

BALLANTRAE

The regular monthly meeting of the W.A. was held on Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was chaired by the president, Mrs. A. Watson. It was decided to start another quirk on Monday, instead of the quirk being prepared at the church, it is to be set up at the home of Mrs. Howard Story. The members are to come at their convenience, which should make it easier to attend.

The Building Committee formed to investigate the school problem, met last Wednesday. Another meeting is to be held this Wednesday at the school to decide whether or not there is really a need for a school at the Lake. Those most concerned is being asked for.

In spite of below zero weather a bang up turn out showed up at the Euchre Friday. The men stole the show all five prizes going to the males. Mr. Piper and Mr. Black played a ladies card, won the first and consolation prize respectively.

Earnest Lager and Mr. L. Galloway won the men's prizes. The door prize, donated by Ken Odgen's Garage, Ballantrae was won by Mr. Wilmer Ham. Euchre will be held on Friday Feb. 10th.

At a recent executive meeting of Home and School an exciting evening was planned for the Birthday meeting of Feb. 25th. The club have been asked to put on a short demonstration of some of their work. A special entertainment has been arranged. Next Sunday Church Service is to be special. The guest speaker will be Rev. Frank Muir.

Mr. Muir preached at Ballantrae several years ago and has recently returned from a missionary mission in Japan. He has asked that the children attend and Scouts are to be on parade the service and Brownies, Cubs. Because of the weather it will not be the regular march but rather an orderly procession into Church from the basement room. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Watson and family enjoyed the company at their home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Watson and Jimmy for Sunday dinner.

The Cubs and Scouts had an interesting meeting Monday night. After the regular routine they were shown a film entitled "The World at Your Feet". Many thanks to Mr. Carl Gove of Ballantrae School for taking time to come and show the film.

Brucellosis Rules Do Not Affect Export Plan

United States regulations concerning brucellosis and the importation of cattle should not seriously restrict Canadian beef exports, says Agriculture Minister Harkness.

There are, he says, about five thousand herds under the brucellosis-free listed herd policy. Cattle from all these herds are eligible for export.

The regulations, introduced last November, permit entry into the U.S. of six classes of cattle:

1. Cattle from brucellosis-free listed herds.
2. Cattle from brucellosis certified areas.
3. Cattle from herds which are neither listed nor in certified areas but which have passed a negative herd test within 90 days.
4. Cattle, up to 30 months of age, officially calfhood-vaccinated against brucellosis.
5. Range cattle of the beef breeds from Western Canada.
6. Cattle for immediate slaughter.

In Ontario, two counties, Oxford and Prince Edward, are already certified areas. Three others, Halton, Stormont and Dundas, will be certified soon.

Nine other counties are under test and should be completed before summer. Meanwhile, as herds in these counties or elsewhere pass a negative test, they are eligible for export.

Testings Under Way—These 14 counties take in most of the major Ontario cattle export area. A further 17 counties in the province have been accepted for testing and will be proceeded with as quickly as possible.

Elsewhere in Canada, Prince Edward Island has been completely certified; three counties have been certified in Nova Scotia and five in New Brunswick, and three additional counties are under test in each of these provinces. Seven areas are under test in Quebec.

Testing is proceeding in Western Canada and some areas have been certified.

As the results of progress in brucellosis testing and the provision for the export of western feeder cattle and cattle for immediate slaughter, the new U.S. requirements should not seriously restrict Canadian cattle exports, concludes the minister.

Markham Man Did Not Know Goods Stolen

Fred Funnell, of Markham, was acquitted of a charge of possessing stolen goods, in Ontario County Court, Whitby, on Wednesday, when he told the court that he had held the goods in question as security on loans totalling $70. Funnell appeared before Judge John E. Pritchard, charged with having in his possession two typewriters, one voice writer and one tape recorder.

Malcolm Barnett, manager of the Oshawa Business College, told the court that two typewriters, one voice writer and a tape recorder had been stolen from his office in August. He identified four machines in court as being the four missing machines.

He estimated their total value, as used equipment, at $1,075.

