Services Conclude Sunday

This Sunday evening will be the occasion for the concluding service in the special evangelistic campaign being conducted in the Stouffville United Church as part of a joint effort sponsored by Stouffville and nearby rural United Churches. Rev. Terry Hart, minister of Port Credit United Church, is presenting the gospel in a pleasing manner which captures and holds the attention of his nightly congregations.

Services are being held each evening at 8 o'clock, except Saturday. This Friday evening the address will be especially directed towards young people, and a warm invitation is being directed to all the young folks in Stouffville and district to come. A feature of the musical portion of the program will be the Trumpet Trio from the Youth for Christ Band.

The choir is preparing special numbers for the closing service on Sunday night. Feature of each evening's service is a period of congregational singing of many of the old familiar hymns, led by the choir and accompanied by piano and organ.

plant life in this area. The Conservation Club co-operates with the Township Council and the Ontario Dept. of Lands and Forests in preserving wild life and forests and in stimulating interest in conservation.

The rapid population growth in and around Toronto has greatly increased the number of people who wish to hunt, fish, and have other outdoor recreation within easy reach of their homes. This creates a very heavy burden in maintaining adequate game and cover for game in those townships close to heavily populated areas. The problem is further aggravated by the influx of large numbers of newcomers to Canada who do not understand our wild life or the laws protecting it.

The Conservation Club believes that items of interest brought to the attention of newspaper readers is the best method of increasing the interest of all those who enjoy the outdoors.
