York County hospital, Newmarket, recognized Hospital Day on Wednesday of last week when the Women's Auxiliary of the hospital convened "Open House". Members of the public were taken on guided tours of the building. Of particular interest was the new wing of the hospital completed this past year. In the group above are, left to right, Mrs. C. A. ### CEDAR GROVE

Although Woodland Park has not officially opened to the paying customers, there have already been early picnics without swimming. A group of 75 boy scouts had a jamboree on Sunday that began the season and on Sunday an Association of Antique Motor Car fanciers took over the Park. To the young boys who witnessed the parade around the games field, the cars looked like real old timers but some of the fathers and grandfathers wished they had brought some genuine antiques. The cars came from as far as Barrie and Orillia and nearly all under their own steam but the oldest was a 1910 Rolls Royce which shared interest with a Ford of about the same vintage.

to Allan Gardens and the girls preferred Allan Gardens to Borden's. And what was Borden's like? Hot and smelled of milk. And did they have a good time? Oh, sure, wonderful! Our thanks and theirs to Mrs. Wilson.

Just so you keep everything straight — There has been a slight change in the plans for the next Community Club dance. Members of CC have been invited to attend the second to last dance of the square dancing club which meets regularly at Cherry Hill Farm. The date is June 1st. Bring enough food to accommodate your own party; it will be pooled but there will be plenty for everyone.

Candidate Must Have $200 to Back Himself in Federal Election June 10

Getting elected to the House of Commons is a tough task; only 265 of Canada's 16,500,000 population will make it June 10. But there are plenty of hurdles even before a person can get in the fight as a candidate.

Besides having vote-getting ability (theoretically, anyway) he must be 21 by election day and qualify as a voter though not necessarily in the riding where he will run.

He must be a Canadian citizen or other British subject and have lived in Canada for one year before polling day.

And he must have at least 10 voting friends to sign his nomination papers by nomination day, May 27 and have $200 to bet on himself.

The money is his election deposit, which is forfeited to the federal treasury if he fails to get at least half the votes polled by the winning candidate.

The forfeited money doesn't go far in reducing the cost of running a general election. The bill for this year's vote is expected to run to $6,500,000. Lost deposits from the 1953 election brought in $80,000.

Among the 400 candidates who lost their money were all the 100 candidates of the Labor-Progressive (Communist) party.

By and large, most Canadians are eligible to enter the election fight, but there are exceptions.

Those ineligible include prison inmates, federal civil servants, most Indians on reservations and the insane. Also disqualified are judges and electoral officers, clerks of the peace, county crown attorneys, government contractors, members of provincial legislatures or of the Northwest Territories council.

Members of the regular forces may run for office in wartime, but this provision did not operate during the Korean war and is not operative now.

Shareholders of companies with government contracts are eligible, unless the contract is for a public work.

Once a candidate gets into the race there are strict rules governing the handling of money that goes into his campaign. The candidate himself is not supposed to handle election funds; he must have an agent to do that. There is no limit to what the agent can receive or spend. The candidate himself by law is limited to $2,000 in personal expenditures during the campaign — such costs as his own travel and hotel expenses. That ceiling was raised from $1,000 in 1955.

Once the election is over, the official agents of all candidates are required by law to file reports of all contributions and expenditures. On the receipts side they must report not only "money or its value received" but also "money or its value promised but not received."

There is no penalty if no report is made for a losing candidate. Last election no reports were made for 133 candidates. All were losers.

But there is a stiff penalty if no report is made for a winning candidate. He can be fined $500 for every day he sits in parliament — the fine recoverable by the person who lays the charge.

Reports are held for 6 months after the election, by the riding's returning officer and any elector may examine them.

Expenditure reports filed after the last election listed amounts ranging all the way from zero to a high of $22,113 — the amount reported for Rene Gobeil, losing Progressive Conservative candidate in Quebec Montmorency riding. The winner, Liberal Wilfrid Lacroix, reported $3,890.

NEARLY 10,000 MORE VOTERS IN N. YORK.

