Uxbridge Cottage Hospital is filling a big need for Goodwood folk, too. The past week there were four Goodwood people there at one time. Speedy recovery is wished for Mrs. Leslie Myers and for Mrs. Holman. Mrs. R. May spent a few days in hospital, also little Donnie Everleigh had a tonsillectomy.

Congratulations to Rev. and Mrs. R. D. Flyer on the birth of a beautiful baby daughter, also at Cottage Hospital, and the pleasure of a new car is wished for them, too.

Surely we can't complain of the shortness of this summer. A striped bug was seen lately on the cucumber vines, a grasshopper taking, perhaps, his last hop of the season, blossom on the bean stalks and still more raspberries, and a bee at the phlox, and did you see the rainbow in the north-western sky at 11:00 a.m. on Thanksgiving day? This writer cannot remember having seen before a rainbow so far north.

On Sunday morning we enjoyed the music supplied by the trio, Paul and Harold Ratcliff and Paul Fawcett of the Stouffville Youth for Christ with their brass instruments.

Many appreciative remarks were heard, on the display of fruit and vegetables on the communion table on Sunday morning, figuratively pouring from the "Horn of Plenty" arranged by Mrs. W. Vague.

Miss Ruth Fox, Mr. G. Gower, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steckley and Shirley visited Mr. and Mrs. Victor Brown and family, Erin, on Thanksgiving Day. They also attended Erin Fair.

Not only do a number of people believe that the world owes them a living, but they consider themselves preferred creditors.

Newspapers are print. People respect print, they believe print, they like print.
