NEW LIFE CRUSADE WELL ATTENDED

Our faith was small and especially this Tuesday evening, March 6th, but God kept His promise that "where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst", though we like Zacharias of old, believed not when the angel told him of the coming gift of a son. Join the Baptist, so we thought there might be only the two and three, yet there were a goodly number present. He, delights to bless His children.

United Church W.A.

The meeting of the United Church Woman's Association was held in the church parlors on March 1st. The president opened the meeting with a call to worship and a hymn. Minutes of previous meeting were read by the Secretary, and approved. Business of the meeting consisted, among other things, of reports from Christian Stewardship Secty., Corr. Secty. and Supply Secty., and the quilting being held at the home of Mrs. A. Woods on Thursday, the 22nd. Ladies were asked to come early and bring one dish—either hot or cold—for pot luck dinner.

A report from the presbyterial meeting was given, some highlights being: It's a mistake if the church fails to accept the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man; this must be witnessed by the home church. Among other competitors is the moving generation. The growth of our population demands more ministers and more teachers. How great the difficulty is to fire people's enthusiasm when they feel they may not be in one place for long! It's hard to build lastingly for church demands when one starts and another must finish.

Another problem is the leisure time. Will it be devoted to spiritual and cultural things? What does your spare time mean for you—more time for sports, TV or tavern? How are we going to meet this challenge? The future is nearer than you think, and we are called for service in a time like this, but to meet this challenge we must first be willing to meet the changing pattern of life. If we look to our hidden powers, knowing that we live by the power of God. We will not doubt our resources.

Archie Stewart of Stouffville who is on the staff of Stiver Bros. and an elevator employee, is more convinced than ever that the old saying about the cat having nine lives is very true. A black cat clipped past Mr. Stewart and landed on the endless belt which is equipped with cups for carrying grain up into the elevators. He said he saw no more of the animal and was certain it must have escaped as a ton of oats poured down the chute after it. However not long after, when the grain was pouring down the pipes into bags, out flew the black cat and away across the building, apparently none the worse for her trip through the mill.

Campey, complimented the Stouffville Brigade on their promptness in answering the call. They arrived on the scene in less than ten minutes. Damage to the building was confined to the roof. ## Help Crippled Children Through the Lions Club