Monday, June 10, 1957, is general election day in Canada and on that day more than 42,331 electors will be eligible to cast their votes in the riding of N. York. This is an increase of about 9,000 over the 1953 general election.

North York riding includes all the County of York, north of number 7 highway and extends from Thornhill on the south, to Port Bolster on the north.

Fred G. Hare, Temperanceville, is Returning Officer for the riding and he has been a busy man in recent weeks arranging for the enumeration and the setting up of election machinery in the 140 polling subdivisions.

The enumerating of the electors was completed some weeks ago, and lists have been posted in all sub-divisions. Persons whose names were missed in the enumeration may have their names added by applying to the Revising officer who will sit May 23, 24 and 25. At Richmond Hill the Revising Officer is Russell Lynett, Markham Road, and at Thornhill, Harry Hill, 7 Uplands Avenue.

Official nomination day will be Monday, May 27th, and it is expected two candidates will be nominated. Ex-warden John W. Rye will be the Liberal candidate and C. A. Cathers will be the Progressive Conservative.

The riding has been consistently Liberal since the election of the late Hon. W. P. Mulock in a by-election in 1934. In the 1953 election J. E. Smith of Richmond Hill was elected with a majority of 1633 over C. A. Cathers and 8872 majority over E. Scott and the CCF candidate. It is not likely the CCF will have a candidate here this election.

EARLY JUNE BEST FOR MILKWEED CONTROL

While Milkweed has been listed as being resistant to 2,4-D, many road superintendents have obtained good results; that is, have prevented pods and seed forming, by spraying with a low volatile ester of 2,4-D, or with a brush killer combination of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T. On the other hand, very poor results have been obtained using the same herbicides at the same rates of application. The difference has always been that in the successful treatments the spraying was done early in June. In the unsuccessful cases, spraying was done sometime in July. Another secret of success in keeping roadsides clean is annual spraying over a period of several years.

The best known chemical control for Milkweed is the 2,4-D — 2,4,5-T (brush killer) mixture, at the rate of 16oz. of acid per acre, sprayed in late spring. This treatment may need to be repeated for two or three years. In rough pastures this should

Oak Ridges Has New Community Council

Vern Plante, representing Oak Ridges Athletic Association, was elected chairman, and J. D. Smith of Whitchurch Community Centre Board, secretary, of the executive committee of a new organization, Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox Community Council, formed on Monday night at Lake Wilcox Public School.

Others on the committee are John McLernon representing the Community Centre; Ross Farquharson, Oak Ridges Lions Club, and Mrs. George Craggs, Lake Wilcox Recreational Committee.

Eleven organizations of Lake Wilcox and Oak Ridges sent representatives and all agreed that a Community Council, to act as a clearing house for all community activities, is badly needed to co-ordinate recreational affairs in these two adjacent but sometimes widely separated communities.

Representation from other bodies included Rev. Gordon Winch, St. Paul's United church;

Mrs. Robert Woolley, St. Paul's W.A.; Mrs. J. D. Smith, Oak Ridges Girl Guides; Stan Cook, Scouts and Cubs; Mrs. Atcheson, Lake Wilcox Recreational Committee; Wm. Schurrman, Oak Ridges Home and School Association; and Art Manock, as a private citizen interested in the Taps N' Teens.

This Community Council grew out of the recommendation of Jack Patterson, who on behalf of the community progress branch studied the two communities of the Department of Education, Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox last February.

Mr. Patterson recommended a Community Planning Council, where representatives of each of 15 or more organized groups, church, school, athletic, ratepayers of Lake Wilcox and Oak Ridges could meet to discuss common problems although each group would retain its own identity.

eliminate most of the troublesome pasture weeds. It should not, of course be used on pastures containing a high percentage of the better clovers.

Unfortunately, Milkweed also invades crop land. Spraying is not the answer here because grass is the only crop capable of surviving the amount of herbicide necessary to control milkweed. In grain crops which may be infected with milkweed, the use of an early maturing variety, one that can be harvested early in August, is recommended. In this way the Milkweed is
