

CLAREMONT and PICKERING TOWNSHIP DISTRICT

The Burton family are planning a real holiday reunion at their home here on the weekend and Monday. Their daughter, Florence is flying home from Fault Ste. Marie; Jim and Barbara with baby Jim are driving in from Demorestville, and Lilian and Brian with baby Karen are coming from Toronto. The entire family will enjoy a turkey dinner following the christening of baby Jim at St. Crispin's Anglican Church, Scarborough.

Several from here attended the Trade Fair in Stouffville on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Miss Georgie Forsyth and Viola plan to spend a few days holidays in Buffalo this week.

The dance held in the hall here on Friday night was not too well attended. Mrs. George Brown of Stouffville was the winner of the $50.00 bond.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Frank Cooper wasn't feeling too well over the past weekend.

Dr. N. F. Tomlinson is spending a few days this week in Western Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson have moved back to Brougham from Toronto.

The date for the Claremont Santa Claus Parade has been set for Saturday, Dec. 8th.

Mr. Galloway's General Store is receiving a fresh coat of paint, with Mr. Bob Greer doing the brush work.

An appreciative congregation, composed of members from the United Church, with the Baptist members and friends, attended the special Anniversary evening service in the Baptist Church. Rev. J. S. Lowden was in charge and Rev. H. Lackey was seated on the platform. The guest speaker, Rev. F. Bracken of Newmarket, was very interesting. The home choir ably assisted, and the Men of Zion trio contributed three splendid selections. The Church was artistically enhanced by many baskets of beautiful flowers.

There will be a special rally-day service in the Baptist Sunday School on October 7th at 10 a.m. Scholars of the school will take part and a film strip will be shown. Parents and children are invited to attend.

Mrs. Harris and family visited recently with Mrs. Condy.

BALSAM

About 300 people attended the centenary services of the Mt. Zion Church last Sunday, both in the morning and evening. The church auditorium was packed and people sitting in the basement with a loud speaker. The Very Rev. George Dorey, past moderator, delivered the messages and the music was under the direction of Mr. Allan Clarke. Mrs. Lloyd Pegg of Oshawa was soloist in the morning and the Whitby male quartet sang in the evening. The choir was adorned in their new gowns. A pulpit drape was presented by the J. A. Jones family in memory of the late J. A. Jones. Rev. Ed Tink of Michigan and Rev. J. O. Tottan, former ministers of the charge, were present on the platform.

U.S. Writer in Pickering For Film Story

A film writer started work near Pickering last week on one of Hollywood's latest biographical ventures—the life story of Mark Hellinger, the famous producer whose death in 1947 ended one of filmland's most colorful and successful careers.

Leo Katcher, writer of some of Hollywood's top box office hits, is here to get additional biographical data on Hellinger from the late producer's widow, the former Gladys Glad of Ziegfeld Follies fame who is now married to Arthur Gottlieb, the wealthy producer and distributor of TV films.

Katcher—on assignment from Columbia Pictures and best known for his work on "The Eddie Duchin Story" and "The Long Grey Line"—said that casting and the writing of a scenario will follow completion of his story, but no starting date has been set for the production.

Katcher—the 44-year-old ex-newspaperman who was city editor of The New York Post from 1935 to 1941—frequently met the late Mark Hellinger when the latter was a famous syndicated columnist with the New York Mirror.

Hellinger built up a tremendous following of readers from coast to coast with his intimate and dramatic stories of New York. When he was at the peak of his newspaper career, he left Broadway for Hollywood where he quickly established himself as a top-flight producer. Two of his films, "The Killers" and "The Naked City" were regarded as artistic masterpieces. Hellinger was beloved inside and outside the film and newspaper worlds, and his own life was as colorful as many of the lives he wrote about.

Hellinger was married to Gladys Glad in 1933 when she was regarded as one of the outstanding beauties of the international theatre world. She was one of the stars of Flo Ziegfeld's last production of the famous Ziegfeld Follies in 1931 and married Arthur Gottlieb in 1948.

