In addition, some valuable papers and credentials were inside the pocketbook.

From July 4th through July 8th, each morning from 9.30 to 11.30, about 75 boys and girls of school age gathered at the Stouffville United Missionary Church for what was called "Good Time Meetings." These hours were spent in sing-songs, story-times, hand-crafts and the viewing of films and film-strips, all calculated to present the gospel in a way appealing to the young people. That the meetings were enjoyed by the boys and girls is indicated in the fact that, due to a shortage of leaders, it was necessary to curtail advertising of the meetings — and yet the youngsters came — almost too many for the little crew of workers in handicrafts. Perhaps another year if enough workers can be secured, this "good-time" session will be able to take all comers.
