News from Buttonville

Neighbourhood Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burr spent last weekend at Wasaga Beach. Sandra is having a holiday also, this week.

Recently Mrs. S. J. English, with Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gray and Margaret, attended the 80th birthday party of Mr. Gray's mother which was held at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gray, Coldwater.

Mr. and Mrs. John Black have taken up residence at Ballinafad, Ontario, where Mr. Black has taken over a Milling business. The farmhouse on Braedon farm is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. G. Alex and their four children.

Mrs. E. Walton returned on Sunday of this week from a visit with her daughter at Port Credit.

Miss Dorothy Hood is at Summer School, taking a special course in Music this month.

Lynda Leaf is on holiday at present. Last week she successfully completed her probationary period as a nurse in training at The Wellesley Hospital, Toronto.

Thornhill H.S. Results—
More local students successful at Thornhill High School were: Grade 9 exams — Judy Word, Gail Steffler; Grade 10—Irene Watters, Janet Oakes, Betty Patterson, Frazer Craig; Grade 11 — Nancy Brown, Beverly Burr, Carol Risebrough, Barry Kedwell.

Trousseau Tea for Mrs. Jack Stephenson
On the evening of July 2 Mrs. Douglas Hood entertained at a trousseau tea for her recently married daughter, Marion (Mrs. Jack Stephenson). Misses Dorothy and Isobel Hood were hostesses in the trousseau and gift rooms and in the tea room Mrs. Norman Reid, Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. Lorne Dimma, aunts of the bride, assisted. Mrs. Stephenson received the guests with her mother.

Early last week the Stephensons left by motor for their new home in Tako, Saskatchewan. The best wishes of this community go with them.

Buttonville Sluggers on Top
Up until last week the Buttonville Sluggers were on top of the Markham Township league and we feel quite sure they are still there. There are no Buttonville names in the lineup but we are grateful for the prestige they bring at any rate.

According to popular report, the Garden Party held at the M.H. Farms triangle on Wednesday evening of last week was an all-round success. Sponsored by the Men's Club of Brown's Corners United Church, the event was well attended and the weatherman was genial. Talent from the J. Ian Reid Agency offered such TV and Radio personalities as Master of Ceremonies, Ron Leonard the Magician; Dorothy Merrill, accordionist; Johnny Dash, juggler; and Pat and Peggy Doyle, a brother and sister team who provided variety.

Adding no small amount to the comfort of the guests were the attractive directors' chairs provided by M.H. Farms.

The Harmony Club of the church assisted at a refreshment booth and although receipts are not all in yet, the men are optimistic. Proceeds are for the Building Fund of Brown's Corners United Church.

WILLIAMS — HICKS
On Saturday, July 14th, 1956, at Stouffville, Florence Helen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Everett S. Hicks of Brantford, to Frederick Alan Williams, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew H. Williams of Stouffville.

MEYER—CONNOR

Second Markham Baptist Church wedding on Saturday, July 7, when Marion Joyce, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connor, became the bride of Mr. Paul Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Meyer, Claremont.

Rev. Arthur Lehman of Wallaceburg, uncle of the groom, performed the wedding ceremony, assisted by Rev. Bruce Hisey, amidst a setting of pink and white carnations, peonies and orange blossoms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white satin with lace bodice and sleeves. The skirt was fashioned with a scalloped lace insert edged with lace ruffles and rhinestones. Mrs. Murray Johnston, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a blue taffeta, waltz length gown and matching headpiece and mitts. Miss Alene Meyer and Miss Karen Stewart were junior bridesmaids wearing blue nylon gowns, net mitts and flowered headpieces. The bride and attendants all carried white Bibles with pink roses and streamers. Murray Johnston was best man. Allan Jones and Neil Connor were ushers.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Allan Jones and Miss Margaret Reid sang "O Perfect Love" and "Wedding Prayer".

