SCORING RECORD

The best Pecwee players that the Stouffville Lions League can produce will form the contingent that leaves here early in April to represent our town in the Goderich bockey tournament. This year, the individual lads will work for the right to make the trip and the selection will be made on each boy's performance throughout the regular schedule. The League Chairman, Mr. Ken Betz, has organized a setup whereby every goal and assist is recorded week by week in a book and this information will provide the basis for the final selection which will be made next month. Mr. Lloyd Turner has agreed to accept the responsibility for keeping the records straight. This is a man-size job and the coaches appreciate Lloyd's interest in the welfare of this evergrowing organization. Mr. Turner's work is aided considerably through the co-operation of the referees, Bud Lehman and Rick Wedseltoft who spot the goalscorers while the game is in progress. At the end of the season a list of Stouffville's top Peewee performers will appear in print. Who knows, out of Lloyd Turner's record book may come another Gordie Howe, "Rocket" Richard or Ted Kennedy.

MET THEIR MATCH?

Have the local Midgets finally met their match in the group ? Up until Friday night, the "Flyers" had been literally coasting through their opposition. They established a fine record of five straight victories and it appeared likely that they would go through the entire schedule without a loss until Brooklin entered upon the scene. In the two game home and home series, Stouffville was able to salvage only one point out of a possible four. The first game played here on Friday night could have been won by either club although I believe Brooklin was rather fortunate to stave off surging Stouffville attacks and settle for a split in the points. Brooklin's victory on their home ice on Monday was rather decisive however, and proves the old adage that "nothing is impossible." It seems a shame that these two teams will not meet in the playoffs since Brooklin has been ranked in "D" class and Stouffville in "C". It seems that all young lads in Brooklin are literally raised on skates. For a village its size, they certainly can produce fine hockey talent. Whether it be Bantam, Midget or Junior you can always look for Brooklin to be high on the group ladder. Returning to Stouffville, Derek Chadwick has a pretty well balanced team in a steady goaltender, good defence. and one of the best front line trios in the class. Coach Chadwick will depend on the threesome of Norm Hendricks, Wayne Redshaw and Murray Holden to carry the mail in the forthcoming playoffs. Should visiting clubs succeed in holding these players off the score sheet then the homesters' chances will not be too rosy. The second and third lines can hold their own but they lack the goalscoring ability of Norm Hendricks and linemates. As far as losing a game now and again, it doesn't hurt a club in fact in the majority of cases it will do a team more good than harm. The Midgets have only one more game to play in their regular schedule and then they move into the playoffs. Those are the games that really count.

HERE AND THERE

Doug Card, forward with Musselman's Lake last winter, and early-season tryout with the Clippers, is presently playing with the Keswick Comets in a group that includes Cannington and Coboconk . . . Manager Derelyn Valley of the Orillia Pontiacs is having his annual seige of player headaches. Messrs Ab. Bowen, Clary Payne and Al Shewchuk have been sitting out the last few games, disatisfied to travel and possibly looking for more cash. Goalle Bob Shropshire is also sidelined due to an injury ... The annual O.M.H.A. Church Service will be held on Sunday, Jan. 29th . . . Jake Harmon, a former Unionville and broken nose in a recent engagement. The injury has since healed however and he is expected to rejoin the team this week . . . If you're passing through Markham, take a look in the window, of Percy Wideman's Barber Shop and see the fine array of hockey pictures which are assembled there depicting many years of hockey history in the village . . . Bradley Elson, injured in a hockey accident last week was released from hospital on Wednesday and allowed to return home. Brad was practicing with the Juveniles . . . Mr. Ken Betz, head of the Lions Peewee League, is keeping a strict count of all goals and assists chalked up by the players in order that the best boys may be selected to represent Stouffville at the Goderich tournament this Spring . .

