200 Witness Official Opening of New Cedar Grove Bridge

At eleven o'clock on the morning of November 1st, 1958, ceremonies began, to officially open the new bridge spanning the Little Rouge River on Steeles Avenue at the tenth concession, Markham. It was a sunny day, even warm for November, and nearly two hundred residents of Markham and Scarborough witnessed the event. Mr. Archie Little, ex-councillor and President of the Cedar Grove Community Club, opened the ceremonies, introducing the reeves of the two participating townships. Reeve Campbell of Scarborough and Reeve Clark of Markham both spoke of the difficulties surrounding a project of this kind, and of the need for human understanding throughout.

Progress must be made in this 20th century but not always at the cost of unnecessary destruction. Rev. Dick of Markham United Church and Zion church, Cedar Grove, conducted a short worship and Mr. Don McClelland thanked the speakers. A bright green ribbon, held taut by Mr. George Freeman and Mr. Artie Milroy, across the centre of the structure, was clipped by Master Paul Reesor and the bridge was officially opened. The first vehicle to cross was an old democrat appropriately filled with many of Cedar Grove's new generation and driven by Miss Virginia Dare. Following the ceremonies, coffee and donuts were served on the bridge by the Community Club.

The above is for posterity, scrap-books and any papers who wish a record of this event. Below is the account for us, in Cedar Grove.

Cedar Grove is almost always blessed with perfect weather for any important event planned (to the bewilderment of outsiders), so it should have surprised no one that Saturday, Nov. 1st was a glorious sunny day. From a vantage point on the new bridge, looking north past the landscaped Community Park to the Milroy farm on the top of the hill or across Sim Reesor's fields; south through Russ Reesor's woodlot or Woodland Park (if you overlooked a little unfinished business) the country never looked lovelier. The maple tree at the bow of the hill, almost bare now, still stands showing its structural perfection and the bent elm, unique and graceful also lived through this intrusion. Flags and Cedar boughs on either railing marked the centre of the ridge, while on both sides the bright colours of fall attire made a brilliant background. Traffic was halted on the west by the Metropolitan Police and at the east by the Markham Township police.

Archie Little who, in 2 years on council knew the growing pains in the erection of the new bridge, knows too, that Cedar Grove recognizes and respects its history and realizes the importance of new happenings in the community. He it was who organized so well Saturday's addition to our story. He was enthusiastically supported by his fellow villagers. The Dares dusted and decorated their old Democrat and surely Benjamin never stepped so high. Don McClelland rigged up one man's idea of a 20th century conastoga for the occasion and from its warm interior, refreshments were served right on the bridge.

Mr. Milroy and Mr. Freeman stood straight and still for a long time before their ribbon was cut, proud symbols of their community. Master Paul Reesor was very young to accept the responsibility of opening a bridge but, with a rosy-cheeked smile, he snipped the ribbon like a veteran politician. Reeve Clark, Reeve Campbell and Mr. Pick spoke with understanding to all of us who have daily watched the development of the bridge, some of whom had helped and some unpaid superintendents.

Archie Little aptly remarked that we did not all agree that the bridge was in the right place but we could all get across it and we are pleased with the finished structure. Two tape recorders were in operation and many cameras were at work. It was big day in Cedar Grove, an important event but typical of the spirit in this village.

Hallowe'en came in with a whoop and a holler in Cedar Grove. It began with a party at the school where even the teachers ducked for apples. The children put on a very entertaining programme and as usual, played host with easy efficiency. At night the roads were lighted with jack-o-lanterns and doorbells were ringing like mad. There were no reports of mischief in the village at all—just a whale of a good time.

Have you seen Sputnik? Lately the rocket has been cruising and blinking across the sky from Toronto to Green River but now, as they say, we can see the Satellite itself around 6:20 an evening. Look for a star trying to make a left turn.

The past two weeks have left most of us feeling like a stock market chart. We have soared with the happy relatives of Springhill who have welcomed their returned loved ones, and sympathized with those who have suffered such terrible loss. The disaster in Nova Scotia has never been far from any of us lately. Such tragedy knits the country together in a way that no joy could ever do. Sunday at Zion church both Sunday school and church took up a special collection in an effort to contribute in some way to the relief of these people. A substantial amount was turned into the bank on Monday.

Mrs. Dampier has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Austin Reesor, this past week.

We are sorry to report the death of Mr. Abe Reesor. He had suffered a fall recently but had apparently shown every sign of recovering. Cedar Grove offers sincere sympathy to his daughter, Mrs. Florence Bielby and to the many nephews and nieces who will miss him. In his youth Mr. Reesor was an ardent wood carver, producing carvings of intricate design and patient craftsmanship and in his later years was a willing source of information for all who were interested in local history.