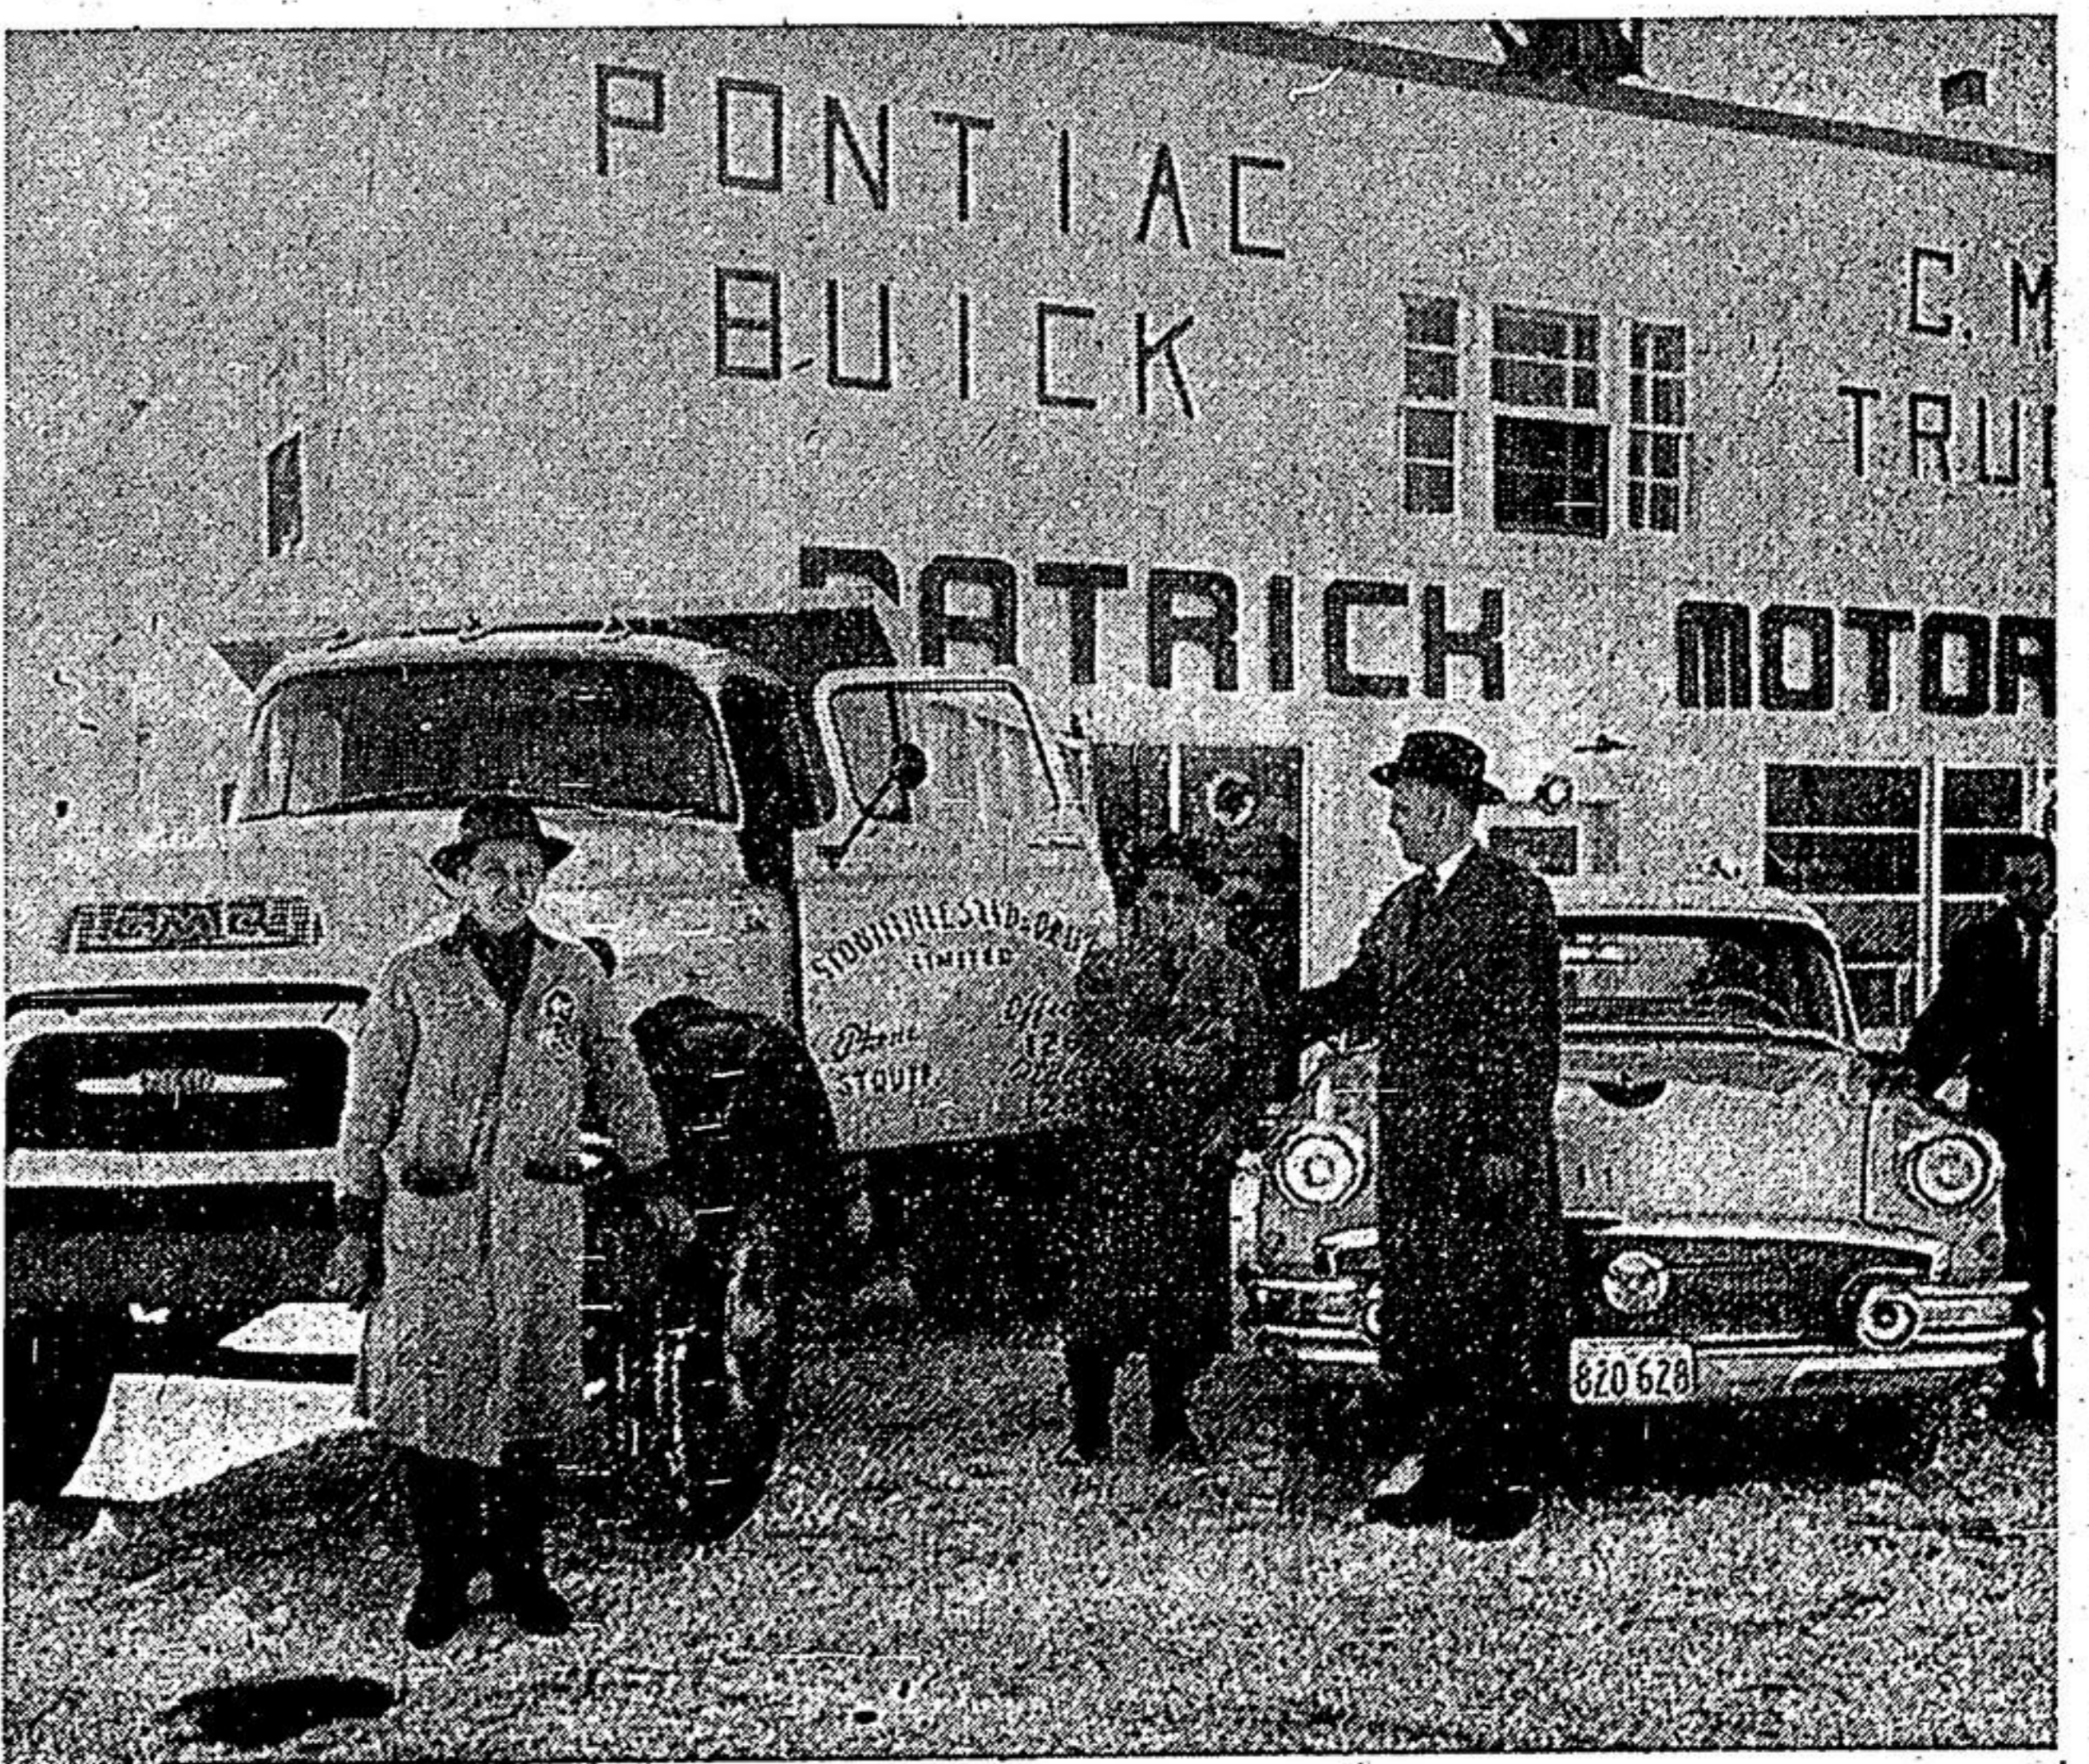

Easter Seal dollars provide hospital treatment, fun at camp, transportation, special clinics, braces, wheel chairs and crutches to more than 10,500 crippled children in this province. Will you support your local Easter Seal service club by buying and using Easter Seals. Mail your donation today in the familiar pink return envelope and help crippled children.

To more than 3,000 members of 211 service clubs scattered across Ontario, Easter has special significance because it is at this time of year they enlist the public's support in their year round task of making life easier for handicapped children. You have just received your seals from the Stouffville Lions Club.

This is the tenth anniversary of the launching of the Easter Seal campaign by the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, an annual event that has grown steadily until today it is the focus of the hopes of 10,500 children who benefit from the society's services. This month the Easter Seals sales objective is $625,000, to help finance the program of treatment and training made possible by province wide nursing service, the generous time and skills given by doctors, and the service clubs volunteers who find, and champion the cause of, crippled children.

Though the Easter Seals sale was started only 10 years ago, it is 32 years since a few members of ten service clubs met and laid the foundation for an organization which is a model of efficiency and accomplishment. At first financed by a levy of 50 cents on each member of the participating clubs, the work developed so swiftly that public cooperation was essential, and has been given so willingly that thousands upon thousands have received aid over the 32 year period. The 3,000 members of the service clubs' committees form the bedrock upon which the Society's structure is erected. The central, and small, organization is the Society's offices, the headquarters of the army of service. To this office 21 graduate field nurses, with special training in orthopaedics, qualifies them to work with handicapped children, report.