Today Mrs. Gottlieb is a busy housewife at her husband's palatial estate in the rolling green hills about 1½ miles northwest of Pickering, but she is excited about the forthcoming film on her late husband and gives Katcher invaluable aid in re-checking published stories on Hellinger.

CLAREMONT LADIES AT CONVENTION

Mrs. W. Lehman and Mrs. J. Murray attended the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion Ontario Provincial Command 27th Convention at Hotel London, London, Ont., Sept. 24 to 27. There were over 700 Auxiliary members present representing 32 zones, 229 Auxiliary Branches from Ontario.

On Tuesday at 6 p.m. the Convention Banquet was held. The speakers were: Mr. P. Biggs and Mrs. Fred T. O'Brien and Mrs. Henry Harvey. The guest speaker was Mayor R. A. Dennis of the city of London. On Wednesday at 7 p.m. the Convention Parade was held from Hotel London to the Cenotaph where Padre the Rev. Gardiner, conducted the memorial service with music by RCSC Band. A wreath was placed by Comrade Margaret Richardson, the Provincial President.

BROUGHAM

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Barjak are moving into the house they recently purchased from Mr. Russell.

Sorry to hear that Mr. Jack Mairs is confined to his bed due to an attack of flu. All join in wishing him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davis visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilson during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. McGuckin visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Knox on Sunday.

Mrs. Geo. Philip enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon on Saturday, September 23, along with many other relatives and friends and neighbors to celebrate with Mr. A. W. Milroy his eightieth birthday anniversary. He has lived on the farm he was born on, and thoroughly enjoyed the surprise his family gave him.

Mrs. Glennie (Bertha Palmer) of Toronto visited with Mrs. Davis on Sunday. Mrs. Glennie will be remembered by many in this community where she spent her younger days.

Mrs. Witter and daughter Gladys of Toronto visited with Mrs. Matthews on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Sheppard and daughter Muriel of Toronto had tea on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sheppard and family of Jondale Heights.

Miss Sharp of Oshawa visited with her niece Mrs. Al Harvey on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. McGuckin from near Goodwood visited with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Knox during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knox and family visited with their parents Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Knox, on Sunday.

THEY GAMBLE WITH DEATH

The curb-stepping little fellow has the right idea. He's making sure no cars are coming before he and his friend cross the street on the way to school.

School teachers, police and traffic safety officials all try to help our school children learn pedestrian safety rules along with the three R's. Joining with those groups, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company suggests that parents can help a great deal by teaching through example. Your child— and you, too, should:

1. Look both ways before crossing streets.
 2. Never jaywalk.
 3. Cross streets only on properly designated crosswalks.
 4. Respect and obey signals of the traffic policeman or safety officer on duty.
 5. At intersections regulated by traffic lights, cross only with the pedestrian light.
- And, as a driver, you can help, too, during the school year by driving slowly and cautiously—passing schools or playgrounds. Keep this question always in mind, "Would I want to be behind the wheel of the car that hit him?"

Green River

The many friends of Mr. T. Krainyk were very sorry to hear of the unfortunate accident suffered by him last week when he had the misfortune to have the tractor upset on him while he was doing some work for Mr. E. Shirk. At the time of writing, he is confined to the Western Hospital. Everyone wishes him as speedy a recovery as possible.

Pleased to hear Mrs. W. Mitchell is able to be home again. We trust her convalescence will not be too lengthy.

Mrs. M. Draper was a guest of her sister at the banquet of the over-sixty club held at Weston.

Sorry to say Mr. Wm. Duncan is not progressing as well as his many friends would like him to.

Mrs. R. Hamilton, Miss D. Jones and your scribe were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hutchings of Claremont. They also attended the anniversary services at the Claremont Baptist Church.

The newly-formed Home and School Club held their first meeting on Tuesday of last week. Plans are being made by the executive for the coming winter months.

At the Business Meeting of the Baptist S.S., on Friday evening last it was decided to hold the annual Christmas concert on Friday, Dec. 21st. Please take this as an advance announcement and keep the date open. Next Sunday being Rally Day it will be open session at the S.S. here. Mrs. T. Norton of Brougham will be the guest speaker. A most cordial invitation is extended to all to come and worship with us.

