15 per cent over last year. There should be a fairly ample supply of potatoes when these spuds reached local markets but price would be high.