BALSAM & MT. ZION

Mrs. E. Jamieson
The barn of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Shipton, half a mile west of Balsam was completely destroyed by fire, along with fifteen cows and some implements, the fire starting around 11:30 last Friday night.

Mrs. Frank Disney has been spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Sid Knowlton at Enniskillen.

Messrs. Lewis Jones and Glen Manderson left Saturday morning for the north country to hunt deer.

Miss Phyllis Jones who is on the Oshawa Hospital staff, spent the weekend at her home.

Sunday visitors at the Lorne Jones home were, Mrs. Morgan Evans, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Evans and family of Claremont.

Mrs. V. Baker, Mrs. Nell McLean, Mrs. Howard Butt and Garry of Woodville.

The Merry Homemakers' Club will meet on Saturday at 2 p.m. at the home of Miss Anna Wilson.

The W.A. will meet next Wednesday, Nov. 12 at the home of Mrs. E. Jamieson. Mrs. George McConnell of Claremont will be guest speaker and give a demonstration on making Christmas decorations. Please don't forget your used clothing for the Fred Victor Mission. Roll Call will be answered by an item with the word "Witness." Lunch will be served at the close.

Olympic National Park, a vast preserve in the heart of the isolated Olympic Peninsula of Washington State, is the only United States park that holds both snow-capped mountains and ocean beaches.

News from Box Grove

S. Howard
The weather's been cool and even nippy, but apparently even the frost we've had wasn't enough to finish some valiant pansies we found blooming gaily among the autumn debris in the garden. Hallowe'en has come and gone again with the usual assortment of purchased and home-made costumes, everything from ghosts to monkeys and convicts with a few gypsies and tramps thrown in. One idea which we thought novel was a pair of costumes made from feed bags. Most of the mischief was minor, such as soapy windows and overturned privies. (What will they do when everyone's plumbing is inside?) One dangerous prank was the sawing down of a tree so that it fell across Hagerman's sideroad. It was a dangerous thing to do and could easily have caused a serious accident and even loss of life.

The annual Hallowe'en party was held at the school last Friday, complete with costumes, prizes, games and of course, a "no party being complete without this necessary addition."

Donna Speers had a Hallowe'en party and no doubt other groups gathered later for some fun, too.

The paper drive held by the school last Thursday was a big success. The big truck took away a capacity load of over two tons and there is still a small truck load left. If anyone should happen to be going into Toronto with a small truck empty, and would care to take in an extra paper, the students would appreciate it very much. They would also like to thank everyone for so diligently saving papers for them. Proceeds of this drive are for the Red Cross and will be announced as soon as they are known.

The Box Grove Rugby team lost a game for the first time this season when they played against Gormley last Wednesday. Gormley has won all their games so far. Friday's game was finally played on Monday and was won by our side. The next game now will be the playoffs, which should be soon.

Student teachers at the school this week are Miss Kallioja and Miss Kassadan. They are boarding with Mrs. Speers.

Some mean person took advantage of the excitement at the Russ Jarvis home last week and walked off with their twelve ducks and the old hen that had raised them.

Birthday greetings this week to Audrey Jarvis and to Alan Dowdell on Monday, and Ruthie Grant on Saturday. Both Alan and Ruthie are 8 years old.

Next Sunday at the Box Grove United Church is Laymen's Sunday and several men of the congregation will be taking part in the service, among them Mr. Nel Hoyes who will give a talk on the Laymen's Conference at Muskoka which he recently attended.

An organizational meeting of the Youth Centre was held last week at the Dowdell home, with the result that the Tiny Tot Club started this week, as did the Boys Clubs, Junior on Tuesday from 7 to 8 and Seniors on Wednesday from 8 to 9:30. The Girls Club isn't fully organized yet, as they are short of leaders. During the next week or so, members of the Youth Centre Committee will be canvassing the neighborhood looking for your comments and suggestions as well as assistance, to make this season's Youth Centre activities bigger and better than ever.

Farm Forum is in session once again, and was held this week at the Raymers', the topic under discussion being "What Price Freedom?" Everyone is welcome to join this group meeting weekly on Monday evenings. The next meeting will be at the Armstrong home at 8:30 next Monday.

Don't forget the W.A. meeting tonight (Thursday) at the MacLachlan home in Locust Hill. Cars will be leaving about 8 o'clock.

FLASH—Junior Girls Club starts today, Thursday, after school till 4 p.m.

Indications are that not many years hence beings on other solar planets will be calling us earthlings space literbugs.
