Vandals Wreck Beach At Musselman's Lake

The beach of the Churchill Dr. Association was badly messed up by vandals last Thursday night. All the tables and chairs had been tossed into the lake and several signs were destroyed. The equipment was salvaged, but it was a big job to put things back. The police from Windsor are investigating and we certainly wish them every success. Acts such as this are inexcusable and those responsible should be made to compensate the Association.

Churchill Drive Association is one of the most progressive and has made a wonderful job of the beach. A great deal of work and money has been used to improve their beach and it is one of the beauty spots on the lake. The annual Musselman's Lake issue of The Tribune is due next week. If anyone has any news item they feel the rest of the Lake might be interested in, please pass it on for publication. Hearty congratulations from Bailantrae to Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Yates, Ringwood, on their 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Yates have purchased the Paterson home on the 7th and will probably be moving up in the near future.

A happy birthday is next — this time to Miss Maude Jaynes, who celebrated on Thursday, July 18th. Many, many more Maude, and all of them just as happy.

Tom and Irene Phillips are playing host to Tom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bell of Long Branch, this week — happy holiday folks.

Musselman's Lake Community Church is to celebrate its 30th anniversary July 23rd. The church had its first service on July 3rd, 1927. There will be special music and the speaker will be Mr. David Greer who has conducted the services for

TRACTION WITH MOUNTED TILLAGE IMPLEMENTS

Under light loads and good penetration, tillage implements mounted on a tractor do not create a traction problem, according to a report from T. G. Kemp and J. L. Thompson of the Canada Dept. of Agriculture. However, under heavier loads or difficult penetration, slippage will become a problem if load of weight to the rear wheels is sufficient for the required traction. When suction is extremely high, such as for subsoilers, mounted implements produce the best traction. The addition of weight to the rear wheels is probably the best way to improve traction for heavier loads.

Mounted tillage implements for one, two, and two-three plow tractors have become very popular, and under certain field conditions are more suitable than trailed implements. The reasons for this trend towards mounted implements are the low initial costs due to lighter weight and fewer parts, the simplicity and ease of control when in use, and manoeuvrability in small plots or fields. These characteristics make mounted implements ideal for operation on small farms or for specialized farming.

Although mounted tillage implements have certain advantages over trailed implements there are some disadvantages. More time is required for changing some of the mounted units and adjustments must be made to adapt the tractor to various types of hitches on the different units. Also under rapidly changing soil conditions it is difficult to adjust some of the mounted tillage implements to a uniform depth, and in hilly regions and areas of rough land the side draft may present a problem.

Presenting the new

VAUXHALL

FOR '57

Vauxhall's low first cost never bought you so much car. The dramatic instrument panel has a new, big car disc-type speedometer. Finger-tip controls are widely-spaced, easy to find by touch. Glove compartment and ashtray are centre mounted.

Interior styling reflects the finest in a thoroughly practical mood. Upholstery is finished in extra long-wearing Vynide, Tygan or leather depending upon your choice. Seats are deeply sprung for lasting comfort.

Vauxhall's advanced, new design carburetor results in even greater gas savings. And Vauxhall's simple, efficient engine and mechanical design means low, low maintenance costs throughout the life of the car.

A luggage compartment so roomy you'll be amazed . . . a full 15 cubic feet of usable space. Actually Vauxhall is roomy all through . . . with full-car comfort for 5 or 6 people.

Exciting colors to please the most discriminating. All three models are now available in seven deep-gloss body colors. Cresta has the added glamorous touch of side-flashes in contrasting color. Interiors are toned to complement and enhance.

Enjoy 3-way low-cost motoring like you've never seen before...
