Lions Club Service Work Shown in Many Forms

Stouffville Lions Club who are holding their annual summer carnival and dance in Memorial Park next Wednesday evening, have demonstrated throughout the year, many phases of community service work. Hundreds, even thousands, have attended these functions over the years, have joined in the dances, flirted with fortune at one of the tables or tried to win a chocolate bar through their marksmanship and this may be a reminder that the Lions are asking for hundreds to attend again this year. This is their major fund-raising effort of the year.

In addition to reminding residents of the forthcoming carnival, we would remind them that at Christmas time the Lions ensure that no one goes forgotten while others are feasting. Easter sees another of the Lions biggest annual activities with the Easter Seal Campaign to help crippled children. Incidentally 1954's campaign realized more than $800 on behalf of the crippled kids.

Back of the big campaigns too, are the lesser-known stories, the week to week deeds, an operation for a child, correcting faulty eyesight or faulty teeth for another. It's a never-ending story which affects many lives and helps many over tough spots.

For instance too, possibly not many know, that in the past year, $50 went as a contribution to the local Mothercraft organization, nearly $75 went for groceries to needy folks and children in distress. Thirty dollars went to send a local high school student to

Local and Personal Happenings

Jos. Wideman, farmer on the 5th con. of Markham, presented us this week with one of the oddest specimens of "hen fruit" seen in a long time. The egg from a yearling Barred Rock might easily be said to resemble a hairless tomato worm in shape. The egg is about two and a half inches long and as big around as a fountain pen. This is the second freak egg Mr. Wideman's hens have produced in two weeks. The egg is on display in The Tribune window.

A slip-up in local park arrangements last weekend caused some confusion Sunday evening when no less than three family reunion groups found themselves without benches for the park tables, these having been removed to the Cemetery Decoration service and apparently no arrangements made for their prompt return after the service. The local park is in constant use for picnics during weekends and sufficient facilities in tables and benches should be available at all times.

the United Nations and $48 was spent to encourage oratory among our young people.

Few there are who know that the Lions Club paid the fees for several kiddies who could not otherwise have attended the local nursery school.

One hundred dollars went to Camp Ahshungyong on Lake Simcoe, a camp organized in 1931 for the purpose of providing a summer camp holiday for boys and girls at a fee they could afford.

Only recently the Lions Club shouldered the responsibility of canvassing the town on behalf of the National Institute for the blind and they are most appreciative of the way residents responded, sending over $1,000 of the help with the new building.

One of the Club's proudest projects has been the organizing, conducting and financing of the younger lads' hockey in the winter time. For nearly seven months of the year hockey is provided each Saturday morning for over one hundred small boys. The whole project costs the Lions each year about $775.00 but club members feel it is a "must" among their activities.

Through the Lions Club last year Mr. Art Latham expended in the town park $11,343.70 in addition to other contributions which he made. The club was most happy to serve as a mediary in this way, just one more addition to the story of Stouffville's one service club which has written a wonderful page of community help here for more than ten years.
