DICKSON HILL

There was no lack of Christmas cheer at our little red school house last Friday evening when the community garthered for the annual concert.
Miss Crone, the teacher and her pupils are to be congratulated on the excellent manner in which the interesting numbers on the program were carried out. Teacher of music, Miss Armstrong conducted the musical portion, consisting of the Christmas message in song.
The choristers in choral attire delighted the audience with variety, solos, duets, and chorus singing. Mr. Wm. Barkey, a member of the school board acted as chairman for the evening. In the course of his speech, he stressed the desirability of a good attendance at the school meeting as the large attendance is creating a situation that called for consideration. Finally Santa Claus arrived and with the singing of "God Save our Queen" the evening of entertainment was brought to a close.
News of the sudden passing of Mrs. W.H. Johnson at her home in Mt. Joy has been received with regret by her many friends in this locality. Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ken Walker and Robert in this time of sorrow.

In the spirit of Christmas Let me wish to yours and you,
All the joy and happiness
This season ever knew
And in the name of the Holy Child
Who came on Christmas day Let me wish that God's dear love

Will bless you—day by day!

In a recent letter, Mrs. Allan Doner, now of Ilorin, Nigeria Br. West Africa, describes a special service at the Sudan Interior Mission there:

"This has been a big day at the S.I.M. church; it was the Harvest Service. The place was really packed. We saw everybody dressed in their Sunday best today. Some of the African gowns are of a material like velvet, bright colours with a pattern printed on. A lot of the ladies wore nice white eyelet blouses, of

One of the things that'll be as popular as ever this year and yet will be on the downgrade will be winter coasting.

The trouble is that nations never beat all their swords into plowshares; they always beat a lot of them into axes to grind.