The Ladies Aid will meet in the Church on Wednesday, Oct. 10th, at 8 p.m. sharp. Word for Roll Call—"Harvest." Come and bring your thimble, as this is a quilting for the mission box.

Weddings of Local Interest

BEELBY-TAYLOR

Baskets of pink and white gladioli provided the setting in the Claremont Baptist Church on Saturday, Sept. 15, 1956, when Shirley Iola Taylor, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor, Claremont, became the bride of Clarence Franklin Beelby, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beelby of Port Perry.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Lowden and Rev. Englund. Mrs. Elmer Wilson sang "O Perfect Love" and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Duncan MacDonald at the organ. The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a floor-length gown of white nylon net over satin with strapless bodice of Chantilly lace and long sleeve bolero jacket with Peter Pan collar. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses. She wore a single strand of pearls with earrings to match, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Douglas Arksey, sister of the bride, was matron of honour. She wore a floor length gown of lime green nylon over net and taffeta with matching headress and mittens. Mrs. Murray Line was bridesmaid. She wore a floor length gown of yellow nylon net over taffeta, and wore matching headress and mittens. Their flowers were bouquets of yellow roses.

Mr. Kenneth Beelby, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Bud Norton, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mr. Orval Beelby, brother of the groom.

During the ceremony Eunice Bruce sang two lovely solos with Mrs. N. K. Robinson at the organ. At the reception in the church hall the bride's mother received, wearing a soldier blue dress with navy accessories and corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore a grey dress with red accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Amidst a shower of confetti and best wishes, the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to points north. Guests were from Toronto, Orono, Maple, Myrtle, Ashburn, Port Perry, Markham, Brougham, Green River and Claremont.

GEORGE-ANTHONY

Pink and white gladioli formed the setting for a double ring ceremony in the Whitevale United Church, when Shirley Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Anthony, was united in marriage to Verne Everett George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold George. The Rev. C. P. Shapter officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white satin and Chantilly lace. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a seed pearl headress and she carried white carnations with stephanotis. The bride's attendants were Mrs. Ross Bailey, sister of the bride, as matron of honour, and Joyce Anthony, bridesmaid. Both wore Queen's blue taffeta waltz length dresses and carried pink gladioli with pink headress to match. Diane Anthony, niece of the bride, and Eva Ann George, niece of the groom, acted as flower girls dressed in Crystalette Charm Rose with headress to match. Each carried nosegays of pale blue carnations and pink roses.

The groom was attended by his brother Eldon George. The ushers were Donald Anthony, brother of the bride, and Mr. Thackery of Cobourg, friend of the groom.

During the ceremony Eunice Bruce sang two lovely solos with Mrs. N. K. Robinson at the organ. At the reception in the church hall the bride's mother received, wearing a soldier blue dress with navy accessories and corsage of red roses. The groom's mother assisted wearing Queen's Blue Crepe with Chantilly lace and a corsage of pink roses.

For the wedding trip to New York and other parts of U.S.A. the bride chose a milk brown dress and accessories with a beige coat. Her corsage was bronze roses. The happy couple will reside in Toronto.

FEW BOY SCOUT GUESTS OF CANADA at the 1955 Jamboree had a chance to see the great dams and smelters that make Canada a world supplier of aluminum.

But some did see a Canadian use of the light metal: outdoor cooking with aluminum foil. One Canadian troop showed how they used this handy material for doing potatoes, steaks and other foods over the campfire; how they kept food fresh in summer heat by protecting it with aluminum. If this missionary work carries the idea back to distant lands, Canada may have to turn out still more aluminum foil—even though last year her output, if laid in a 12-inch strip, would reach 382,000 miles.

GREENWOOD

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed this Sunday, Oct. 7, at 11.30. Sunday School at 10.15.

