New High School Cost Nears Million

Markham Township Council Monday unanimously agreed to a request from the Richmond Hill District High School Board for a $75,000 increase in their original debenture figure of $800,000 to cover the erection of the new Thornhill High School.

The extra $75,000 will be used to handle the additional expense of the 17 acre school site, the roadway, grounds, water and disposal unit. The land was purchased at a basic figure of $2,750 an acre with the extra sum set aside for anticipated legal expenses. The $35,000 cost of the school site is roughly twice what the Board had originally estimated.

Markham will attempt by negotiations with North York to secure an adequate water supply for the new school. It is hoped water can be piped in from the present water area in Highland Park. It is estimated that if such a water system could be made a reality it would mean an initial saving of $10,000 for the Board. The Trustees have set aside $4,000 for the drilling of a well.

Once the Trustees have received the approval of the four municipalities (Townships of Markham and Vaughan and the villages of Richmond Hill and Woodbridge) which constitute the High School district, they will then approach the county to increase the proposed debenture issue from $800,000 to $875,000. They expect to appear before the county next week.

The High School Board delegation was made up of Chairman V. McMullen and Trustees R. Tamblin, R. Edean, S. Rumble, H. Charles and H. Collard.

In the first move of its kind since the setting up of the system of charging subdividers so much per lot towards the cost of education and municipal services Council has voted the Buttonville School Board $5,600 from the special school fund to be used for expenses incurred in securing a site for their new two-room addition. Such expenses are not covered by a Provincial grant. The money was raised from the Arnold Subdivision located in the Buttonville school section.

Mr. and Mrs. Brillinger have two sons and two daughters, Gladys, Ina (Mrs. F. Gillam), Wesley, and Earl. One of their sons, Earl and his wife and family live at home and work the long-owned Brillinger farm. They have 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Rev. Norman Rowan was toastmaster at the reception, and toasts were made to the bride and groom and bridesmaid, Mrs. Albert Reesor. The Brillingers were married in the year 1905 at Cedar Grove, from whence they moved to Bethesda and made their home.

The Brillingers have a lovely home in Bethesda and are highly respected in the community. We extend to them our congratulations on their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

CHARITY APPEALS FROM INDIA

Unusual charity appeals are coming out of India, according to the Family Herald and Weekly Star. These appeals take the form of begging letters addressed personally to people whose names, with addresses, have appeared in some Canadian publication. The Family Herald, with over 400,000 subscribers, reaches India more frequently than many publications, and has had an especially good opportunity to observe these letters.

Individuals in India, seeking charity, apparently obtain copies of the Family Herald either by direct subscription or by having it sent to them by friends, and use it to compile a list of names and addresses of Canadians to whom they send appeals. The Family Herald is a rich source of names because of its unusually wide coverage of news events, its popular "Voice of the Farm" readers' forum, and the many consultation services and other services it has always provided for its readers.

The begging letters are often reported and sent to the Editor's attention by Family Herald readers, and invariably describe the writer of the letter as being in dire straits of poverty. Usually the writer describes himself or herself as being a deeply religious Christian doing mission work, or attempting to raise a large family. Sometimes the letter contains a piece of cheap fancy-work of inferior workmanship, which they beg the addressee to buy or to sell for them.