At the reception the bride's mother received the guests, wearing grey and pink nylon with pink accessories and a corsage of roses. The groom's mother assisted wearing blue and navy sheer and pink accessories and corsage of mums. Rev. Huson was toastmaster. For travelling to Calgary, Alberta, the bride chose a two-piece linen suit, with black accessories and corsage of pink roses.

KING — BROWN
Dorothy Edna Brown, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy D. Brown, exchanged vows in the Memorial Christian Church with Frederick J. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. King of Oshawa. Rev. F. Dearmond and Rev. E. Morton officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ice blue alencon lace ballerina length gown over satin, lace bodice and matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Enid Elson, wore a pink ruffled net over taffeta ballerina length gown net stole and matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses. The best man was Mr. William Fice of Oshawa.

The reception was held in the church parlours. The bride's mother received in a blue flopped nylon dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother assisted in a blue crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to the United States. They will reside in Oshawa.

Mrs. DeWitt who substituted for Mrs. Mustard in the local Kindergarten for the month of June has been holidaying with Joyce at the home of Mrs. G. H. Leary at Gormley.

A dog license tag uncovered this week in the garden of Howard Mills, West End Stouffville, was issued some 60 years ago. The brass tag, discovered by 7-year-old Sandra Mills, was badly corroded, but after a thorough cleaning revealed this interesting information. Records are not available to secure the name of the licensee but the inscription reads: S.D.T. 1897, No. 8.

Local storekeepers might keep a wary eye out for shop lifters. Stores are filled with strangers these summer days and some precaution should be taken.

Houston's Drug Store was victimized last week of a $100.00 camera from the shelf. Mr. Houston told The Tribune that most stores make some allowance for small losses, but losing a costly item such as this was enough to cause alarm. The theft of a box of groceries from the counter of the I.G.A. Store is also reported.

Melville W.M.S.

The regular meeting of Melville W.M.S. was held at the home of Miss Bruce on Tuesday, July 3rd. President Mrs. Wm. McKay presided and conducted Devotional Exercises. It was announced that the Society had been requested to conduct congregational service on July 15th. Following the business meeting a short program was heard — A reading by Miss Caruthers, "The Good Samaritan," music by Miss Janet Bruce — Tennyson's immortal "Crossing the Bar" set to music by F. W. Wegenast. A social hour followed, enjoyed by all present.

City Work Horses Get Rest in Country

Mixed feelings may well be caused by the news that some working city horses are being given staggered holidays on a farm.

As their stables are in the heart of town, and it is years since any of them had their shoes off and enjoyed a good roll on the grass, they richly deserve a break.

A horse in a field, with nothing to do but eat and loaf or, if the spirit moves him, as it sometimes does even in the most elderly cases, to go tearing round, snorting happily as he goes, is a classic example of contentment.

The only catch is boredom through having no company, and this will be avoided for these holiday makers because they are going in pairs. But one cannot help speculating on whether a precedent is being set. Other horses may have had leave before, but here are famous ones, who have drawn between them the coaches of Mr. Speaker and the lord mayor.

Is it not likely that their good fortune may lead to questions in a nation that only allows babies to win the popularity stakes against animals by a short head?

Ask No Questions
Why should only a handful of privileged Shire horses be granted a right that is no longer withheld from any human worker? The apparent injustice cannot be ignored by comforting ourselves with George Eliot's reflection that animals are such agreeable friends, because they ask no questions and they pass no criticism. No one who has been on friendly terms with any creature, four-footed or winged, will accept that proposition for one moment.

Does the horse that has strolled up to the fence, with the idea of being fed out of a hand, pass any criticism if the owner of the hand has nothing to offer? He would be a singularly thick-skinned observer who answered that question in the negative. Birds can move a vote of no-confidence as emphatically if crumbs and fat have run out as they can, and do, if their domestic nesting arrangements are disturbed.

Cats and Dogs
Wild things must look after themselves so far as holidays are concerned, and cats, in this context (and in a good many others), can be classed as wild. No cat would thank you for taking it away from home—not even to stay with a fishmonger whose shop was overrun with mice. But what about dogs? The case for packing them, off
