A group of young "punks" from Musselman's Lake who have been causing disturbances at the Stanley Theatre Saturday afternoon matinees, were apprehended by Constable Hilliard of the local Provincial Police on Saturday and given a stern warning concerning their behaviour. The appearance of the O.P.P. on the scene considerably "deflated" the lakeside gang and there was no further outbreak. Included in the roundup was one young Miss who some months ago threw an object through the theatre screen. The damage caused considerable expense and inconvenience and the young girl is now helping to gather up $50 for her misdemeanor following a visit to her cottage at Musselman's by the local police. Adult patrons of the theatre have been considerably disturbed by these visiting trouble-makers and finally the law had to be called in to put a stop to it, with a warning that the first indication of any future disturbance will bring immediate charges.

University Grads to Wed
