Telephone makers use tons of coal each year. The substance is ground, sifted, washed and roasted to form carbon granules necessary for the operation of telephone transmitters.

Prepared special formula feeds now make up over one-fifth of all feed concentrates fed to livestock and poultry — more than twice as much as was used in this country 20 years ago.

The Scripture was read by Mrs. Jack Empringham and the Roll Call was answered by a verse with the word "serve". Thieves entered the slaughter house belonging to Mr. Martin Tait, butcher, some time during last Saturday night, and made away with two pairs of rubber boots and a hammer. The one pair of boots were new and had scarcely been used. Shakespeare said that "every true man's apparel fits a thief," but Mr. Tait is hoping that in this case the boots will pinch until they grow corns on the feet of the culprit.

JOINT MEETING GRAVEL PITS

Markham Township Council has extended an invitation to surrounding municipalities to attend a joint meeting on Saturday, October 19 to discuss ways and means by which the municipalities can extend their control over gravel pits. If some agreement can be reached it is expected that suggested changes would be forwarded to the provincial government for study.

North York Plowing Match Next Thursday

Next Thursday, Oct. 24th, will be the occasion for the annual North York Plowing Match. The match will be held this year on the farm of Clarence Blanchard, lot 22, con. 6, Georgina Township. President of the North York Association is Stewart Taylor. Following the match, supper will be served in the Pefferlaw United Church.

SPORTSMEN—

If you wish to Bring your Trophies Home, Remember This —

1. Don't overload the boat. Allow one person per seat and consider the weight of your gear.
2. Canoes are marvelous craft when handled properly. But no one should consider himself an expert after a few outings on a peaceful lake. Play safe—use a bigger boat.
3. A life belt or an air cushion per person is a must. You should wear the safety belt but, if you don't, attach it or the air cushion to your own belt or other piece of garment with a string about 3 feet long.
4. Choose your craft to suit the type of sport you intend to practise.

Invitations have been sent out to Pickering, Uxbridge, Whitchurch, King and Vaughan Townships to attend. Municipalities have been critical of the lack of assessment available in gravel pits and also that the heavy trucks used to haul the gravel cause extensive wear and tear on local roads.

Noted change in this year's prize list is the raising of the age limit in the regular Class ten. The class is in stubble for tractors and open to those up to 15 years of age prior to Nov. 1st of this year. In addition, there is a T. Eaton Co. Junior Championship. This award is for the best plowed land by a Junior competitor who has passed his 14th birthday but has not yet reached his 18th birthday by Nov. 1st, 1957. Regulations on this new class state that no competitor may win more than one trophy at Branch Matches in 1957, and no competitor can win the Eaton trophy outside his home County. The winner of this Eaton Trophy will be eligible, within age limits, to compete in Eaton's Junior Championship Class at the International Plowing Match in 1958.

Your Equipment may Save Your Life — Here is How To Use It:

1. Take off your rubber boots. Empty them and plunge them upside down in order to keep as much air as possible inside. Put the sole of the boots under each arm pit. This will keep you afloat.
2. An empty pail or any such container plunged upside down, will keep you afloat.
3. A wooden or inflated duck decoy under each arm will keep a hunter afloat until rescue comes along.
4. If you are not an expert swimmer and you see someone in distress in the water, take off your trousers and make a knot at the end of each leg. Hold the pants each side of the belt and slap firmly in the water so you capture as much air as possible. These inverted pants will serve as a buoy and will help you reach the victim and bring him to shore.
5. You can inflate your own shirt, which will keep you above water. Button the shirt at the collar, undo the second button, bring the opening to your mouth and blow air into it.

Gravel Edge Saves Work

The edging line where lawn and flower borders come together frequently requires as much attention as the flower beds. You can save yourself countless hours of work by trimming the space between grass and flowers with an edging material.

Gravel Edge Saves Work

Such material could be coarse gravel, brick, cement blocks, concrete, planks or logs — or whatever natural material is appropriate to your locality. The more simple the edging you use, the more beautiful will be the overall effect. Inset your edging to lawn level for the greatest convenience. In this way it serves as a wheel base for your lawn mower. Make your edge path wide enough to be used as a walkway on rainy days, and deep enough to hold water and mulches in flower beds, and act as a barrier for grass roots.
