Hutterite Expansion Stirs Strife in Manitoba

The rare appearance of a Hutterite family on an urban street always draws curious glances. The bearded men in their black hats, black denim jackets and overalls, the women in their kerchiefs and shoe length black dresses, and their children as severely dressed, are strangers to the city.
 But in the rural areas of Manitoba the presence of this religious sect is not only felt but in some districts unwelcome. Disturbed voices are being heard right up from the local community hall to the provincial cabinet conference room.
 Some of the voices are influential ones. The most powerful has come from the Union of Manitoba Municipalities which recently asked Premier Douglas Campbell and his cabinet for legislation prohibiting the spread of Hutterite colonies in the province.
Previous Requests
 It was not a new request; the union passed similar resolutions at its annual meetings in 1948 and 1954 but the provincial government declined to act.
 More recently a similar demand came from the Community Welfare Association of Carleton Place and Portage rural municipalities which described the Hutterites as a "body of strict practising Communists under a strongly organized, semi-alien, self-seeking, aggressive communistic system."
 The Hutterites, who normally turn a deaf ear to their critics, did not let the charge go unchallenged. Rev. Jacob D. Maundel of the New Rosedale colony urged the accusers to "not get things confused any more than necessary."
 "Hutterites are being accused of being Communists which they really are," he said. "But one thing is quite certain and clear. They are not Russian Communists."
Foundation Religious
 Mr. Maundel said the foundation of Hutterianism was wholly religious and their practice of having all things in common is based on the teachings of Christ.
 The sect sprang from the Anabaptist movement of the 16th century. The founder, Jakob Hutter, was burned at the stake at Innsbruck in the Austrian Tyrol in 1536 for his religious beliefs.
 There are now about 10,000 scattered throughout the world with approximately half of them in Alberta.
 The Alberta government-passed legislation restricting the spread of the colonies, which led to a movement in southwestern Saskatchewan beginning in 1952. There now are six colonies in Saskatchewan.
 Manitoba has approximately 2,600 Hutterites living in 22 colonies located on the rich farm lands of southern Manitoba. Each colony averages 188 people.
Lead Austere Life
 A colony is a world unto itself and its members lead an austere, communal life.
 To stay within the provincial education laws Hutterites employ outside teachers to teach the regular curriculum in colony schools. However, the children receive several hours instruction each day in religion and Hutterite history. German is the common tongue.
 Acts of violence are not condoned. Last December four young men, members of the Rosedale colony, appeared in provincial police court in Winnipeg and pleaded guilty to a charge of wilful damage. The four, armed with three .22-cal-

Improved performance and a freshness in styling that extends throughout the three series of passenger cars headline advances in 1956 Studebakers. The nine-passenger station wagons and two four-door sport sedans will be new-comers among 19 models. Front ends will be made more rugged appearing in a re-design of grille and forward sheet metal. Models have a lower, longer look. New colours, unique two-toning and tasteful interiors give each of the series complete distinction. Engine choices include V8s and a more powerful six cylinder.
 Modern lines of the 1956 Chevrolests are evident in the above view of the Bel Air sport sedan. Frontal appearance has been smartly altered by new sheet metal and brightwork.

Hi News

By Eddie Sanders
 After a long exciting season, basketball is finally over. The girls' team was put out in the semi-finals by Lakefield on Saturday afternoon at the Ontario College of Education in Toronto. The girls have had a busy schedule lately and the whole Tigh School is proud of them.
 On March 8 Stouffville played host to the Richmond Hill Progressive Conservative member for Iberville, has also expressed the UMM demands as "foolish."

girls team. The Jrs. lost to the Richmond Hill squad 12-4 in a very close game. The Seniors put up a good show but lost to a more powerful Richmond Hill team. The score was 25-17. A more important game was played at Orillia on March 6. This was one of the closest games of the season and Stouffville came out on top to beat the Bracebridge Juniors by a close score of 20-18. On winning this game, Stouffville captured the Georgian Bay Championship and also the privilege of competing for the Ont. Championship.

swallow up Manitoba by the year 2050.
 The Union of Manitoba Municipalities is seeking legislation forbidding the sect to start new colonies within 40 miles of existing ones. It is also asking that holdings of individual colonies be limited to 10 or 15 sections, depending on soil conditions.
Oppose Restrictions
 But it is understood that some members of the provincial cabinet including Premier Campbell himself, whose riding contains several colonies, oppose any such restrictions.