Brought to Station—Detective-Sgt. John Powell of the Oshawa Police Department, told the court he had visited Hotel Genosha on Sept. 6, regarding the missing machines and had been unable to see the accused. On Monday, Sept. 8, he said, Funnell, accompanied by his lawyer, appeared at the Oshawa police station, with the two typewriters and recorders.

The accused, on advice of his counsel, had made no statement at that time other than to say that he had been unaware of the articles were stolen.

This concluded the Crown's case as presented by acting Crown Attorney Gilbert Murdoch. At this point, Defence Counsel George Boychyn moved for a dismissal on the grounds that the crown had failed to prove that the accused had ever had the machines in his possession. His Honor did not allow the motion.

Asked for Loan—In his own defence, Funnell stated that in August of last year one George Peters, a former bell boy in the hotel, had approached him asking to borrow money. He had refused him on that occasion, he said, but a few days later, Peters reappeared, stating that he had articles belonging to his wife which he would like to sell.

Funnell told the court that Peters told him his wife was expecting a baby. He said that he had been told that she had done secretarial work at home and had the machines there. The machines were all placed in the trunk of Funnell's car, he said, and Peters was given $40.

On a later occasion, he said, Peters approached him, while he was standing in front of the hotel, this time with the second typewriter under his arm. He said that he questioned him about the source of this machine and was told that it, too, had belonged to his wife. This machine, too, was placed in the trunk of the Funnell car, along with the other three machines, and Peters was given $10.

Eventually, Funnell told the court, he made an additional loan of $20 to Peters.

In dismissing the charge, His Honor said that he found that Funnell's explanation might reasonably be true and the evidence failed to satisfy him beyond a reasonable doubt that Funnell was aware that the machines were stolen.

He told the accused that the Crown and police had been perfectly justified in bringing the case to court and warned him to be very careful in transactions of such a nature in the future.

Sportsmen's Show March 13th - 21st

Exciting new features and attractions, an extensive display of all that is new for sports and recreation, summer cottages and travel, and a sensational new stage and water revue will combine to make the 1959 Canadian National Sportsmen's Show, scheduled for March 13th to 21st, the best of its kind ever held on this continent.

This was indicated by Loyd M. Kelly, General Manager, in discussing some of the plans for the big outdoors extravaganza. "For several years now our Sportsmen's Show has had biggest and best of its kind on this continent," Mr. Kelly said. "But we're still trying to improve it all the time. It is true we are defying superstition by opening on Friday, the 13th, but we are sparing no effort or expense to make it the greatest Sport Show ever held anywhere."

Among the many features of the 1959 Canadian National Sportsmen's Show will be Canada's largest boat and marine show, an International Motor Show, a wild life exhibit, a travel show, a cottage show and three dog shows. In addition, there will be bowling and dart competitions, trick ice skating, a sports demonstration area, a demonstration casting pool, miniature boat racing and a variety of other features and attractions.

The Boat and Marine Show will have the most comprehensive display of beautiful cruisers, sleek sedans and runabouts, sailboats, rowboats and canoes, inboard and outboard engines and the most modern boating equipment and accessories.

The International Motor Show, being arranged by the British Motor Industry in Canada, will feature British, foreign-made and domestic automobiles as well as sports and racing cars.

Again this year both the east and west annex of the Coliseum, as well as the Industry Wing, will house hundreds of commercial exhibits including boats, cottages, cars, trailers, ultra-modern television sets and the latest equipment for all sports, travel and camping.

During the eight days of the Sportsmen's Show a new and different stage and water revue will be presented in the arena of the Coliseum, twice daily, with a two-hour program of exciting entertainment.

The three international all-breed dog shows will be held on March 18, 19, 20 and 21 and some of the most outstanding and prized dogs in both Canada and the United States will be on display.

Another highlight will be the selection of the "Outdoors Girl of Canada."

PATZ BARN CLEANER
LINK does its heaviest work while RESTING

That's one of the many "special" advantages of a Patz Barn Cleaner Chain—a chain designed, engineered, manufactured—especially for Barn Cleaner Operation. At the 4th sprocket end on the corner wheels—points of greatest stress—the Patz Link rolls smoothly—actually being "pushed" instead of "pulled" through its heaviest work. Simple, but effective engineering that adds years to the life of a barn cleaner. Get the Patz Facts first—you'll be grateful for years to come.