A new sound regulator has been installed in the local arena to replace the old model that has been causing considerable trouble of late . . . Geo. Malcolm, high scoring forward with Buffalo in the Lions League, suffered a broken arm recently and will be out of action for a number of weeks . . . Geo. Stark. Clipper defenceman, was forced to miss Tuesday night's game due to a severe attack of the flu. Derek Chadwick, coach of the Midgets, is also suffering from a similar virus . . . Polly Minton and Andy Bellemer officiated at the Georgetown-Stouffville game here on Tuesday . . . Next week, Milton will be the visitors here. The door prize at this game will be $15.00 . . . Messrs. Danny

of Bays district. The fish averaged 3 lbs. apiece. WINNING STRIDE

After four straight home losses, the Clippers pulled up their socks here on Tuesday night and came up with their most pleasing performance of the season. Bob Bangay's squad couldn't have picked a better opportunity to hit a winning stride thanagainst the league-leading Georgetown Raiders. The game was packed with excitement and the fans enjoyed every minute of it. The contest was highlighted by the sensational goaltending work. of ex-Clipper netminder "Dusty" Rhodes who turned in one of the finest'exhibitions we have seen here this winter. Bill Bradbury, Chick Webster and Harold Hodgson rated stars on their night's performance. This undoubtedly is one of the best hockey groups the Clippers have ever played in with only a matter of two or three points separating the top and bottom clubs. The outcome of each contest is always in doubt right up until the final few minutes. With playoff time less than four weeks away we can only hope that Stouffville will continue their winning ways right through to the group championship. The Clippers have but five games left to play: at home against Milton and Brampton and away against Milton, Brampton and Georgetown,

TO HELP DUTCHMEN Last week the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen left Malton airport to play in the World Amateur Hockey Tournament, Every year the C.A.H.A. has been faced with the problem of financing a team to represent Canada at this tourney but this year they have hit upon a new plan which I believe is very satisfactory. All hockey clubs under the C.A.H.A., which includes the Clippers, have been requested to raise their admission fee 10c for one scheduled game. This extra dime per person will be used to assist in financing Canada's entry. This means that at one game (not .yet announced) the admission charge will be 60c rather than the regular half dollar charged previously. The Clipper management have not stated at what game the increase will go into effect. but with only two home contests remaining, on Jan. 24th and 31st it would seem likely the the extra charge will be made at the final game of the schedule.

Clippers Trounce Oakville in Return Match

The Clippers, paced by Chick Webster with two goals, upset the much improved Oakville Meteors 8-2 Wednesday night of last week. The Stouffville victory came only one night after the visitors had handed the Clippers an 8-5 setback here on Tuesday. Other local marksmen besides Webster were Ken Crawford. Bud Lehman. Archie Forfar, Harold Hodgson, Geo. Stark and Bill Bradbury.

Leafs Jump Into First Place in Lions League

Keith Sutherland's Maple Leafs vaulted into first place in the Bantam section of the Lions League by beating Pittsburg 3-1 on Monday night. The Leafs and Hornets are now deadlocked on the top rung each with eight points. Grant Foreman, a newcomer to the group this season has been one of the most consistent goal scorers in the league. On Monday he fired two tallies, one unassisted and the other on a pass from winger ward with the Leafs, scored Toronto's final goal with Ray Ward picking up an assist. Don Malloy fired the lone Pittsburg tally on a pass from Bob Lehman. It would now appear likely that the Leafs will go on to take the championship. With such performers as Bryan Wilkes in goal and forwards Bill Ratcliff, Grant Foreman, Wayne Pennanen, Roy Lewis. Ray Ward, Keith McDowell and Jimmy Gardiner, they ice a powerful aggregation.

Canadiens 3, Buffalo 2 Spotting Buffalo two goals, the Canadiens played their best game in weeks as they staged a sensational three goal rally to edge' their rivals 3-2. Warren Hendricks was Buffalo's best, scoring his team's first goal on a pass from Kenneth May and setting up Keith Stewart for his club's other tally. Francis Haylow, the Bruins top performer, counted his team's first goal on a pass from Barry McLean. Roger Forsyth notched the other with Barry McLean once again assisting. Frank Taylor's three goal performance was the best showing of any player in the league in Monday night's games. Billy Hoover of Canadiens and Grant Foreman of the Leafs were two goal marks-
