Barber Poles Disappearing

Barber poles as we've known them in the past, are fast disappearing. Not one of the three tonsorial parlours operating in Stouffville boasts one of these flashy red and white sign posts, the last to go possibly being a nifty outfit at the Snowball parlour that was hardhit during a Hallowe'en jamboree some years ago and was never replaced. It's interesting to note that barber's poles date back to the time when a barber not only cut hair and shaved customers but also practised minor surgery such as blood letting and wound dressing. It was not until 1745 that the barber-surgeons (as they were called) were prohibited from practising surgery in England. It was abolished in France about the time of the revolution and in Germany around 1809. In the original symbol, a brass basin hung from the striped pole. It is generally agreed that the stripes represented bandages; the basin, the vessel for receiving blood. Only the pole is used in America but the pole and basin may still be seen in parts of Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. John Houston, local drug store proprietor and his wife, received a rude shock on Sunday evening when they entered their apartment at the rear of the store after being out of town. The place was full of gas and smoke and it was found that the smoke pipe had collapsed on the second floor and smoke and dirt from the furnace was belching out freely from the broken pipe. Considerable damage resulted to clothes and personal belongings stored in the room and it was miraculous that these articles did not take fire from the broken pipe line which was quite hot.

The new basement at the Ringwood Christian Church will be dedicated at a special service this coming Sunday, Nov. 16th, at 7.30 p.m. The work on the basement was begun 18 months ago after the church was moved back thirty feet from the road. The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held in the United Church parlors with Mrs. B. Sanders at the piano and Mrs. Riches presiding. A hymn was sung followed by silent prayer in memory of fallen heroes and also for deceased members of the organization, ending with the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. King took charge, her theme being "The Human Touch." Mrs. Woods in her devotional took as her topic "The Bible, Book of Life and Means of Grace." Mrs. C. Nolan's piano solo was much appreciated. Mrs. Riches reviewed chapter two of the study book "Along African Trails." It was moved by Mrs. Ball, seconded by Mrs. Woods, that a letter be sent to Rev. D. Davis, congratulating him on his appointment to General Council. The meeting closed with the benediction. Mrs. Charles Nolan very kindly treated all to a cup of tea and cookies which was greatly appreciated.

REMEMBRANCE DAY SERVICE

Lest We FORGET Or Do We FORGET?

We gather together one Sunday a year to hold a Remembrance Service for those of our Comrades who made the Supreme Sacrifice so that those of us who returned would enjoy our free and plentiful life; also that those of us who were not in uniform may carry on our every day tasks in Freedom. Apparently, those of our leaders (COUNCIL) have seen fit to forget as indicated by their non-attendance at the Remembrance Day Service, Sunday, Nov. 9, 1952, and the placing of wreaths at the park gates.

Do We FORGET?
