Never interfere with a person who is trying to make his mark, says a writer. Junior should have fun on the front room wall.

Lions Have Lots of Christmas Trees - Stouffville Lions Club has a wonderful supply of Christmas trees available at a number of local locations. Trees are for sale at Reid's Store, Ringwood, Hunt's Sunoco Station and Patrick Motors in the west end of town, at Sanders Service Station in the east end, and centrally on the Bank of Nova Scotia lot. You have your pick of these trees for $2.25. Persons who previously ordered their tree and paid the $1 deposit, can pick up their tree by presenting their receipt and paying the balance of $1.25.

We are pleased this week to receive a Christmas subscription for Mr. Arthur Fry of Calton East, a resident of this district for many years. Mr. Fry is now in his 92nd year, but enjoys reading and is very interested in the local news. He is confined to a wheel chair but is a keen follower of sports, particularly hockey and rugby.

Something new has been added - soft music has been installed in the Marguerite Shoppe to add to the pleasure of shopping in this modern store. This music installation, Miss Simons, the proprietress tells us, is not merely for the Christmas season, but will be a regular feature of the store all year through. Music is also provided for customers at Houston's Rexall Drug Store, and an extension system sends the pleasing tones out on the street to the pleasure of passers-by.

WEDDING

Mt. Pisgah United Church was the scene of a double ring ceremony on Saturday, November 8, 1958, at 3 p.m., when Rev. Ivan E. Kennedy officiated at the marriage of Dorothy Joanne Baycroft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Baycroft of Gormley to Mr. Ross Melville Smith, son of Mrs. Rolla Scott of Newmarket and the late Frederick Smith.

The church was tastefully decorated with ferns, plants, and baskets of mums in lovely autumn colours. The organist, Mrs. Harry A. Smith accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Roy Howlett, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of lace and net over satin with a high neckline at front, iridescent with sequins and pearls and long lily point sleeves. The bouffant skirt had tiers of lace at the back and a very lovely lace medallion insert in front. Her fingertip veil was caught by a cap style head-dress of sequins and pearls. Her only jewellery was a brooch belonging to her great grandmother.

Her only attendant, Miss Doris Milne of Toronto, a cousin of the bride, wore a waltz length dress of turquoise lace and net over taffeta, with full bouffant skirt and lace bolero. Her headress was of sequins and she wore long net gloves. They both carried Bible arrangements of flowers. The bride's flowers were white mums with streamers of fern and sweet peas, while the bridesmaid's carried pink carnations with ivy streamers.

Donald Smith, Newmarket, was best man for his brother; and the ushers were Robert Baycroft of Gormley, brother of the bride, and Earl St. John of Fullon, cousin of the groom.

For the reception, which was held in the church basement, the bride's mother wore a dress of sapphire blue satin back celanese with matching jacket, accented by winter rose accessories and a corsage of pink delight roses. The groom's mother assisted, wearing open blue crepe with natural colour accessories and pale pink roses. The bride's table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake decorated by her mother and topped with lily of the valley and heather.

For the wedding trip to Ottawa, Montreal and other points, the bride chose a coral tuckered nylon dress in princess lines with white hat and gloves, black shoes and purse, and a corsage of white baby mums. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside at 108 Joseph St., Newmarket.
