The brothers presented them with an electric tea kettle, the immediate family a chrome kitchen set. The splendid weekly newspaper to the east of us, the Bowmanville Canadian Statesman, is celebrating the 75th anniversary of its acquisition by the James family. In its last issue, there appears an interesting sketch of its history, from the pen of its present editor, George W. James. It is a great story, the story of M. A. James, who foresook the life of a country school teacher to become a newspaper publisher, and down through the decades built up a newspaper which has always been a credit to its publishers and to the community which it serves. When he passed on, he handed down to his family a great heritage which is today being enhanced by the present members, who are responsible for the publication of the Statesman.

He is employed out in Western Canada at the present time.

Fortnight in Jail Still Penalty for Drunk Driving

Two drunk drivers each drew fourteen days in the county jail when convicted last week. Magistrate R. P. Locke also cancelled their driving permits for a month and impounded their cars for three months.

Alfred O. Jackson, 36, of Markham is the father of five small children. He was drunk on the Altona Road in Pickering Township in the early morning of July 16. He said it was his first offence. The Bench at Whitby replied that had it not been for his family, the term would have been longer.

George Wake, 65, of Kingston Road West, received a similar penalty. He was involved in an accident on Harwood Drive in Ajax on July 26.

"Wake was on the wrong side of the road," testified Pickering Constable Wilson. It was also a first offence for Wake.

CLAIMS "13" IS HIS LUCKY NUMBER

"13" is the lucky number of A. C. Cooper of Sunderland. He adopted the number some time ago, or rather it adopted him. During services overseas in the last war he found himself closely associated with this number which most people shy away from. The number is still pursuing him as witness his most recent experience: He went into his garden to dig some potatoes and turned up 13 hills with 13 potatoes in each one. All of Cooper's associations with "13" have been fortunate ones and he says he hopes they continue to be.