A goodly number from here attended the Centenary Services at Mt. Zion last Sunday. We were pleased to see two former ministers, the Rev. Mr. Tink of Michigan and Rev. Mr. Totton of Richmond Hill as guest ministers, also the inspiring address both morning and evening by the Rev. Dorey of Toronto, the musical numbers by the choir, Mrs. Pegg and the Whitby Male Quartet.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Henning and Miss Beatrice McLean were at Columbus last Sunday, the latter helping with the service at the church there, in connection with the Young People's work.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks moved from the village last Saturday and are living in the Keddal home until their own home is ready for use.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Blake and family were at Orillia over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Sriver of Claremont moved into the Brooks house last Saturday, which they purchased recently.

Mr. M. Pegg had a small raising of a loafing shed for cattle last Wednesday afternoon.

NO OPERATION FOR HOLE-IN-HEART GIRL

Doctors will not operate on eight-year-old Faye Carnegie—the little Pickering girl with a hole in her heart.

Mrs. J. Carnegie, the girl's mother, said today that specialists at the University of Minnesota had decided not to operate because of Faye's advanced heart condition.

Only a rare and delicate heart operation can save Faye's life. Last May Faye was flown to Minneapolis where specialists carried out tests and research into Faye's complaint.

They declined to operate then, and further research has not changed their attitude, said Mrs. Carnegie.

When Faye was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Carnegie of Valley Farm Road, Pickering, doctors told them that their daughter would not live three months. However, Faye has defied and astounded the best medical opinion for eight years. Is time now running out? Faye suffers from lack of oxygen in the blood system. This causes frequent heart attacks.

The complaint has so weakened Faye that she can play outdoors with friends for only 15 minutes a day.

Her main entertainment is watching television, looking at picture books and listening to her six-year-old sister, Susan, read to her from school books.

Faye cannot go to school, but sits enthralled as her young sister tells of her day in the classroom and reads her lessons.

"News that the doctors cannot operate came as a shock to us," said Mrs. Carnegie today, "but we are hoping for the best."

Faye has not been told that the operation cannot be carried out.

Large Crowds Attend Local Anniversary Services

On Sunday, two local churches marked historic anniversaries. The Claremont Baptist Church celebrated its 135th anniversary while Mount Zion marked a Century of service in its community. In spite of the close proximity of both churches, large crowds were in attendance. The Mount Zion service was carried over to Monday evening.

At Mount Zion, a loud speaker extension had to be set up in the basement at both the morning and evening services to take care of the overflow attendance. The gallery was completely filled and chairs were placed in both aisles. In the morning service, the choir and Mrs. J. Lloyd Pegg provided the special music. In the evening, the choir and a Male Quartet from White United Church presented a number of selections. The Rt. Rev. Geo. Dorey, D.D., L.L.D., was the guest preacher at both services. Mr. Alan Clark presided at the organ.

The attendance at the Baptist Church anniversary was very good, although the pews weren't completely filled. The guest preacher at both services was Rev. Frank Breckon of Newmarket. The Men of Zion Trio and the church choir provided the special music in song.

From 1886 when nickel was first produced in Canada to the end of 1955, the free world's production of the metal has been 8,500,000,000 pounds, of which Canada has accounted for 84%. In 1955, the combined total deliveries of nickel by Canadian producers were at a record high estimated at 357,000,000 pounds, representing somewhat over 80 percent of the free world supplies.

THANK YOU!

Thanksgiving is an appropriate time for Charlie and Elsie Burton to sincerely thank the folks in the Claremont area who have patronized our store. More important to us, though, we have been received in the community with genuine friendship and a warm welcome that means a lot to us.

We've found Claremont a happy place to live and work.

Happy Thanksgiving To All!

COUNCIL ASKS RATEPAYERS TO:

1. Clean up all combustible materials around buildings, in cellars, halls, garages.
2. Have your wiring checked. Much of it is old and with more appliances it is being over taxed.
3. Check your chimneys and have oil stoves serviced.
4. If you have a problem, phone your local Fire Chief.
5. Remember the difference between your insurance and replacement of buildings and contents is more thousands of dollars than you can afford to lose.
